NIMITZ STRIKES IN PACIFIC

Hint He Might Aid F.D.R. Assailed.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Democrats joined Republicans today in warning British Prime Minister Winston Churchill against any attempt to influence the American Presidential election next year in favor of the choice of Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term.

The storm was stirred by the London dispatch containing the suggestion that Mr. Churchill can easily compass the reëlection of the President.

The dispatch quoted the opinion of Cecil Brooks, noted British editor, on his return from a 10,000 mile tour of the United States, that Churchill's stature in this country "far outstrides that of Roosevelt himself" and that Churchill could defeat the Republican candidate "by visiting Washington at a suitable time near the election period."

Sees Election "Secured."

Brooks said that the "mere presence" of Churchill in America "and the message he would be able to convey at that time in relation to national needs would so dominate American outlook as to secure the President's return—and that without any direct participation by Churchill in American internal politics."

Comment on the suggested British tactic to keep Mr. Roosevelt in the White House took a wide range. Some officials thought Brooks was proposing nothing more than the technique Churchill has employed ever since he became prime minister in efforts to influence American public opinion. Others scoffed at the notion that Churchill would be so inept politically as to make so transparent a gesture to swing the American election.

"Ill-Advised Statement."

All who expressed their opinions, Democrats as well as Republicans, were agreed that any attempt of a foreigner to interfere in the election in behalf of Mr. Roosevelt would react unfavorably, if not disastrously, upon the President's chances of reëlection.

From a senator who scouted the likelihood of the prime minister interfering in American politics came this information:

"Churchill assured a group of Republicans that he didn't care whether he dealt with a Democratic or a Republican President so long as he could get what he wanted."

"I don't know whether Brooks is

STALLING IN WAR TO AID F. D. R. IN '44 FEARED BY BABSON

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21 [Special].—The Boston Herald today quoted Roger W. Babson, economist and business analyst, as asserting that election of President Roosevelt to a fourth term depends on continuation of the war with Germany into the late months of 1944.

Babson, who addressed the 30th annual National Business conference at Babson park in Wellesley, said, according to the Herald, that for this reason Prime Minister Winston Churchill may not hurry the European campaign because he "is very anxious that Mr. Roosevelt be renominated and reëlected," and that "probably Stalin is inclined to agree with him."

The economist was quoted as stating this possible action by Churchill "will be satisfactory to his people as the invasion of France would cost a great many English as well as American lives." Babson voiced the opinion, according to the newspaper, that this means Germany may not crack until after the November, 1944, election unless her oil supply is lost before then.

Farmers Rebel Against OPA Snoop Tricks

BY GAIL COMPTON.

Farmers in central Illinois charge they have been victims of "Gestapo-like" actions of an investigator for the office of price administration who they say tricked them into signing confessions of price violations used subsequently as the basis for assessing them damages up to $50.

These farmers, without benefit of a hearing or court action, were notified by the Peoria district OPA office in a letter that they were guilty of violating price ceilings and owed the government either triple the amount of the overcharge or $50, whichever was greater.

Astonished at this new glimpse of burocratic power which can impose a fine on a person without presenting proof or using the courts, the farmers are in a rebellious mood, promising that unless the "snooping, unfair tactics of the OPA are stopped, we will be forced to cut our production of food drastically."

OPA Aid Calls It Legal.

The use of a letter to inform a farmer of guilt in price ceiling violations and asking for a certified check for damages was declared a perfectly legal process and a necessary short cut because of the lack of man power in the OPA by Alex Elson, regional attorney for the OPA in Chicago. He declared, however, it was the first time he had heard of it being done.

James A. Carruthers, Peoria district director, promised a full investigation of methods used by his agents in obtaining statements of guilt from the farmers.

Typical of the cases is that of Farmer A. of Thawville. He asked that his name be kept secret for he is only a tenant and his employer "is a strict New Dealer who might fire me if he knew I was mixed up in this."

Promised No Action.

Early in November an OPA agent, Edward Finney, came to the farm and identified himself to the farmer's wife.

"He told me he wanted to get the record of my sales of chickens to a local dealer," said the farmer's wife. "He assured me that if I gave him a signed statement saying I had sold this dealer chickens at 2½ cents a pound over the ceiling price it would not reflect upon me or be used against me. He said they [the OPA] were out to get a Chicago poultry dealer who had been buying thru our local man and needed the record of my sale only for this purpose. As I had sold chickens for 30 cents a pound when the ceiling was 27½ cents, I signed."

Given "Chance" to Pay $50.

In a few days Farmer A. received a letter from the Peoria OPA office announcing that, according to their records, he had violated the ceiling and he was being given an opportunity to submit his certified check for $50 damages.

The letter asserted the sum was rather small and it was felt advisable to let the farmer send the check instead of going to the office to discuss the matter. It assured him, however, he would be welcome if he wanted to ask any questions about the penalty.

Mrs. Vernon Olson, a farmer's wife living near Buckley, had much the same experience.

"The agent came to the farm and asked for my chicken records," Mrs. Olson said. "He told me he was after our local dealer and not us, and that any information I gave him wouldn't hurt us. He said the

300,000 SLASH IN GOVERNMENT PAY ROLL ASKED

Byrd Group Makes Second Demand.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—The Byrd economy committee again insisted today on a 300,000 cut in federal civilian employes, while reporting that the government pay roll was trimmed 131,058 in three recent months.

Sen. H. F. Byrd.

Recalling its similar demand last spring for employe reduction, the committee warned:

"Should this second request be disregarded, the committee will believe it necessary to recommend legislation to the congress of the United States which will make reductions in federal civilian employment mandatory."

Trim Off 131,058.

The group, known formally as the joint committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures, reported the government's civilian pay roll had been cut from 3,095,463 persons in June to 2,964,405 in September. It attributed the reduction to the committee's report of "wasteful and extravagant personnel practices."

The committee termed the long range trend in government employment "less satisfactory," and noted that from October, 1942, to September, 1943, there was a net increase of 260,649 employes.

In the report, the committee chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.], said that without harm to the war, 35,000 employes could be eliminated from the works projects administration, national youth administration, Regional Agricultural Credit corporation, farm security administration, civilian conservation corps, bituminous coal consumers' counsel, national resources planning board, board of legal examiners, and the domestic branch of the office of war information.

Recommends Reductions.

Other recommended reductions included 150,000 clerical, administrative, and fiscal employes of the war department; 100,000 federal employes of all classes to be eliminated by better personnel management and elimination of duplicating functions among agencies, and 15,000 whose services would become unnecessary, the report said, thru unification of lending agencies in the agriculture department.

During the June to September period, the war department showed the largest decrease in employment—139,968. The war man power commission cut off 11,931, the Panama canal, 3,548, and the agriculture department, 2,550.

On the other hand, the navy department's civilian pay roll went up by 15,314 and the postoffice department's by 7,920. Part of the postoffice increase was attributed to the handling of increased quantities of free mail from the various departments.

Leap Saves Policeman as Five Drive Car at Him

Policeman John Jacobs of the Fillmore Street station leaped aside just in time yesterday as five hoodlums, whom he sought to question, attempted to run over him with their car. Jacobs came upon the men fighting with several others at Pulaski and Roosevelt roads. At sight of him, the hoodlums jumped into their car, and drove straight at him. He jumped aside, then fired two shots, which missed. The men escaped.

UNRRA STUDIES PLAN TO BAR COMPETITION FOR SCARCE SUPPLIES

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 21 [Special].—A finance subcommittee of the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration voted here today to vest UNRRA Director Herbert Lehman with authority to check competition for scarce supplies in world markets by nations with gold balances.

The plan, which will be presented early this week to the full finance committee, provides that member governments either obtaining from or giving relief to foreign sources, whether in currency or supplies, shall do so only after consultaton with Lehman, it was explained. Experts said this would give Lehman complete information on the entire flow of goods about the world.

Fear has been expressed here that prices on scarce materials might be forced upwards if newly liberated areas which have gold balances should begin to buy supplies on their own initiative. Such might be the case in France, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Norway, it was said.

Rep. Ditter, Navy Man Die in Plane Crash

Rep. J. W. Ditter.

Rep. Ditter was a member of the house naval affairs committee, the appropriations committee and chairman of the Republican national congressional committee. He was a law graduate of Temple university and had represented the 17th district since 1932.

The navy said the single engine plane circled several times, preparing to land, before it crashed. The plane was en route to Willow Grove from Squantum, Mass., where it took off earlier today. Ditter's home is in Ambler, near Philadelphia.

The plane was about 80 miles from its destination, the navy said, when it crashed in a hilly, wooded section of Lancaster county.

The navy said cause of the crash is being investigated by a naval board of inquiry. State police who arrived on the scene shortly after the crash immediately established a guard line and kept hundreds of curious away from the wreckage until a naval personnel arrived to take charge.

Union Chiefs Score Tribune; Members Hail It for Expose

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

Leaders of local 998 of the CIO United Automobile Workers union, which has slowed down production at the big Studebaker war plant on the southwest side, presented a resolution at a meeting of 500 members yesterday in the Hamilton hotel to "fight" THE TRIBUNE. They did not deny any of the charges of production sabotage by this newspaper.

In contradiction to the "fight The Tribune" resolution, which was gavelled thru, a Tribune reporter was admitted to the meeting by aye and nay vote of the membership. On more important matters, the patriotic workers defied their leaders and succeeded in recalling a tentative union contract renewal from the Communist controled bargaining committee for action by the full membership.

"Ashamed of Record."

The Tribune representative was welcomed by scores of the workers, who told him they are ashamed of the production record at their plant. "It is a disgrace, caused by the commies," they said.

"We're tired of being pushed around by a union management that has cut our production down to 70 per cent, while plants on the coast are up to 100 per cent," they said.

When the first few union members approached the reporter and shook his hand, he cautioned them that the Communists might see them.

"Listen, fellow, you're on the right track," one worker replied. "The Tribune stories have raised our morale 100 per cent. Don't think we're afraid of these Reds now. All the time we have been calling them Communists, but THE TRIBUNE has given us the first real proof."

Union Election in January.

"Wait until the election in February!" another said. "Maybe we can't do anything to them right now, but there is going to be an election at our plant in February, and we will show you something then."

One woman came up to the reporter with her eyes shining with tears. "Most of us at the plant want to work until we drop," she told him, "so when the boys come back, we can say to them, 'We did our part, too.'"

A staunch union member frankly stated, "Even tho we may not like THE TRIBUNE, we should thank it for showing our faults."

Patriotic workers said they had planned to present a demand on the floor at yesterday's meeting for an investigation of THE TRIBUNE'S charges, as a means of throwing out the Reds immediately, but this plan was prevented by a Communist ruse along the lines of a filibuster.

The hall, packed with 500 members, had been rented only until 5 p. m. The leaders started the meeting half an hour late, at 2:30 p. m., then wasted time with lengthy harangues against THE TRIBUNE.

Member Objects to Language.

Al Skinner, regional director of the Mine, Mill, and Smelter Workers union, which has been cited by the Dies committee as Communist dominated, talked for half an hour against THE TRIBUNE, and Irving Edenberg, introduced only as a member of the National Maritime union, also communistic, rambled along for another 30 minutes in a foul tone. When a member shouted from the floor, "Quit your swearing, there's women in here," Edenberg answered: "We are coming to a time when we will have to use more than strong language."

A delegation from the Buick plant locals of the UAW union, also meeting at the Hamilton hotel yesday, visited the Studebaker group's meeting and reported that the Buick local had adopted a resolution attacking THE TRIBUNE.

[The Tribune will pay $500 for the best letter written by a war worker, making the most constructive proposal for increasing production and efficiency in Chicagoland war plants. Ten prizes of $50 each will be paid for the next best 10 letters.]

A Typical Letter

THE TRIBUNE has received hundreds of letters complaining about lax conditions in war plants. A typical letter follows:

"It was about time that some one exposed this union scandal at Studebaker. I have been employed for at least 13 months and I never have seen a plant run like this, which is supposed to be a war plant. I have a boy in service and if it depended on this factory I know that my boy will never put foot on American soil again. . . . These people that get the steward's button walk around all day with their arms folded. If we were all stewards down here our boys would all be killed and good Americans here nothing but prisoners. . . . Keep telling the truth as you sure are telling it now. We want to win this war and have our boys home safe. But if this keeps up we won't see our boys at all.

"A GOOD WAR WORKER AND AN AMERICAN."

Would Query High Staff on M'Arthur Aid

Versailles, Ky., Nov. 21 [Special].—Sen. A. B. Chandler [D., Ky.] said at his home here today that he will urge the senate military affairs committee of which he is a member, to ascertain whether the allied combined chiefs of staff have adopted a policy of limiting help for Gen. MacArthur's forces in the Southwest Pacific.

Sen. A. B. Chandler.

"If such a decision has been made, it should be reviewed," asserted the senator, who was one of five senators who toured the war fronts this summer. "There has been a lot of confusion over the question of our government's policy toward reënforcing MacArthur, and our committee is told one thing one day and another thing the next.

Finds Facts Uncontroverted.

"The fact remains that Gen. MacArthur is not getting sufficient support, either in arms or men, and those who contend to the contrary are saying something that just isn't so. At the time I was in the Southwest Pacific the largest force of heavy bombers he was able to get together for a single raid was 60. I found that everybody out there believed greater support could be sent."

Chandler emphasized that MacArthur is following a policy of doing all he can with what is furnished him and is doing a magnificent job without complaining.

Demands Reason for Curb.

"MacArthur could successfully go to the Philippines if he were sufficiently supported," Chandler said. "He has proved his ability to take the offensive against Japan, but has been limited by lack of men and equipment. Our committee should get to the root of this situation and find out the reason for it."

The senator said he believes an all-out offensive by MacArthur may be necessary to save American bases in China, since these bases are lightly held and are imperiled by the failure of the British to mount an offensive in the India-Burma-China sector.

KENNEY KEEPS A PROMISE—WITH SLIGHT CHANGES

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Nov. 21 (AP).—Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney kept his promise to Australian Commandoes who rid Kaipait in New Guinea of a band of Japs—but only in part.

In late September the Australians killed 200 Japanese and drove another 300 out of Kaipait, 60 miles northwest of Lae, enabling the allies to secure another airdrome. Next day the commander of the allied air forces arrived. To show the Australians his gratitude, he promised them a plane load of anything they wanted. They shouted shouted back "beer, mail, food, and women."

Kenney filled the food request with fresh meat. But for the beer and women he sent instead five pounds of chocolate and 47 packages of American cigarets for each Commando.

Hold Beachheads After Shelling by Fleet.

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Nov. 21 (AP).—Powerful United States forces, carrying the fight to a new section of Japan's Pacific outposts, have landed on Makin and Tarawa Islands, about midway between New Guinea and Hawaii.

United States marines and army troops pushed ashore at both places, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, announced today, under cover of mighty navy units of all types, and after those and nearby islands had been pounded for a week by bombing planes.

Bombarded by Ships.

The landings, made yesterday, were preceded by a heavy aerial and surface bombardment by carrier planes and the big guns of ships.

[A Pearl Harbor dispatch to the New York Times said the troops which landed in the Gilberts were "both time-hardened veterans of the Pacific fighting and troops who have not been tried, tho they have been toughened thru long training under Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson Jr., commander of the operations. They stormed ashore under the protection of battleships and other craft which threw tons of steel onto enemy defense positions. Aircraft carriers sent planes roaring over the atolls and at the same time Liberator bombers attacked islands in the Marshall group to the north."]

Win, Die or Retreat.

Adm. Nimitz's bulletin said:

"Marine corps and army forces, covered by powerful units of all types of the Pacific fleet, established beachheads on Makin, Tarawa atolls, Gilbert Islands; meeting moderate resistance at Makin and strong resistance at Tarawa. Fighting continues.

Since the Japanese on Tarawa had been holding out for 24 hours when the communication was issued, it appeared that American forces there were up against a win, die, or retreat proposition.

Extends Operations 700 Miles.

Makin and Tarawa are in the Gilbert Islands, British mandated territory which was seized by the Japanese in December, 1941. The American attack there means a 700 mile extension of the arc of operations on the perimeter of Japan's southeastern frontier, northeastward thru the Solomons.

Army artillery and other units besides infantry were among the assault troops. The marines were reported to include some of those who fought in the Solomons.

Landings on atolls such as Makin and Tarawa are tough jobs because they afford no protection to attackers and little to defenders except that the latter have had time to dig in and set up artillery.

LARGEST OF GILBERT ISLES

The Gilbert group is composed of 16 small, rocky islands about 2,400 miles southwest of Honolulu and 1,100 miles northeast of the Solomons. They lie athwart nearly a direct line from the Solomons to Hawaii.

On Tarawa the Japanese established their main air base in the archipelago. Makin Island, at the northern end of the Gilberts, harbored a seaplane base.

From these islands the Japanese had aerial cover for their sea forces and could spring attacks against allied supply lines. Loss of the Gilberts would greatly expand the effective scope of allied assaults deeper into Japan's Pacific holdings.

Tarawa is the largest of the Gilberts, and the most important strategically. It is 22 miles long, composed of nine small islands, including Leper asylum, Lone Tree islet, and Administration station. One main entrance commands its lagoon. Tarawa also is known as Knox or Cook Island.

Makin 11 Miles Long.

Makin is 11 miles long, with two entrances to its lagoon. Coral reefs protects most of the islets. Altogether, the Gilberts cover an area of 166 square miles, and in 1938 had a population of 27,000.

Makin was struck by a hit-and-run landing on Aug. 17, 1942, when marines killed at least 80 Japanese, destroyed seaplane installations ashore and two seaplanes in the water, withdrawing thereafter. They were supported by United States naval guns. The officers leading the daring group were Lt. Col. Evans F. Carlton and Maj. [Now. Lt. Col.] James Roosevelt, son of the President, who was second in command.

The Gilberts and the Marshalls have been punished from the air and sea in other raids, and the invasion was preceded by a week-long pounding by bombers. The Marshall Islands, Japanese mandated to the northwest, may be next on the invasion schedule.

BOMBER FLYERS HOLD OPEN HOUSE FOR P-47 ESCORTS

The Flying Fortress "Blackhawk" has been on 19 raids, but in the last 12 has made no claims of German planes destroyed. "No Germans got near enough for us to shoot at. That's what you fellows have done for us," Pilot Lt. James W. Tolbert of Oklahoma City told the Thunderbolt men.

"You guys," a fighter pilot answered, "have plenty of guts to fly steadily along and let the Heinies pepper you with cannon and machine guns. I wouldn't want to be flying one of those trucks of yours. You're in a dangerous business. You can get killed flying one of those things."

SHIFTING SANDS WIPE OUT TRACES OF WAR IN AFRICA

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 20 [Delayed] (AP).—Post-war, battle-scene tourists will have little to see, said Lloyd Stratton, president of Associated Press, Ltd. [British subsidiary of AP], who arrived here tonight aboard a parachute troop plane after visiting most of the North African campaign spots.

Shifting sands have obliterated nearly all signs of the warfare which took place in the desert. Only faint traces of tank and artillery tracks remain and they are seen mostly in the scarring of occasional green vegetation.

Twin Japanese Drives in China

CHINESE BATTLE 80,000 JAPS IN 2-PRONGED DRIVE

Foe Moves to Strike at Changsha.

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 21 (AP).—Two spearheads of a Japanese force of 80,000 made progress toward Changteh, west of Tungting lake today, and reports of strong reënforcements at their Yochow base east of the lake indicated the invaders may be opening a fourth great battle for Changsha, capital of Hunan province.

The Chinese bulletin suggested that the Japanese were making a determined effort to encircle Changteh, 110 miles southeast of the Yangtze river port of Ichang and 25 miles west of the lake, and seize that communications center as a springboard for a decisive thrust at Changsha.

Fight Near Rivers.

Bloody fighting raged near Japanese held Tzeli, at the junction of the Ling and Liu rivers 30 miles northwest of Changteh, where the Chinese were hitting back vigorously against repeated Japanese attacks supported by incessant relays of bombers.

The Japanese also were striking southward immediately west of the lake in a move which threatened Changteh's communications from the northeast. By moving on Changteh, the Japanese were taking heed of three costly failures to capture Changsha in previous campaigns.

Plan Two Armed Drive.

It was from the Changteh area that wily Chinese commanders in the earlier campaigns launched flank assaults which wiped out large enemy forces extended up the Siang valley toward Changsha, 50 miles south of Tungting lake.

Private reports said the Japanese had transferred large quantities of materials from Hankow to Yochow, their base east of the lake from which they launched their previous campaigns. If Changteh falls, they evidently intended to be ready for a two armed drive on Changsha.

From the mountains below Ichang, to the west of the Japanese salient, however, the Chinese already were striking back in an effort to smash the invaders' strategy and were mopping up considerable territory already reoccupied.

United States Planes in Battle.

Brig. Gen. Edgar Glenn, chief of staff of the 14th United States air force, said the Japanese were within 10 miles of Changteh and American planes, both fighters and bombers, were striking from dawn to dusk to support the Chinese.

"The 14th air force has been effectively bombing the enemy's Yochow base where they are bringing in men and supplies by rail, road, and river," he said.

JAP PLOT AGAINST SOVIET CHARGED IN MOSCOW MAGAZINE

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 (AP).—The labor magazine War and the Working Class, saying the initiative in the Pacific is completely in American hands, charged today that Japanese extremists had "inspired various anti-soviet plans" in behalf of Germany.

[This was one of the frankest statements concerning Russian-Japanese relations transmitted from Moscow in recent months. The two nations signed a five year neutrality pact in Moscow April 13, 1941. By the magazine's charge, Japanese have meddled in Russian affairs, if not actually conspired against the soviet union.

The magazine said the Japanese had entered the war despite a shortage of materials, and hoped for a victory of Fascist Germany in Europe. It did not go into detail in regard to the "anti-soviet plan."

The magazine said, however, that the military situation in the Pacific was far from favorable to the Japanese and that the Japanese government is seeking "ways to overcome the weakness in Japanese policy." It added that the allied air raids on Germany had "aroused such alarm that, according to Tojo, the Japanese government had to take special measures for the protection of its cities, particularly Tokio. The policy of brutal force has been replaced by skillful demagogery."

SUMATRA FIRST IN ALLIED PLANS, LANZA BELIEVES

BY COL. CONRAD H. LANZA.

[This article develops the thesis advanced in Col. Lanza's article in Sunday's TRIBUNE that the allies probably will not invade Burma.]

An oversea expedition against Japan, initiated in India, would start from, or pass by Ceylon, or some port on the east coast of India between Ceylon and Calcutta.

The allies now have ample shipping to carry troops. Since the armistice with Italy, naval forces have become available to cover the transports and landing crafts. The only serious difficulty is how to provide air cover for landings on Japanese held territory. And this difficulty is due to the distances involved.

Japan is now regularly and frequently sending planes to Ceylon and East India to photograph harbors. The human eye may err, but cameras make no mistakes. Their record of what ships are in the harbor gives the Japanese good information as to a proposed oversea expedition. Calculations will show about how many troops could be loaded on the shipping discovered.

Could Spot Invasion.

The Japs would not be able to tell when the expedition was to sail, nor where it would go. This information would only come from observing the course of the ships after they had sailed. As Calcutta is 500 miles from the Japanese held Burma coast, and Ceylon is 1,200 miles away, the Japanese would have time to concentrate strong air forces against an invasion before it could reach its destination. Their submarines and planes would probably discover the sailing of an invasion force shortly after it left port.

There are a number of possible objectives for an invasion force coming from India. If this be Burma, an operation leading to the eventual capture of the great port of Rangoon would seem probable. If the expedition sailed directly there, air cover for it would have to come from aircraft carriers, as the nearest allied air fields are well over 300 miles away.

It would be confronted with numerous Japanese held fields on land close by and would have to pass the Japanese held Andaman Islands, which contain more Japanese air fields. An alternative would be to land behind the present Japanese land line, which reaches the coast near Akyab, using air fields behind the British line. If successful, new landings might be made in the rear of any new line the Japanese might occupy.

May Seize Andamans.

This type of operation would be a step by step advance, would probably take very long, and would involve fighting in a most difficult area of swamps, streams, and jungles, but is feasible.

The difficulty about obtaining air cover for landings could be ameliorated if the allies held the Andaman Islands. These are 250 miles away from the Burma coast, which is far for furnishing fighter protection. Still they would be a great aid, even if they only removed the possibility of the Japs using them to attack allied ships going by.

To capture the Andamans would require a naval force superior to that which Japan has in the area. It would seem that this could be done. For the initial attack air cover would have to come from planes on aircraft carriers. Not much is known of the Japanese strength on these islands.

Nicobars Also Vital.

Just south of the Andamans are the Nicobar Islands. These, too, would come in handy for use as air bases. With both the Andaman and Nicobar Islands in allied hands the invasion possibilities are vastly increased. The Burma coast would be 250 to 400 miles away; the Malay coast 373 miles, and the great island and oil center of Sumatra only 150 miles off.

Considering these distances, an attack on Sumatra might well be the first major step. If Sumatra is cleared, which naturally would take some time, the allies would be within 50 miles of Singapore. If that great base, and present Japanese stronghold, can be taken, the whole Japanese position in southeast Asia would be tottering.

An allied advance overland from India into Burma appears to be practically promised. Since the nature of the country limits the number of troops that can be so employed, it will probably be supplemented by one or more oversea expeditions.

Which way the new allied commander in chief for southeast Asia will move is his secret. All that can be done is to point out some possibilities.

PATTON IS REPORTED REPRIMANDED AND DENIED COMBAT DUTY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Drew Pearson, radio commentator, said tonight that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., had been "severely reprimanded" by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and expressed the opinion that Patton will not "be used in combat any more."

Lt. Gen. Patton.

Pearson gave his account on the Blue network in explaining what he termed the mystery surrounding the whereabouts of Gen. Patton, commander of the 7th army in the invasion of Sicily. The war department said it had no information and no comment on the report.

Datelining his dispatch Algiers, Pearson said that Eisenhower's reprimand followed an altercation involving Patton, a shell-shocked soldier in a Sicilian hospital, and the medical officer commanding the hospital. Pearson said the argument started when Patton ordered the soldier from bed and the medical officer intervened.

ALLIES WIN FOUR TOWNS; SHORTEN LINE BY 20 MILES

Iron Out Salients Across Italian Front.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 21 (AP).—Allied armies have captured four key points along the Italian front—Agnone, Archi, Castel San Vincenzo, and Rocchetta—straightening out their line and shortening it by some 20 miles, allied headquarters announced today.

In capturing Agnone, Gen. Montgomery's troops ironed out an eight mile deep German salient, which extended from Carovilli to Salcito in the central sector and which had prevented the allies from using all of the lateral highway running from Vasto on the Adriatic to Isernia in the mountains.

Agnone, famous for its manufacture of church bells, was occupied after the Germans had deserted the town.

A three mile advance was chalked up in the upper Volturno region where Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th army troops occupied Castel San Vincenzo and Rocchetta, northwest of Isernia.

All these operations, accomplished yesterday, were carried out in extremely bad weather.

Friday night R. A. F. Mosquitos strafed rail targets at Padua, 30 miles west of Venice and at Ferrara, 20 miles north of Bologna, damaging two trains.

Jugo-Slav Partisans Open Two Drives; Halt Nazis.

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—The Germans poured fresh Nazi divisions into the campaign of extermination against Jugo-Slav guerrillas today but the Partisan headquarters of Gen. Josip [Tito] Broz declared the Germans everywhere had been thwarted.

Launching another offensive to reconquer guerrilla-liberated territory, the Germans struck with strong forces in the Sarajevo-Travnik sector of central Bosnia. Tito's broadcast war bulletin said that the Nazis there had been stopped.

The hard pressed guerrillas struck two offensive blows of their own, capturing the southeastern Bosnian town of Foca on the Drina river and hitting German positions in Dalmatia. Fighting also was reported under way in the Zeta and Moraca river valleys of Montenegro.

Other German forces which have established bridgeheads on the Adriatic Islands of Krk and Cherso [Crew] were thrown back when they attempted new advances across those rocky sentinels guarding the entrance to Fiume, Tito said.

Report New German Atrocities in Jugo-Slavia.

Meanwhile, new accounts of German atrocities reached Jugo-Slav government officials in Cairo from Belgrade, where 30,000 Serbs have been reported put to death by orders of the gestapo since Jugo-Slavia was invaded.

Belgrade was pictured as a shivering, starving city, going into its third winter under Nazi occupation without fuel and practically without food reserves.

Trees in the parks and even orchards have been cut down, and every lump of coal from the Belgrade district mines is going to factories producing war materials for the Germans, the reports said.

Referring to what were termed Turkoman and Cossack units incorporated in "the army of Traitor Gen. Vlasov now operating in Slovenia and regions of Serbia, Dalmatia, and Albania," a Jugo-Slav government statement said:

ICELAND FIELD HOUSE HONORS GEN. ANDREWS

SAVE CHILDREN OF POLAND, U. S. LEADERS ASKED

Nazis Exterminating Them, Says Plea.

Seven hundred Poles and Americans of Polish origin gathered yesterday in the auditorium of the Polish Women's Alliance of America, 1309 North Ashland avenue, to protest German oppression and atrocities, particularly as applied to Polish children.

Copies of a resolution asking that the Polish children be saved from extermination thru the International Red Cross will be sent to the President, the senate and the house of representatives. The statement said representatives of the Polish women's organizations will concentrate their efforts toward the relief of Polish children in Russia, Iraq, Palestine, Africa, India, and Mexico.

50,000 Children Scattered.

Dr. Karol Ripa, consul general of Poland, reported that 50,000 Polish children now are scattered over the world in the care of friends of the nation. He said 17,500 children are in Iraq, 4,000 in Africa, 5,000 in India on the estate of a maharaja, and 1,450 are at a Polish refuge in Santa Rosa, Mexico.

The consul general decried the treatment of Polish juveniles in Germany, where, he said, they are being starved and maltreated. Approximately 5,000 Polish girls have been taken to an experimental camp near Germany to determine the type of children that will result from German-Polish unions, Dr. Ripa reported. He said children under 15 years of age, of whom there were 11,451,000 in Poland before the outbreak of war, are given only 468 calories of food per day by the Nazis, whereas 3,000 calories are required for the survival of a child in that age group.

Announce Aid Fund Today.

The results of a collection to aid the refugee children will be determined today, it was reported. The fund will be used to feed, clothe, school and otherwise care for the juveniles.

Dr. Francis X. Swietlik, president of the Polish-American Council on Polish Relief, in commenting on the organization in Detroit of a group of Polish-Americans who disapprove of the policy of the Polish government in exile in resisting claims of the soviet to certain portions of Poland's pre-war territory, said: "That is a local organization in Detroit and it certainly does not represent the sentiment of Americans of Polish origin."

VICHY RADIO AGAIN CANCELS SCHEDULED PETAIN BROADCAST

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The Vichy radio, for the second consecutive week-end, canceled a scheduled broadcast by Marshal Henri Petain, French chief of state, the British radio reported tonight in a broadcast heard here. The broadcast by Petain, as well as another program, were canceled with apologies, the British Broadcasting corporation said.

Advices reaching Berne, Switzerland, Friday from France said the aged marshal offered his resignation as chief of state after Pierre Laval and the Germans prevented him from making a radio address last week promulgating by decree a new and democratic constitution and renouncing Laval as his successor.

AUSSIES' TANKS PUSH JAPS BACK IN NEW GUINEA

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC HDQ., Nov. 22 [Monday]—(AP).—Australian troops supported by tanks have increased their pressure against the Japanese on the main trail a mile east of Sattelberg on New Guinea while allied bombers dropped a 138 ton bomb load on Gasmata, New Britain.

Gen. MacArthur's bulletin today announced also that American troops were engaged in active patrolling from their Empress Augusta bay bridgehead on Bougainville, last big Nipponese base in the Solomons.

Strong resistance was encountered both in New Guinea and at Bougainville, not only from Japanese defenders but from their air force.

Bomb Bivouac Points.

Mitchell bombers heavily bombed Jap supply and bivouac points northwest of Sattelberg Saturday, while outnumbered P-38 Lightning fighters broke up a large formation of enemy bombers and fighters, shooting down one.

The bulletin said the bombing of the Gasmata area was "well concentrated on the target," and that the resulting explosions and fires left a "thick pall of smoke over the area." There was no aerial interception and all our planes returned.

We lost one plane to anti-aircraft fire in a bombing sweep of the New Guinea coast near Alexishafen.

Jap Ship Set Afire.

An American navy Catalina bomber set a 10,000 ton Japanese merchantman afire in St. George channel between New Britain and New Ireland islands.

On Bougainville Japanese planes raided our positions five times, with only minor casualties.

At Buin on the southern tip of Bougainville an escorted flight of dive and torpedo bombers hit the Kahili airdrome and nearby installations with 45 tons of bombs, causing large explosions at the Kangu Hill battery.

7 Marine Pilots Tackle 60 Zeros; Shoot Down 6

NEW GEORGIA ISLAND, [Delayed—(AP).—Seven marine fighter pilots on a Sunday morning patrol wandered into an armada of 60 Japanese Zeros in the northern Solomons. Ignoring the odds, the marines attacked, shot down a sure six, a probable three, and chased the remainder of the Jap air fleet for 40 miles. First Lt. John W. Witt of Wauwatosa, Wis., shot down two of the Zeros.

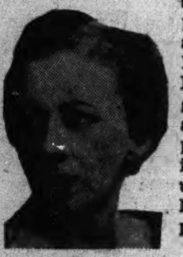
RULE BY STALIN BRANDED PERIL TO ALL EUROPE

Rep. Sumner Fears He'll Gobble Up Nations.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Rep. Jessie Sumner.

New York, Nov. 21.—Rep. Jessie Sumner [R., Ill.] today called upon the American people to insist upon assurances that Premier Stalin of Russia will not gobble up Poland and the Baltic republics while he is still dependent upon American lend-lease supplies.

Miss Sumner, who represents the 18th Illinois district, spoke at services commemorating the 25th anniversary of Polish independence. The observance, held in Manhattan Center, was sponsored by the Polish societies of New York and New Jersey.

Commenting upon Secretary of State Cordell Hull's report to congress on the Moscow conference, she said:

"Some Washington officials privately criticize the Moscow agreements, saying the Moscow conference was a victory for the axis. They contend that the effect will be simply to transfer Europe from Hitler to Stalin since it was agreed to let the first power which reaches an occupied country control it until elections are held.

Fear Stalin Control.

"Stalin, these critics say, will be the first to reach most of the countries, and he will use the elections to seize control the way Hitler did it in Austria and the way Stalin himself did it in Poland."

Rep. Sumner said some persons in Washington believe that Europeans who fear both Hitler and Stalin now fear Stalin the more, since Hitler is doomed to defeat while Stalin will have the opportunity to rule the continent, with his rule guaranteed by the allied nations.

Saying that the American public should be given the facts about this "shocking reversal" of sentiment, she added:

"I know that Washington underestimates the ability of the American people at home to face the truth with the same indomitable bravery with which Americans now fighting all over the world face death."

Refugees Alarmed.

While congress was concerned primarily with domestic issues last week, she said, "frantic refugees" were describing the conference this way:

"Moscow was another Munich, only worse because the excuse of Munich was that the democracies were not prepared for war. If the allies do not protect the independence of European nations when they have a huge army in Europe and lend-lease supplies without which Stalin cannot seize control of Europe, what protection can there be after he has taken control and a war would be required to uproot him?

"The refugees said Stalin has communistic organizations already set up to win the elections in Yugo-Slavia, Germany, and most other nations, including France. There is nothing, as the refugees put it, to prevent Stalin from taking over the Baltic republics of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania. If he can take over Poland, they said, he then has Europe."

Northern Nations Periled.

Rep. Sumner said the refugees feared Stalin would then move into Finland, Sweden, and Norway, unless Sweden chose to fight. She added that the American people should do something now, before it is too late, to remove the basis of such fear.

"Americans have no doubt often been given a false picture of the situation," Rep. Sumner told her audience, "often by people who did not know any better.

"Poles say, for instance, that Wendell Willkie gave an enthusiastic account of the part of Russia called the republic of Yakutsk in his book, but apparently missed seeing the forced labor camps there, in which Polish prisoners are treated worse than slaves because of their anti-communistic political opinions."

Brewster Praises Poland.

Sen. Ralph O. Brewster [R., Me.] praised Poland's courage, saying:

"A century ago, Thomas Jefferson denounced the partition of Poland as a crime. Almost a century later, Woodrow Wilson characterized it as 'one of the great crimes of history,' and the people's commissars in Moscow in 1919 termed it 'contemptible imperialism.'

"Poland comes to the peace table clothed in all the majesty of its tragic sacrifices as the first of the united nations."

Reds Throw Nazis Back in New Battles

CHARGES BRITAIN IGNORES JEWS IN PALESTINE PLANS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 21 (AP).—Pierre Van Paassen asserted today that Great Britain was arbitrarily settling the Palestine question now without consulting the Jews. He spoke at the United Palestine Appeal conference.

Attacking as a "cruel hoax" the British assertion Palestine Jews cannot be considered until the Axis was defeated, Van Paassen declared "the governments are laying the post-war plans" now.

"When the Chinese were refused the right to aid in the rehabilitation of the Burma road area, it meant that China will be what she was before," he said. "When the Jews are told that Palestine is being turned to agriculture only, Britain is stating her position."

Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], who preceded Van Paassen as a speaker, said the Palestine question would "be settled with justice after the war."

Pennsy Passenger Train Delayed 5 Hours by Crash

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP).—The Pennsylvania railroad's Jeffersonian passenger train was delayed here five hours today after it struck an empty automobile parked on the tracks at Mill Creek, 30 miles east of Altoona. There were no injuries.

BEN HECHT'S ATTACK ON MOSCOW PARLEY FLAYED BY DR. CARD

Author Ben Hecht's newspaper advertisment, in which he charged the Moscow conference with failure to include the murdered two million European Jews in the post-war atrocity trials, was assailed by Dr. William Card, executive director of the Chicago Council of American-Soviet Friendship, Saturday night. He spoke at a meeting of the Chicago Loop Forum at 228 South Wabash avenue.

Replying to a questioner who asked if it would not be better to place the editors of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the Hearst Press, Hecht, and the Catholic bishops in concentration camps, Dr. Card said, "Something should be done about these Hitler lovers, but the time is not ripe; it might come later."

Dr. Card said Hecht "displayed ignorance in not realizing that Stalin, Churchill, and Roosevelt were the best friends the Jews ever had."

French Popular Party Official Reported Slain

BARCELONA, Spain, Nov. 21 (AP).—Marcel Moulard, secretary of Jacques Doriot's French Popular party at Caudebec, near Rouen, was assassinated by "terrorists" Nov. 17, dispatches in the French press said today.

REDS FIGHT FOE TO STANDSTILL IN KIEV BULGE

LONDON, Nov. 22 [Monday]—(AP).—The Red army withstood the mechanized might of massive German attacks against the vital Kiev bulge in the northern Ukraine yesterday and broadened two prongs of the soviet wedge aimed at the iron wealth of Krivoi Rog and the manganese of Nikopol, Moscow announced early today.

The midnight war bulletin told of battles extending all the way from almost encircled Gomel to the area southwest of Dnepropetrovsk.

Listing three German tank onslaughts against Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army in one sector between Zhitomir and Kiev, the war bulletin said the Russians weathered these blows and forced the Germans to retreat.

Nazis Hurl in Reserves.

A Moscow dispatch yesterday said that the Germans were hurling a large part of their strategic reserves into the Kiev bulge battle and were employing tanks in groups as large as several hundred or in full divisions, supported by swarms of self-propelled 88 millimeter guns.

While the German war bulletin yesterday cautiously announced that the Nazis were making "further headway in the face of stubborn enemy resistance," the German news agency DNB in a broadcast dispatch claimed Field Marshal Gen. Fritz von Mannstein's forces had driven back, in a 48 hour period, to within 40 miles of Kiev, or halfway from Zhitomir. The German force in the region was estimated to include 150,000 men.

In their drive on a 90 mile front in the Dnieper bend toward Krivoi Rog, the Russians reported, forcing large units of Nazi tanks and infantry to retreat south of Kremenchug. Capture of a town 10 miles due south of Dnepropetrovsk on the east bank of the Dnieper also was reported.

Claim Red Force Wiped Out.

The German war bulletin also said fierce battles were in progress north of Gomel, where it said an encircled Russian force was wiped out, and declared Russian attacks were repelled south of Lake Ladoga in the Leningrad area.

At the other extremity of the front in the Crimea, the Germans said their artillery fire and repeated air attacks nullified an attempt by Russian troops to enlarge a bridgehead northeast of Kerch. The Berlin radio said German naval units repulsed two attacks by soviet gunboats in the Kerch strait and sank one of the Russian vessels.

BOWLING BALL, SHOES STOLEN.

Police were informed yesterday by R. C. Hirsch Jr., 6808 Normal boulevard, that thieves broke into his automobile, parked at 68th street and Parnell avenue yesterday, and stole a bowling ball and shoes valued at $35.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS ARRIVAL OF GERMAN ENVOY IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 21 (AP).—The arrival here of Otto von Bismarck, envoy to Rome who was replaced just before the Italian capitulation, posed a diplomatic mystery today.

Bismarck and his Swedish born wife were reported by the Stockholms-Tidningen to have come from Berlin last night. He refused to see visitors.

New 'Language' Invented to Foil Spies in Germany

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 21 (AP).—Albert Speer, Nazi production czar, is attempting to safeguard German war industry against spies by the use of a new "language," the Berlin correspondent of Aftonbladet said today. Names of stars and animals are being used to refer to figures and details about weapons.

Representative Pledges Inquiry in Congress.

U.A.W. Picks F.D.R.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP).—R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers [CIO], gave President Roosevelt the nod for a fourth term over either Ohio's Gov. John W. Bricker or New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in addressing a rally of Ford Motor Co. employes here today.

"This nation can use a little more of the New Deal," Thomas told members of Ford local 600, UAW-CIO. "While the UMW's attitude on President Roosevelt remains a qualified endorsement, if the Republican party nominates John W. Bricker or Thomas Dewey in 1944, I can tell you right now who I am going to vote for and it won't be either of those men."

Charges were made last night that because of political considerations the regular Sunday radio program of the American Dairy association was choked off the air yesterday to devote the time to a speech by R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers of America [CIO].

Owen M. Richards.

The association, which represents 5 million dairy farmers, protested to the National Broadcasting company and to Rep. August H. Andresen [R., Minn.] that it had been barred from the air in favor of Thomas' speech supporting federal subsidies on food, a controversial subject now approaching a decision in congress.

In Washington, D. C., Rep. Andresen said the program cancelation appeared like the "fine hand of dictatorial coercion" and that he would demand an investigation in congress.

Congressman Denounces Action.

"Cancelation of a paid radio broadcast today sponsored by 5 million dairy farmers by the National Broadcasting company and the giving of the time scheduled for the "Voice of the Dairy Farmer" to CIO President R. J. Thomas for a last minute broadcast favoring consumer subsidies appears to me like the fine hand of dictatorial coercion on the part of the administration," he said.

"While the Washington office of NBC denies that the federal communications commission ordered cancelation of the dairy program," the representative said, "I am personally convinced that some one high up in the administration brought the necessary pressure on the National Broadcasting company to cancel the dairy time and give it to the CIO. The National Broadcasting company, no doubt, feared reprisal if it did not comply.

Investigation to Be Asked.

"As I recollect the four freedoms, one of them is freedom from fear. The freedom of the airways is at stake. If a broadcasting company is threatened by cancelation of its license or other reprisal by the communications commission, it is high time for congress to act. I expect to go into this matter fully and will demand an investigation.

"The CIO used nearly 45 minutes this afternoon urging consumer subsidies, which will be voted on in the house, probably Monday."

Owen M. Richards, manager of the dairy organization, said at its Chicago headquarters that the association was "shocked" Friday night when notified by the NBC that its Sunday program would not be broadcast as usual.

Dairy Protest Disregarded.

Despite its protests, the association's program scheduled for broadcast from Chicago was canceled and Thomas' talk was broadcast from Detroit, Mich.

"The program sponsored by 5 million dairy farmers was choked off the air at the eleventh hour when the controversial subject of food subsidies, affecting the nation at large, was approaching a congressional decision," Richards said.

"To have our radio time taken away in this fashion and given to the CIO, which is not in harmony with the farmer's viewpoint, is shocking. The method used borders on dictator nation methods."

Association Impartial on Facts.

Richards asserted that the American Dairy association had been careful not to involve its members in the controversy, and always had presented both sides of the question.

"On the Sunday radio program we based our views on economics and not on politics," he said.

In New York, Frank Mullen, vice president and general manager of the National Broadcasting company, denied that there had been any government coercion to force the network to give Thomas the time used.

Mullen said that he received a request from Thomas on Friday for 15 minutes broadcast time Saturday or Sunday, and that Thomas did not ask for any specific period. The network elected to cancel the commercial program rather than the Chicago round table broadcast, a sustaining program, Mullen said.

Thomas appeared before the senate interstate commerce committee last week and complained that labor was not being heard on the air, tho his union has a regularly scheduled broadcast on this same network.

IGNORE WAR, SAVANTS TELL NAZIS; EARTH'S END IS NEAR, ANYWAY

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 21.—The Germans were told today by Berlin astronomers not to worry too much about the war. A new planet they have discovered may soon collide with the sun, in which case the earth may also come to its end, they said. The Berlin observatory made its discovery on Nov. 9. The German astronomers' thesis is that the new planet, having been attracted into the sun's orbit, is now approaching the sun with increasing speed. If it continues in its course, it is bound to collide with the sun soon. The result would be a catastrophe for the earth.

EXPECT DEFEAT OF FOOD SUBSIDY IN HOUSE TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—With a showdown on the food subsidies issue expected in the house tomorrow, it appeared almost certain tonight that the house would vote overwhelmingly against the use of federal funds to bridge the gap between war time costs and frozen retail prices.

The administration's food program, outlined to congress by President Roosevelt in a special message Nov. 1, relies upon federal subsidies to stimulate desired production while maintaining control over retail prices.

Opponents of food subsidies charge that government assumption of a small part of "today's grocery bills" would only add to the amount of taxes, which the public will have to pay after the war.

Termed Bribery.

One agriculture spokesman appearing before a senate committee early in the week branded subsidies as a form of "bribery" and "blackmail" employed by the New Deal "to assume a very direct and very complete control over the individual citizen in every phase of his life."

Representatives from every branch of agriculture appeared before the senate committee to state that the farmer was "violently opposed" to any form of subsidy. Organized labor, on the other hand, has urged support of the program.

The President in his message to congress said food production subsidies had cost 350 million dollars this year and subsidies to roll back meat and butter retail prices had cost 450 millions since June. They are intended to save the consumer about 3 cents a pound on meat and 5 cents a pound on butter.

Propose Bread Program.

Last week the administration announced a program costing 108 million dollars a year in federal funds, to prevent a 1½ to 2 cent rise in the cost of a loaf of bread.

Rep. Richard M. Kleberg [D., Tex.], one of the owners of the world's largest cattle ranch, the famous King ranch in southwest Texas, asserted during house debate that "food subsidies paid or proposed would save each person in the nation only $6.32 a year."

"I'm not willing to sell my birthright for that price—it's too damn cheap," Kleberg added. "This is an infamous proposition to substitute government by blackmail for government by the people."

Vote on Fate of CCC.

The vote in the house tomorrow will be on the extension of the life of the Commodity Credit corporation, an agency thru which the government instituted most of its 25 subsidy programs affecting 40 agricultural products.

Last June, in extending the life of the CCC, congress ordered strict prohibition of subsidy payments without first obtaining legislative authority. The President vetoed the law and the motion to override the veto fell short by 27 votes. Thereupon congress passed a new bill extending the CCC thru Dec. 30.

Friends of the CCC program argued in the house that the spending of 1⅓ to 2 billion dollars in subsidy payments would be a cheap way to avoid the dangers of higher food prices. They warned that abolishment of subsidies would mean a 7 per cent increase in retail food prices and a 3 per cent increase in the cost of living.

SUBSIDIES HALT 7% FOOD PRICE BOOST: BOWLES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Chester Bowles, director of the office of price administration, estimated today that an immediate 7 per cent rise in average food costs would result from an end of subsidies. He asserted that if the present cost line is broken, there is no place effectively to set up a new one.

The OPA administrator said the following retail price increases [in cents] would come directly from stoppage of subsidies:

	Lb.		Lb.
Beef round steak	5.2	Lamb rib chops	3.2
Rib roast	4.6	Other meats	2 to 6
Chuck roast	3.5	Butter	9.9
Hamburger	3.8	Cheese	7.8
Veal cutlet	6.0	Milk, qt.	1.0
Pork chops	4.6	Dried prunes	3.2
Sliced bacon	5.2	Canned vegetables, No. 2 can	1.4
Sliced ham	6.5	Sugar	1.0
Whole ham	4.5	Dry edible beans	1.0
Salt pork	2.8
Leg of lamb	1.7

Bowles made his assertions in response to an inquiry from Rep. John W. McCormack [D., Mass.].

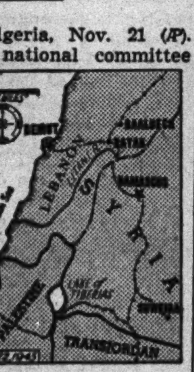
FRENCH RECALL LEBANESE CHIEF; BOW TO BRITISH

Reinstate President; Free Premier, Two Ministers.

ALGIERS, Algeria, Nov. 21 (AP).—The French national committee ordered the reinstatement tonight of Lebanese President Mechara Khoury and said it would negotiate on "the regime of independence promised by France" and underwritten by Britain in 1941.



Located are Lebanon and principal cities.

Bowing to the recommendations of its special envoy, Gen. Georges Catroux and fulfilling most of the British demands, the committee also recalled Delegate Gen. Jean Helleu from Beirut and ordered the liberation of Premier Riad Sohl and two other ministers who had been arrested by Helleu. The committee refused to reinstate Riad Sohl and his official status was left open.

The committee acted during a hastily summoned session following receipt of oral representations from Harold MacMillan, British minister to French North Africa, who demanded a quick solution of the Lebanese crisis.

Urges Speedy Settlement.

An announcement issued after the hurried meeting said "the committee confirmed its decision to open with the government of the Syrian republic negotiations necessary to the harmonizing of the French mandate with the regime of independence promised by France to the Levant state in proclamations of 1941. As soon as constitutional life has been reëstablished in Lebanon, similar negotiations will be opened with the Beirut government."

Thus, the way was opened for immediate negotiations with Syria, Lebanon's Levant sister republic over which France also holds a league of nations mandate.

Compromise with British.

The reinstatement of Khoury with Riad Sohl's future left open to negotiation between Catroux and the Lebanese president represented an effort at compromise with the British who urged the reinstatement of Riad Sohl as well as Khoury.

The announcement said Helleu had been recalled to Algiers. He had been under fire for what were thought to be hasty repressive measures following the Lebanon parliament's action severing ties with France.

Catroux was "invited" to negotiate with the Lebanese president "measures necessary to the rapid reëstablishment of constitutional life in Lebanon."

The committee also publicly declared that calm reigned thruout Lebanon, but British sources disputed this, saying more disorders had occurred thruout the country.

The French accuse Riad Sohl of extreme nationalist policies conflicting with the Lebanese obligations to France and France's obligations to the league.

BRITAIN, RUSSIA NAME ADVISORY UNIT MEMBERS

U. S. Representative Not Yet Chosen.

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—William Strang was named British representative and Feodor Tarsovich Gusev was appointed soviet representative tonight on the allied nations European advisory commission, which was established at the tri-power Moscow conference. The United States delegate has not yet been not yet been announced.

William Strang.

Strang, undersecretary of state in the foreign office, was appointed Britain's representative with the rank of ambassador.

A Moscow broadcast said Gusev, soviet ambassador to Britain, had been appointed as the Russian representative on the commission, which will be set up in London and will advise the three governments on European problems.

Winant Has Following.

Gusev came to London as ambassador succeeding Ivan M. Maisky on Oct. 2 from Ottawa, Canada, where he was soviet ambassador in 1942 and 1943.

There has been unofficial speculation here that United States Ambassador John G. Winant would be the United States representative to the commission.

Strang has long been known as central European and Russian expert in the British foreign office and was Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's assistant at the Moscow meetings. He was sent to Moscow in 1939 as British representative to a French-British-Russian conference attempting to negotiate a mutual assistance pact.

He entered the foreign office in September, 1919, at Belgrade and stayed three years. In 1924 he was secretary of an Anglo-soviet conference in London.

Reaffirms Soviet Policy.

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 (AP).—The announced soviet policy of leaving the future organization of Europe to the free wills of the people was reaffirmed today by the influential trade union journal, War and the Working Class, in its leading editorial. It undertook to refute what it called the "silly stories of the bolshevization of Europe."

BENGAL GETTING MORE FOOD, BUT FAMINE STILL ON

Millions in Province Believed Affected.

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 21.—Developments during the past week show that official and private relief measures continue to make headway in alleviating famine distress in Bengal. However, starvation is still widespread. The new harvest, which is expected to yield 10 million tons of grain, is the only prospect of changing Bengal conditions for the better.

Food is being widely distributed now, but it is still not adequate for needs everywhere. Tens of thousands of persons have been weakened beyond the possibility of help thru ordinary feeding and may die of the after effects of hunger, cholera, malaria, dysentery, beriberi, and other illnesses may be reduced to a low level within a matter of weeks.

The famine is still claiming a heavy toll in the countryside. Transport and distribution difficulties make the rural distress harder to relieve. The Indian army, however, is aiding civilian agencies to move food by trucks, rivers, canals, and railroads.

One recent survey estimated that 10 per cent of Bengal's population, or 6,000,000 persons, had been affected by the famine and that it was possible one-third of the 3,000,000 untouchables who are agricultural laborers in the province may have died already.

Dr. H. N. Kunzru, a prominent Hindu political leader, claimed in a speech in the state council yesterday after a tour of the stricken areas lasting several weeks that 50,000 persons were dying weekly in Bengal. Jwala Prasad Srivanstava, a food member of the government of India, told the central assembly last week that a survey in October showed roughly 58,000 deaths in the province.

The state council, meeting in Delhi, still is debating the famine and the central assembly has concluded a five day consideration of the food problem. Nonofficial members of these bodies have indulged in sweeping criticisms of the government. Congress party members argued that the only possible basis for wide public support for and association with the government program was thru the release of Mohandas Gandhi.

CLAIMS MOSLEY RELEASE IS PART OF FASCIST PLOT

Communist Speaker Rips Action at Rally.

Theodore Bramley.

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—Theodore Bramley, secretary of the London district of the Communist party, told a protest rally tonight that Oswald Mosley, Britain's prewar fascist leader, had sent a message to his followers shortly before his release from Holloway prison telling them to "keep your courage up—I'll soon be out."

Bramley asserted that 30,000 British fascists were waiting to rise again.

Meanwhile the whereabouts of Mosley and his wife, who were released from prison two days ago, still was a well kept secret, known only to officials and a few close relatives.

Charges Reactionary Plot.

Speaking to 1,200 home front workers gathered for the rally, Bramley said there had been a great campaign in parliament to get the fascists out of prison.

He added that many fascists already had been released and declared "the reactionary forces see the end of the war in sight and are getting ready to take the offensive against the working class."

Harry Pollitt, general secretary of the Communist party in Britain, who presided, said a "tidal wave" of protests against release of the Mosleys was sweeping the country.

Demand Reversal.

"Mosley is Hitler's Storm Trooper in Britain," Pollitt declared. "His release has sounded a danger signal to this country. Those who let him out should be put where he came from."

A resolution insisting that the government reverse its decision on the Mosleys' release was adopted at the meeting.

The executive committee of the Communist party adopted a similar resolution, calling the release a "blow against the 8th and 5th armies . . . men of the R. A. F., the merchant service and the navy."

Will Lawther, president of the Mine Workers' federation, said the release was likely to have a serious effect in that industry.

The attitude of the man in the street was reflected in the utterance of a bus passenger who was heard to declare:

"I suppose they will be releasing Hess next."

U. S. Navy Shows Drop in Combat Wound Toll

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—The United States navy medical corps has increased its seagoing strength more than a hundredfold since the start of the war and is holding combat wound mortality far below that of the first World war, Rear Adm. Luther Sheldon Jr. said today. More effective shock treatment, new types of casts, sulfa drugs, and penicillin are given the greatest credit for the improvement.

THE QUESTION.

Has your wife ever changed her mind to your advantage?

WHERE ASKED.

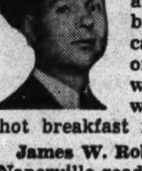
THE ANSWERS.

Leo J. Rutkowski, attorney, 1756 East 71st place—We've been married for only 60 days so I didn't consider it any great victory when my wife decided an issue. First she insisted that we spend Thanksgiving day with her relatives, but after a few discussions she agreed that we'd spend it with her relatives.

John F. Hardin, assistant superintendent gas company, 1130 South Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park—Every time I'd plan something with the boys from the club it would seem as tho my wife would have other plans. At first I thought it was going to be easier to change the night of our club meetings, but she finally gave in.



Frank W. Smith, elevator starter, 3525 Broadway—My wife had me thoroly convinced that it was too much to expect her to get up at 4 a. m. to prepare breakfast for me because I wanted to go on a hunting trip. It was a surprise to me when she had a big hot breakfast ready for me.

James W. Robinson, tax clerk, 304 Naperville road, Westmont—I didn't intend to take any chances with my wife, about where we should live. She wanted to live in an apartment in the city, but I wanted to live in the suburbs. Before we were married we settled it all by leasing a place in the suburbs.

Edwin Schnelerger, lawyer, 1007 North Humphrey avenue, Oak Park—My wife established a pretty good reputation for seeing things my way right from the beginning. The first time I proposed to her she said she was determined to finish college before she married me. With a little more persuasion, she changed her mind.

Leon Lichtenfeld, musician, 2708 Greenleaf avenue—There was one radio program that I wouldn't think of missing, but my wife didn't care for it at all. I told her if she'd listen to it two or three times she'd learn to like it. She did obligingly, and now she never misses it.

STEAL $400 WHISKY AND RADIO.

Dennis Molyneaux, 7942 Ingleside avenue, reported to police yesterday that burglars broke into his tavern at 7608 Cottage Grove avenue, and stole $400 worth of whisky, and a radio valued at $25.

U. S. DEVELOPING ANSWER TO NAZI 'SOUND TORPEDO'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Counter-measures to combat German acoustic torpedoes are being taken by the United States navy.

Rear Adm. Francis S. Low announced this today, confirming in effect reports that the Nazis have developed such a weapon, which can turn corners and is led to its mark by the sound of a ship's propellor and engines.

"We do not pretend to know all the answers, but we are actively working on counter-measures and have no doubt that we will develop satisfactory ones," he said.

Low gave his opinion that despite the reported new weapon the U-boat fleet "is bent if not broken. We estimate their remaining strength in the hundreds. We feel sure that at the rate they are being sunk they cannot be making great gains."

British Boarding Party Routed at Sea, Say Nazis

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Berlin radio said yesterday that a British boarding party from an E-boat was beaten off in an attempt to capture a German patrol boat off St. Nazaire, France, Saturday night. The broadcast claimed heavy losses were inflicted on the British crew.

IDENTIFY 16 NAVY MEN KILLED IN CRASH IN BRAZIL

Chicagoan Is Listed in Roster of Dead.

Pilotless Plane Crash

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP).—Lt. Jack Clay of the army's air transport command said tonight that a four-motored bombing plane crashed between Midland and Frostburg, Md., tonight after flying from Cherry Tree, Pa., without a crew, a distance of almost 80 miles. The five crew members bailed out of the plane when it developed mechanical difficulties over the Allegheny mountains, Lt. Clay said, adding that Lt. Donald Crist, the pilot, told him he had left the plane flying by its automatic pilot before jumping from an altitude of 12,000 feet. All five crew members landed safely.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Sixteen navy officers and men were among the 18 persons killed in the crash of a large United States naval transport plane 30 miles east of Rio de Janeiro Friday, the navy reported tonight. [One of the victims was John K. Rogan, specialist 1st class, of Chicago.]

J. K. Rogan.

The other victims were an American civilian engineer and a Brazilian. The plane burst into flames after the crash, the navy reported, adding that the cause of the accident was not known. Previously it had been announced from Rio that the crash occurred while the plane was en route from Recife to Rio in a fog.

Bodies of the 17 Americans were buried today in Marui cemetery at Niteroi, in accordance with local laws, the navy said.

[Rogan, who was 27 years old, formerly was employed by United Air lines as a ticket supervisor in the Palmer House, his father, John T. Rogan, 3838 Broadway, said last night. He was a graduate of Immaculate Conception parochial and Lake View High school.]

Chicagoan Lost on Bomber.

Florence, S. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Florence army air field announced today a light bomber had failed to return to the base from a routine training flight over water and was presumed lost. It carried a crew of three. The occupants included 2d Lt. Russell G. Sibert, pilot, whose mother, Mrs. Freida Sibert, lives at 2252 Cermak road, Chicago.

Seven Die in Pennsylvania.

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—Seven members of a crew of nine were killed tonight when an army transport plane crashed on the south side of Locust mountain two miles northwest of Tamaqua, Pa., the eastern defense command announced here. The other two crewmen were found wandering dazedly a half mile from the scene. Identity of those killed was withheld until next of kin are notified.

Seven Die in Bomber Crash.

Ephrata, Wash., Nov. 21 (AP).—Seven army airmen were killed last night in the crash of a four engined bomber near Wilson Creek, Wash., the Ephrata army air base public relations office reported today. Four others bailed out and landed safely. Among those killed was Lt. Warren G. Smith of Chicago.

Crash Injuries Fatal.

Camden, S. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Aviation Cadet Tracey E. Peck Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracey E. Peck Sr., Tonkawa, Okla., died today from injuries received in an airplane crash 10 miles south of Hartsville, November 16.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. W. S. Fitch at reception after their marriage.

Miss Nina Demos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Demos of Oak Park, was married in New York Friday to Lt. Col. Willis S. Fitch, head of the aviation cadet section of the army air forces in Washington, D. C. The ceremony was performed by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia at the city hall. Col. Fitch was one of the first 20 aviators on the Italian front in the last war, was wounded in action, and twice decorated. He is the author of "Wings in the Night," published in 1939.

SHIPS COLLIDE OFF DELAWARE; 39 MEN SAVED

Lewes, Del., Nov. 21 (AP).—Two tankers collided early today in a heavy fog off the Delaware capes, and the 4th naval district announced tonight that 39 survivors have been landed here.

The navy said an undetermined number of men are missing. Following the collision one of the ships caught fire. The other, altho damaged, was able to proceed to an unidentified port under its own power.

Red Cross Aids Survivors.

Chairman Raymond R. Atkins of the Lewes chapter, American Red Cross, said his agency had provided underclothing, suits, and topcoats for the survivors, most of whom were wearing little clothing when they reached shore. All wore life jackets. Among those landed were six members of navy gun crews.

The navy said an investigation into the collision was under way, and that the names of casualties would not be announced until the next of kin are notified.

Scene 58 Miles at Sea.

Coast guard rescue boats and planes were sent to the scene, about 58 miles off Cape Henlopen, shortly after the crash occurred about 2 a. m.

Late tonight the navy announced that a tug had the disabled tanker in tow, and fire and watch parties were aboard, fighting several minor blazes. The navy said the fires were under control, and the ship would be salvaged.

Pending completion of its investigation, the navy declined to comment on the cause of the collision. At the time a heavy fog hung over the coastal area, and residents said foghorns were audible all thru the night and during most of today.

LONDON GLOOMY ONE DAY AND ALL OPTIMISM NEXT

Peace Rumors Vie with News of Losses.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—What Nathaniel Gubbins, Sunday Express humorist, described as "a nerve war on the people," continued with unabated intensity in practically all the Sunday papers today. Gubbins mentioned how statesmen and public officials predict "a sudden end to the war one day and warn everybody a hard, bloody struggle is ahead of us on the next."

The News of the World reported "a great Nazi army is in peril from Zhitomir to Nikopol," and quoted military experts as saying, "Rome will be ours by Christmas," while the Sunday Express featured an announcement that Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin, and President Roosevelt are about to complete plans for the final smashup of Germany, the belief being that "Turkey will join in one vast offensive."

Featured also were reports Germany had made a peace offer to the allies thru the Turkish foreign minister and that, altho this bid was supposedly made on behalf of Germany's military leaders, who are said to have promised to withdraw their troops to their own frontiers, liquidate the Nazi party, and hand its leaders over to the allies, it had been rejected as the "unconditional surrender" formula is insisted on.

See Rosy Situation.

Numerous commentators rounded off this optimistic picture by sketches of the devastating effect of the allied bombings on German industry and communications. If one can believe the Sunday Express diplomatic correspondent, the allied picture is so rosy and Germany's collapse is so near that Stalin, Roosevelt, and Churchill are contemplating a dramatic "surrender or take the consequences" call to the German people.

At the same time there has been a revival of sentiment against any weakening of the unconditional surrender demands. "Already Germany is plotting for the next world's war," the public is being told, the conclusion being that Germany's alleged feelers "for a peace with justice to all" constitute a forerunner of such a scheme. United States Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. and Vice President Henry A. Wallace are quoted as the protagonists of these charges.

How much credence is attachable to these optimistic predictions and rumors is hard to tell. The loss of the Island of Leros, the situation in Lebanon, the slow progress in Italy, and even the progress of the Russian offensive have given rise to some skepticism. No satisfactory explanation has yet been made regarding the loss of Leros, and concern is being expressed whether Samos may not suffer the same fate.

Allied Blunder Suspected.

The opinion is strongly held in London that the Germans have disclosed unexpected striking power and that some one in the allied command blundered. Few are willing to believe that the sacrifice of a sizable garrison of picked troops was justifiable under the plea of strategic desirability.

The Lebanon outbreak is also regarded as significant and not as an isolated incident, but as symptomatic of the basic differences between French mandate claims and the British desire to encourage a federation of Arab states.

Worried over Italy.

Dissatisfaction has been growing over the Italian campaign. British military experts even before the invasion of Italy warned against a campaign in which the defenders received every advantage and the attackers none. The military terrain is so honeycombed with rivers that it is like attacking across the parallel bones forming the skeleton of a herring.

The German recapture of Zhitomir also came as a surprise and indicated that even on the Russian front the German armies are far from beaten. The German withdrawal has been much more orderly than had been hoped for. An author of military books who is familiar with the terrain on the Russian front said he believed the Germans plan a withdrawal to the marshes around Brest-Litovsk which would give the German army not only natural defenses but shortened interior lines.

LEATHER STRIKE MAY FACE TEST ON PICKET LINE

Peabody, Mass., Nov. 21 (AP).—Members of the International Fur and Leather Workers [CIO] tonight expressed their readiness to return to work tomorrow even if it would be necessary to pass thru picket lines.

The strike of 2,500 workers in 32 Peabody and Salem plants, now in its 13th day, was brought about by the discharge of two employes. President Roosevelt on Thursday issued a back to work order, but it was disregarded.

James F. Dunn, business agent for the National Leather Workers association, an independent union, said that the 1,800 members of his group had been ordered to appear on the picket lines tomorrow at 5 a. m.

WARN CHURCHILL NOT TO MEDDLE IN '44 ELECTION

a person of any consequence," said Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], "but he certainly made an extremely ill-advised statement to the press, one that can only do great harm to Anglo-American relations. There is no question that Mr. Churchill has thousands of friends in America. He is a great man. He is doing a great job. But you can be assured he never would do what Brooks suggests. He is too smart to get mixed up in our politics.

"I don't know that the President is going to be a candidate but, if he should be, the worst thing that could happen to him would be an attempt by any foreigner to influence the election in his behalf. We are able to run our own elections without foreign interference."

Support to Rumors.

Sen. John A. Danaher [R., Conn.] said he had been hearing for some weeks these rumors of British intentions to swing the 1944 election to Mr. Roosevelt but had dismissed them as preposterous until Wendell Willkie recently in an interview urged Britain not to interfere in American politics. He thought Willkie must know the British plans.

"The British are our friends and allies," said Danaher. "We are collaborating with them in this war for the preservation of America and Britain. Anything that might impair the good relations of the two countries is to be deeply deplored. The British will be well advised not to attempt to take any part in American politics. I am sure that Mr. Churchill would not think of doing so."

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] thought Mr. Roosevelt would never permit so patent a British influence in his behalf to materialize.

"If Churchill should come over here just before the election," said Wheeler, "it would be apparent to the American people that he was doing it for the purpose of influencing the election of the President of the United States. Such a move would be resented by the great mass of the American people. Mr. Roosevelt is too good a politician to want that to happen."

Rep. Clare Hoffman [R., Mich.] said that he was not surprised by the Brooks interview, for the British have worked under cover for years to control the foreign policy of the United States and had succeeded to a remarkable degree in the 10 years that the Roosevelt administration has been in power.

Expects Move to Aid F. D. R.

"One has only to recall outstanding instances," said Hoffman, "to be convinced that the British government will endeavor in every way possible to keep President Roosevelt in office for another four years. In one of his frankest statements shortly after we got into the war, Mr. Churchill said that that was what he had long hoped and prayed and worked for. Long before that Mr. Roosevelt's foreign polisy had been charted by the British. More than a year before Pearl Harbor Mr. Roosevelt had accepted the British dictum expressed by the British ambassador, Lord Lothian, that Britain should guard the interests of America and Britain in the Atlantic, the United States to guard them in the Pacific.

"Only last fall Mr. Churchill tarried after the Quebec conference, coming to Washington and going to Harvard for the address in which he advocated an Anglo-American alliance and a common Anglo-American citizenship, all for the patent purpose of influencing the Republican post-war policy conference being held at the time at Mackinac Island.

"Regard Us as British."

"It may be that the British think they have succeeded so notably in these efforts to influence America in the past that they may now proceed to the selection of our President. It may be that they now regard us if not de jure at least de facto a member of the British empire and that they can now afford to throw off the mask and send Churchill over to tell us that the British want Mr. Roosevelt for another four years.

"If we are no longer the masters of our fate, why go to the expense of an election?"

The influence of Churchill in official Washington has long been recognized and is not denied. When he was here last June he was invited to a meeting of the members of the senate foreign relations committee and the house foreign affairs committee. His advice was sought on numerous questions of American foreign policy. He was asked particularly whether he would advise the adoption of a resolution in congress advocating American participation in international collaboration to preserve peace.

Connally Action Recalled.

He replied that in view of the controversy that such a move would provoke and the possibilities of disturbance of the relations of the allies that would be entailed in ill advised utterances in debate he would advise against the step pending a more favorable juncture of affairs. Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.], chairman of the senate committee, if not influenced by the prime minister, at least agreed with him and for several months thereafter delayed senate action on the question.

At that time the President also took the Churchill view. Not till the Moscow conference loomed in the offing did he change his mind and ask action. Connally complied and the adoption of the Connally resolution soon followed.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] recalled that he recently addressed the senate on British maneuvers to influence the American government and people.

"The Brooks interview," he said, "is merely another circumstance making it perfectly obvious that there is nothing accidental in what is taking place behind the scenes, that there is method in the procedure. It is high time to hoist the storm signals against outside interference in our affairs."

Move Might Boomerang.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.] said that the American people have a high regard for Churchill because he is for Britain first, because "he stands up and battles for the British."

"But the worst thing he could do would be to come over here and interfere in our affairs," Halleck added. "The effect might be the opposite of that intended. Anyway, it is going to take a lot more than British influence to elect Mr. Roosevelt to a fourth term."

Rep. Karl E. Mundt [R., S. D.] said that Brooks misinterpreted the temper of the American people.

Leaves for West

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Lillian Gish, star of the silent screen, left Chicago yesterday aboard the Santa Fe for a lecture tour. The attractive actress, huddled in a racoon coat with a matching snood, said she hadn't realized Chicago became so frigid in November.

CAN'T RECALL HIM HERE

Cecil Brooks, London editor, kept his identity a secret during his Chicago visit, Chicago leaders and British spokesmen said yesterday.

Graham Hutton.

Graham Hutton, director of the middle west division of British information service, with offices in Chicago, said he had never heard of Brooks, and did not believe he visited Chicago.

"I spent 10 years in Fleet street and no one by that name ever worked there," said Hutton. "The trade journal to which he gave the interview is a small publication. If there was anything to his story, why didn't the large London dailies use it? Any one who accepts Brooks' story and takes it seriously will be the fellow who is looking about to create trouble. Churchill is far too clever to try to influence Americans in their voting. This Brooks never visited Chicago or the middle west. I don't see how he would be able to obtain British permission to leave England. It would be impossible for him to travel 10,000 miles without some of us hearing of it. He's an impostor."

Stranger to Consulate Also.

Douglas Flintan, a member of the staff of the British consulate general in Chicago, said he never had heard of Brooks and that he was sure Brooks' visit did not include Chicago. Frank A. Hecht, president of the English Speaking union of Chicago, said that he, too, was unacquainted with Brooks and that if Brooks ever came to Chicago he kept it very quiet.

Gov. Dwight H. Green asserted that if Brooks ever came to Illinois he did not disclose his presence. He said he never had heard of Brooks making visits to Illinois administrative offices.

"He says Americans think, drink, and talk politics and that we are politically mad," said the governor. "He is wrong. Americans are thinking of war and are working night and day for victory."

G. O. P. Aid Resents Meddling.

Werner W. Schroeder, Republican national committeeman for Illinois, said any attempt by the British or any other foreign nation to influence the American people during a Presidential election would be resented by Americans.

"Our elections, and especially the Presidential, are sacred to us," said Schroeder. "We want no foreigners telling us how to run things. I cannot understand how Cecil Brooks acted as he did. His story will create a reaction unfavorable to the British program and to Churchill."

Mayor Edward J. Kelly said Brooks did not visit him. "The story about Churchill trying to influence American voters is ridiculous," he added.

Need No Aid, Says Pastor.

The Rev. Thomas M. Pender, pastor of St. James Methodist church, 46th street and Ellis avenue, said America's affairs belong to Americans, and that we are fully capable of deciding if we need a change without any help from Great Britain.

Rabbi Louis L. Mann, Chicago Sinai congregation, said: "Cecil Brooks is revealing colossal ignorance of opinion prevailing in the United States. Fighting as we are for freedom, we would not, and could not permit any nation, directly or indirectly, to intrude upon our private affairs. What is more, Churchill would be the last man to attempt it."

WILD SHOT KILLS WOMAN.

Sadie Fowler, 35 years old, 4517 Prairie avenue, Negro, was shot and killed yesterday by a wild shot fired in her home during a fight, police said, between Hale Webb, 30, of 703 East 50th street, and Donita Williams, 38, of 4219 Vincennes avenue, both Negroes.

CITATION LAUDS RACINE FLYER'S DARING ON RAID

Racine, Wis., Nov. 21 (AP).—"Jack will take you thru," the briefing officer in North Africa told the pilots bound for the Ploesti oil fields in Rumania, and Maj. Jack Jerstad, 25 years old, of Racine, did just that, altho his plane was in flames with one motor dead 3 miles from the target area.

Maj. Jerstad's last flight—he is reported missing in action—won him the congressional medal of honor, which was presented today to his father, Arthur H. Jerstad, by Brig. Gen. Uzal G. Ent, who also took part in the Aug. 1 assault.

"The citation doesn't tell the entire story," Gen. Ent said. "I'll have to take you back to the day before the raid to a field in North Africa. Combat groups were gathered around Col. Addison Baker, who was giving crews final briefing.

"Some one asked who would be deputy formation leader if anything happened to the lead ship. Col. Baker said: 'We won't have one: Jack will take you thru'."

A citation, signed by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, described Maj. Jerstad's mission:

"Altho he had completed more than his share of missions and no longer was connected with this group, so high was his conception of duty that he volunteered to lead the formation in the correct belief that his part would contribute materially to the success of this attack.

"Three miles from the target his plane was hit, badly damaged and set on fire. Ignoring the fact that he was flying over fields suitable for a forced landing, he kept on the course. After his bombs were released on the target, the fire in his ship became so intense as to make further progress impossible and he crashed into the target area."

North Shore Baptists Raise New Church Fund

The Rev. Dr. Weldon M. Wilson, pastor of North Shore Baptist church, 1311 Berwyn avenue, announced gifts and pledges yesterday totaling $111,960.80 toward a new church to be built after the war. There were 1,084 contributors, he said. When the new church is built, the present edifice will be used as a religious education building. The new church will be a wing to the south of the present church and will seat 1,200 persons. It will cost at least $500,000, he said.

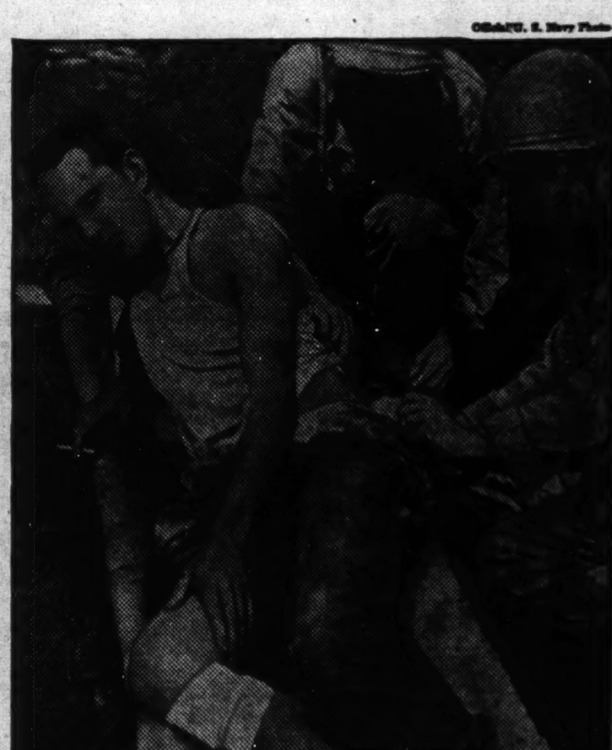
How to Sink a Jap and Save a Yank—At the Same Time

WOULD YOU LIKE TO FEEL that you yourself had a part in the sinking of the Jap cruiser—by our Navy's torpedo bombers in the South Pacific? Then save your used cooking fats and take them to your butcher! For fats make explosives—for shells, bombs, torpedoes. And the next best thing to flying with our Navy pilots is to give them the wherewithal to blow the hated slant-eyes off the seas! But that isn't all—

Official U. S. Navy Photo



THAT SAME PRECIOUS INGREDIENT OF WAR, the spoonful of used fat in your kitchen, can ease the pain of a wounded American as easily as it destroys his enemies. It's needed to make sulfa drugs, for tannic acid to treat powder burns, for the merciful needle of opiate that's given to the badly wounded while they are waiting for surgical care.

These and a hundred other battle uses make our needs of useful cooking fats desperately urgent. Don't let a single drop go to waste, not even the blackest used fat. Save it in a can, not glass. Any kind of can will do. Rush it to your meat dealer when full. Start doing it today, won't you?

CHICAGO YANKS, BACK WOUNDED, TALK ABOUT WAR

Casualties of European Zone Returned.

BY GORDON SCHENDEL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on back page.)

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 21. — A black squirrel, one of the locally numerous descendants of a few imported years ago from Virginia, scampered along a swaying elm bough, then sat up saucily and peered inside a window of the army's mammoth Percy Jones general hospital here.

Corp. Tim Lowry, 28 years old, of 1244 North Dearborn street, Chicago, gazed silently thru the window. Then he passed a hand over his hospital-blanched features.

"You know," he said slowly, "it's disappointing to get to close to Chicago as this, and still not be there."

He hesitated.

Wounded in Italy.

"But it sure is good to be where you're able to get the Notre Dame games on the radio again."

Corp. Lowry, the son of Mrs. Loretta Lowry of Bloomington, Ill., was wounded Sept. 16 in Italy, while in a front line infantry battalion. Fragments of an 88 shell churned thru his left thigh. In civilian life he managed a parking lot in the Chicago loop.

He is among the Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan casualties from the Mediterranean war theater brought here last week.

He was asked if he lay on the battlefield long before he was picked up.

"O, no," he replied. "Just 6½ hours. The fighting was pretty tough there, and we had to wait until the battle line moved ahead. It didn't seem long."

Move Fast "Over There."

"You know," spoke up a man from an adjoining bed, "that's the biggest difference I notice back here. Things seem to move so much more slowly." He grinned. "On the other side they sure move fast!"

The second speaker was Staff Sgt. Robert Layhe, 36 years old, of 4532 Harrison street, Chicago. Layhe, who was an electrician in civilian life, has his right leg amputated above the knee. He was a waist gunner in a Martin Marauder bomber that got caught in a burst of German anti-aircraft fire above Tunis. Only the pilot escaped death or injury.

"I remember one time we were flying in formation over Bizerte," he said. "I was watching one of our ships flying a short distance away, on our left. There was a burst of smoke, and that ship just disappeared. . . . Two minutes later another one of our bombers, on our right ,also disappeared in a cloud of smoke."

Bomb Bays Hit.

". . . Yeah?" interjected another man, three beds away. "What happened?"

"German anti-aircraft fire hit their bomb bays. Their entire bomb loads exploded in the air."

"Hmmm . . ." observed the other. "Guess we infantrymen aren't the only ones who get it quick."

The speaker, Pvt. Michael Fitzmaurice, 38 years old, of 325 South Whipple street, Chicago, just that day had a cast, reaching from beneath his arms to his hips, removed. He was celebrating by sitting up. His back had been injured by concussion from a big shell in Sicily.

"But we had fun in the air," continued Sgt. Layhe. "Remember how you used to skip flat pebbles across the lake when you were a kid?"

Dive at 250 M. P. H.

"Well, that's the way we used to skip bombs at the German convoys running between Africa and Italy, when Rommel still was going strong in Tunisia.

"We'd dive at a ship at 250 miles an hour, and when we got to within 100 feet of the water, we'd drop our 500-pounders. They wouldn't fall far enough to straighten out, so they'd skip across the water on their side, toward the ship.

"If they 'connected,' they'd go straight thru the ship's armor, explode inside, and blow its guts out! . . . If they missed, we'd rake the ship's anti-aircraft crew with our machine-guns, and then our pals behind us would have clear sailing for their try at 'skipping'."

"Sounds like fun," admitted Pvt. Frank Glowacki, across the ward. Glowacki, 28 years old, of 347 East 26th street, Chicago Heights, is being treated for shrapnel wounds in his left thigh, received during the second day of the Italian invasion, south of Salerno.

"It was fun!" agreed Aerial Gunner Layhe. "You never knew when one of those bombs wouldn't bounce straight up instead, and hit the plane."

STEAL 286 COMMUTER TICKETS.

Mrs. Eleanor Blue, 1621 Linden road, Homewood, reported to Grand Crossing police yesterday that when she arrived for work at the Illinois Central station at 71st and Jeffery avenue she found burglars had broken into the ticket taker's cage and stole a ticket dater and 286 10 and 12 ride tickets.

Weinberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Weinberg, 4625 Drexel boulevard. Mrs. Marie Wilson, 2041 North Lockwood avenue, received the award in behalf of her husband. Presentations were made by Lt. Col. ASK FREE PRESS GUARANTEE IN PEACE TREATY

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 21 (AP).—A recent proposal by Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, that guarantees of freedom of the press be included in the peace treaties as a preventive of future wars was praised today in a column-long editorial in the Correio Damanha, a leading morning newspaper here. It said:

"The Italians, who perhaps believed what the Gaydas of Fascism told them and who lived a poisoned life during the long night of darkness while there existed a regime of systematic sabotage of the truth, will know how to appraise better than any one else the significance of the assertions which Mr. Cooper pleads for newspapers and newspaper men all over the world."

The liberal morning newspaper Dairio Carioca likewise approved the proposal, saying, "The thesis upheld by the American newspaper man is one which from the first wins general support."

"Victory by democracy will not be a mockery," it said. "Freedom of the press must be one of the greatest gains of the victory over Nazi-Fascism."

HUNT CONTINUES IN 2 STATES FOR SCHEINE SLAYER

Illinois and Indiana state police were conducting a wide search yesterday for the slayer of Jack Scheine, a Chicago herb salesman, whose body was found in a creek bed 16 miles east of Fort Wayne, Ind., Friday. Scheine had been shot thru the head and his blood-stained automobile was found abandoned near the center of the Fort Wayne business district. Police said his wallet, containing about $60, was missing. Scheine, who was en route to New York, was last seen Thursday night in company with a man dressed in a marine uniform, on which was a Guadalcanal service stripe.

FAIL TO IDENTIFY YANK AS ESCORT FOR GIRL SLAIN

Witness Jolts Clew Based on Serial Number.

BY JOSEPH CERUTTI.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Michael Pihosh, 22 year old United States army sergeant, still was unidentified at the end of five days of hearings today as having been seen in the company of Louisa Price, Auxiliary Territorial service private, whom he is accused of killing by battering in her head with a stone. Pihosh is on trial in a United States court martial in an American camp in the west midlands.

Five witnesses called by the defense again gave evidence to prove that "drunks" abounded at the Forest Glen dance pavilion the night before the 18 year old girl's semi-stripped body was found in undergrowth nearby.

Many Forced to Stand.

Today the courtroom in the officers' club was filled to capacity by spectators, many of whom were women, and many had to stand. Most of the time Pihosh, of Cleveland, O., sat apparently unconcerned with both hands in his pockets.

Because a blood stained khaki handkerchief bearing the last five numbers of Pihosh's army serial numbers was found near the body, the defense today called Staff Sgt. Albert E. Moore to tell of the difficulties which arose when the men included in their own bundles articles from buddies who had more than the quota of soiled clothes. This sometimes caused confusion since the laundry stamped the articles with the last five figures of the regimental number of the man owning the bundle.

First Lt. A. Pelton described Pihosh as "drunk as a lord" on the night of the dance. He added that Pihosh had the reputation of being a good drinker, but this did not interfere with his duties.

"Cookhouse Slim" Testifies.

M. L. Stanley, an American soldier who has been referred to thruout the case as "Cookhouse Slim," said he had had dates with the dead girl but did not see her at the dance, and did not see Pihosh talking or dancing with her. "Slim," popular with the ATS girls, spent most of the time talking with them while waiting to give evidence.

Corp. Fred Sharp testified he bought Miss Price two or three glasses of beer. Sgt. John Keith testified that Pihosh had nearly a half pint of liquor with him about 9 p. m.

RUSSIAN PAPER DEFENDS ACTION UPON RELIGION

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 (AP).—The magazine, "War and the Working Class," answering foreign press comment on the election of Metropolitan Sergei of Moscow as patriarch of all Russia and reconstitution of the holy synod, implied today there was no change in the formal position of the soviet government, whose constitution guarantees freedom of religion.

Both events, it said, "very clearly refute the slanderous inventions of the fascists and their agents about persecution of religion and the church in the soviet union on one hand and, on the other hand, confirm and emphasize the fact that during the war the Russian church decisively took the side of the people in defending the country from the German invaders."

The article criticized some American, English, and Australian newspapers which, it said, "understood this event not as a change in the church's position as a result of the general patriotic exultation of the people, but presume this is due to a change in the soviet government's attitude toward religion."

YALE PROFESSOR HOLDS SPENDING ORGY U. S. PERIL

Fred R. Fairchild, professor of political economy at Yale university, said last night that chances are "touch and go" for maintaining the fiscal solvency of the United States in the face of a possible 280 billion dollar debt after the war. He spoke at a conference in the Palmer House sponsored by the National Tax association.

"Nothing will, I am convinced, save us unless we promptly restore the balance of our national budget," Fairchild said.

He asserted it essential to begin repayment of the debt, criticized "the false doctrine of perpetual debt," and declared that once government is granted unlimited expenditure of borrowed money, "we set the clear signal on the road to the totalitarian state."

CHURCH COUNCIL DEMANDS BETTER SEX BEHAVIOR

New York, Nov. 21. (AP).—The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America appealed to "molders of public opinion" today to join in a nation-wide program to halt what it called the "widespread lowering of sex standards."

In a statement which characterized the "upholding of the highest standards of sex behavior" as a primary essential in the national welfare, the federal council said:

"We appeal to educators, artists, authors, publishers, the press, the motion picture industry, the broadcasting interests, and all other makers of public opinion to recognize with us a great national responsibility for upholding high standards of conduct in the relations between the sexes, and for preparing youth to be builders of the future homes of America."

Protests Sensuality.

The council protested the "exploiting" in newspapers or magazines of material "which degrades thought and emotions."

"We protest also," the statement said, "against the portrayal of the human body in ways that are sensually provocative and which detract from the reverence in which men and women should be held as creators of homes and guardians of the sacredness of family life."

Spread of veneral diseases thru sexual promiscuity and commercialized protitution has rendered "millions of American men and women unable to serve their country as they ought," the council said in demanding strict enforcement of laws "against this treacherous evil."

Stress Family Influence.

Asserting that the essential strength and well-being of the nation depend on the home, the council's statement said:

"We urge that understanding of family relationships and loyalty to family ties be universally inculcated, and the religious significance of family life so emphasized that even out of this world catastrophe of war, secure family life may emerge as a firm foundation for the rebuilding of the world."

Train Ferry in Danish Isles Smashed by Bombs

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The Nazi controled Danish radio said today that one of the two train ferries which ply the Storebaelt, the narrow stretch of water which separates the Danish Islands of Sjaelland and Fyn, has been so severely damaged by time bombs that a full year would be required for repairs. The ferry routes are important military links between Copenhagen, on Sjaelland, and Jutland.

Millions of good American families like the Walter Petersons, 1 School St., Wayne, Ill., these busy war days are getting a lot of fun out of working and saving. You can plan as they do for a secure and comfortable future in the Post War World.

What do You Want in Your Personal Post War World?

Help make hopes come true by doing these 7 Practical Things now

WALTER PETERSON is doing an essential war job, but he doesn't think for a minute that his responsibilities end there.

He's looking ahead—to the personal benefits he wants in the peace to follow Victory. He's starting now, working and planning for those good things of life for which folks in our land have always been willing to work, fight and save. Many of us are already following his course—all of us can follow it.

Here are seven practical things our Government suggests that we can all do now to win the future benefits we want to enjoy:

1. Buy and hold war bonds—to lend our country the money it needs now to fight the war to Victory.
2. Pay willingly your share of taxes—including increased taxes—that our country needs.
3. Provide for your own and your family's future by adequate life insurance and savings.
4. Reduce your debts as much as possible and avoid making needless new ones.
5. Buy only what you need and make what you have last longer.
6. Live faithfully by the rationing rules to conserve goods of which there are shortages.
7. Cooperate with our Government's price and wage stabilization program.

That's the American way of hard work and thrift. It means a long look ahead to a future rich in the comforts of American living. It also means a great deal for all of us right now:::

For by saving more and spending less, by doing all the seven things that this plan of action calls for, we do something very practical and effective to hold down the cost of living.

So let's all get together to put our money usefully to work—helping to win the war, to keep the "lid" on prices, and to provide for the kind of future we want in the Post War World. A practical way to get started is to work out a budget, using the form shown here.

• • •

AMERICA'S LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES bring you this plan of action not only to help you to win the kind of future you want, but to urge you to join wholeheartedly with all loyal Americans to keep down living costs during these critical war days.

By acquiring life insurance, with the guidance of their life insurance agents, 67 million policyholders have already joined together in taking one of the effective steps our Government suggests.

Remember that the premiums you pay for your life insurance are also helping to pay for the war—for a large part of them are invested in Government bonds.

MAKE US MAN'S EQUAL, CARACAS WOMEN DEMAND

Street Corner Shooting Speeds Up Campaign.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Nov. 21 (AP).—A street corner shooting match in which a Caracas woman wounded her one time lover has resulted in a widespread campaign by Venezuelan women for greater marital fidelity from their men and is but one more indication that the women of this South American country are demanding the same rights accorded men.

In Venezuela, as in most Latin countries, it is the woman who pays, and when Mercedes Garcia, 26 years old, aimed a fusillade of pistol shots at her one time boy friend several weeks ago, the ladies of Caracas got busy with their denunciations. But in this case they condemned the practice which permitted the double standard of morality to continue.

Two Shots Hit Mark.

The gun play occurred on one of Caracas' main street corners. Senorita Garcia walked up to her former lover, a dentist, and after a brief conversation, whipped out a revolver and began shooting. Two of the five shots slightly wounded the man in the case.

Senorita Garcia disclosed that she had lived with the dentist for seven years. Finally, she said, he tired of her and began chasing another woman.

Mercedes' jealousy, typically enough in Latin countries, did not extend to the dentist's wife, who up to this time has not entered the picture except in a newspaper article written by a woman journalist. This writer took Venezuelan women to task for allowing the double standard of morality to continue. Why, she asked, had not the wife in the case fought to prevent her husband from philandering? The lady journalist said it would have been much better if the wife had done the shooting instead of the mistress.

Lady Lawyer Has Her Say.

Senorita Garcia is being held in jail while her case is investigated and representing her is one of this country's first woman attorneys, Amalia Perez Perozo.

Senorita Perez Perozo showed a singular lack of sorrow for the victim, or for men in general, when she boldly—for a Venezuelan woman—told a reporter:

"As a woman I will give you my opinion. The attitude of Mercedes Garcia is a good lesson for those married men who, turning their back on their hearths, dedicate themselves to disturbing women who, lacking affection or by necessity, are easy prey to their assaults."

Other Ladies Speak Up.

The Mercedes Garcia case has brought to the front the increasing demands by Venezuelan women for the same rights men have. Recently, for the first time in Venezuelan history, a woman accused her husband in a criminal court of adultery. A shop girl swore out a complaint against her boss, claiming he kicked her in a moment of vexation. A police official was roundly criticized by the newspapers and various organizations for his attitude toward a girl reporter. In short, Venezuelan womanhood has begun to demand its rights. It is possible that women in Venezuelan will even campaign for the right to vote.

DR. LANDS FACES JURORS TODAY IN TYLER MYSTERY

Dr. Victor Lands, resident physician at the Wesley Memorial hospital, will be called before the grand jury this afternoon in connection with its investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of Marjorie Tyler, 29 year old secretary who died in County hospital a week ago. Dr. Lands at previous hearings has admitted fasifying hospital records to conceal the nature of her death.

Miss Tyler was found by Dr. Lands in her gas filled apartment at 223 East Superior street after she had been missing for two days from the offices of Dr. Raymond W. McNealy, for whom she worked as secretary. Dr. McNealy, who is chief of staff of County hospital and chief surgeon of the Wesley Memorial hospital, was on a boar hunt in Tennessee at the time.

At least one other person, Miss Helen Pack, 321 Belden avenue, will be heard before the jury concludes its investigation. An inquest will be conducted in Yorkville, Kendall county, next Friday by Coroner Lyman A. Perkins, who swore in a jury in Plano, the girl's home.

STATE TO SHIFT PENSION BURDEN UPON CHILDREN

IPAC Opens Program in Chicago Today.

The Illinois public aid commission will begin today a program whereby financially competent sons and daughters of persons receiving old age pensions will be required to help pay their parents' expenses. The plan is expected to reduce the commission disbursements by several million dollars a year. Each person receiving a pension will be required to prove his need.

The new program goes into operation today in the designated Cook county area, all that section of Chicago north of North avenue, Joseph L. Moss, director of the Cook county bureau of public welfare, reported. This district had 13,686 old age pensioners in October. They received grants totaling $450,670. The total old age pension disbursement for the county in September was $1,660,433, Moss said.

Grants in Other Areas.

In the other test areas, October grants totaled $792,241 to 25,519 persons. In La Salle county, 1,446 persons received $38,217; in Montgomery county 1,513 received $42,474; in St. Clair, 3,794 received $102,292; in Vermilion, 2,662 received $72,884; in White, 728 persons were given $15,518; in Winnebago, 1,690 were granted $51,186.

The commission has drawn up a table of payments recommended to be made by sons and daughters in proportion of their incomes and number of their dependents. For example, in the monthly wage group of $170 to $179, a single man would be expected to contribute $29 a month; a man with a wife, $15; with a wife and one child, $7.50, and a wife and two children, $2.50.

This table will serve only as a guide, however, Hilliard said, and local authorities will be authorized to make adjustments when proof is given that such payments would work hardships.

"Under this program," said Raymond M. Hilliard, secretary of the commission, "recipients of pension grants who feel a need for continuance of this assistance will be asked to furnish statements of their present income and assets, together with names, places of employment, and incomes of their children. Each child then will be asked to submit an itemized statement of income and assets so that ability to assist parents can be determined."

Children Now Making Money.

Preliminary studies, the secretary said, indicate that many pensioners were in need of aid when they applied, but are no longer so because their children are making more money now.

The commission served notice of its intention to require payments by financially competent sons and daughters when it recently sued a St. Clair county grocer for $700 that the state had paid in pensions to the grocer's mother while he was able to care for her. The grocer paid.

LAUNCH GUAM, SECOND ALASKA CLASS CRUISER

Camden, N. J., Nov. 21 (AP).—The U. S. S. Guam, second of a class described by the navy as heavy cruisers, was launched today at the New York Shipbuilding corporation. She is a sister ship of the Alaska, launched at the same yard Aug. 15.

Jane's Fighting Ships lists the Alaska class as of 27,000 tons displacement, designed to carry six 14 inch guns in three turrets and 16 5 inch guns. Six of the class were ordered in 1940, but Jane's says it is uncertain whether more than two will be built.

Mrs. George Johnson McMillin, wife of the governor of Guam, who is a prisoner of the enemy, sponsored the ship. Aiding her were the wives of Gov. McMillin's two aides, Comdr. Donald Giles and Capt. Charles Todd, U. S. M. C., both also prisoners of the Japanese.

NAVY FLIGHT 26 FIGHTS FOE ON 2 SIDES OF WORLD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—By smashing the axis on both sides of the world, fighting squadron 26 in 15 months won unit commendations from the air commander at Guadacanal, the commander of the Southwest Pacific fleet, and the commander of North African invasion operations. In announcing this today, the navy said the squadron is the first naval aviation command identified as having fought in both the Pacific and European theaters.

When allied forces stormed into North Africa Nov. 8, 1942, squadron 26 strafed tank and supply columns, attacked armored cars and troops, and battled enemy planes in the air. Eight months later when the current Solomons Islands offensive opened, fighting 26 again was on deck. Its men intercepted and repelled enemy planes which sought to halt the capture of the Japanese air field at Munda on New Georgia Island.

Formed in May, 1942, the fighting squadron, the navy said, was disbanded Sept. 2, 1943. Three of its members failed to return from combat duty. One was killed. Its commanding officer was Lt. Cmdr. William E. Ellis, Burlington, N. C.

NAME BUROCRAT TO PRESS CIO'S POLITICAL DRIVE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 [Special].—C. B. Baldwin, 41 years old, former administrator of the farm security administration, will become assistant to Sidney Hillman, chairman of the political action committee of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Hillman announced the appointment today and said the committee is "mobilizing labor's forces for political action on a national scale." Since he quit the FSA in September Baldwin has held a state department job as area director in charge of economic operations in Italy. He plans to resign this post Tuesday.

Baldwin has been a leading New Deal burocrat since 1933 when he came to Washington from Radvord, Va., as personal assistant to Henry A. Wallace in the department of agriculture. Before moving to FSA he was assistant to Rexford Guy Tugwell in the resettlement administration. His advocacy of FSA's experiments in collective farming brought a charge that he is a Communist by Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], in the senate last year.

NEWSPAPER MEN DEMAND LIBERTY FOR PUERTO RICO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 21.—Puerto Rico's first newspaper men's convention ended last night with a flaming resolution against American colonial rule. The resolution said the island's demand for a government of its own choosing could no longer be sidetracked by the United States.

The Puerto Rican people must be allowed to decide by a vote the form of government they want in the Union or as an independent republic, the newspaper men demanded.

The convention agreed that President Roosevelt's proposal for an elective government was all right for the emergency but was not acceptable as a substitute for the people's decision. "It means less colonialism, but still colonialism," was the verdict.

Scene in Civil War Days

THERE wasn't much of the present U. S. A. mapped in the geographies back on November 20, 1850, when the first train steamed forth on what today is part of The Milwaukee Road.

Many of our mighty cities of the west and northwest were then mere outposts. And eleven years were to pass before the war between the States began.

The little five-mile railroad of 1850 has grown into an 11,000-mile transcontinental transportation system. Through wars and rumors of wars, depressions and years of great development and prosperity, The Milwaukee Road has written its share of American history.

Today all that our free America means is being challenged. And we of The Milwaukee Road, in concert with the rest of the nation, are helping to fling back that challenge.

We are being called on to move more and more freight and passengers every day. We are keeping vital war traffic flowing uninterruptedly over our long supply line from the east and middle west to Washington and Oregon ports—and through the Omaha and Kansas City gateways to California and Texas ports.

Our friends and patrons—both passengers and shippers—are co-operating to the limit. They, as well as we, know the urgency of the situation and the importance of the job we all have to do.

SENATOR WARNS LIQUOR INDUSTRY TO CLEAN HOUSE

'Get Wise' or Dry Law Will Return, Says Reynolds.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—A return of national prohibition unless the liquor industry starts a housecleaning immediately was predicted tonight by Sen. Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.] on the eve of a senate subcommittee's investigation into the retail liquor shortage.

Robert R. Reynolds.

Reynolds suggested that during the investigation manufacturers, wholesale and retail distributors, and hotel operators had "better get busy on their own account."

Reynolds, who first came to the senate on a platform calling for repeal of the 18th amendment, has said he would not seek reëlection.

Meanwhile, Sen. Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.], chairman of the judiciary subcommittee, called a meeting of the group for tomorrow.

RIVERSIDE PAYS HONOR TO FLYER LOST YEAR AGO

Mrs. Jean McDowell of the Oak Park Arms hotel has received official notice from the war department that her husband, Capt. Homer C. McDowell Jr., who disappeared on a flight over Greenland more than a year ago, must now be presumed to be dead.

Capt. H. C. McDowell.

Memorial services were held yesterday in the First Presbyterian church of Riverside. Services were attended by friends, officials, and former fellow flyers of the United Air Lines.

Capt. McDowell, 29 years old, and a former ace pilot of the air lines, was a member of the army air transport command. He was last seen alive on Nov. 5, 1942. Somewhere over Greenland he crashed.

6 MILLION ESTATE IS STAKE IN N. Y. SLAYING TRIAL!

New York, Nov. 21 [Special].—Disposition of the $6,000,000 fortune of Mrs. Patricia Burton Lonergan, 22 year old heiress who was beaten to death last month in her Beekman Hill apartment, will be an underlying issue tomorrow when her husband, Wayne, is arraigned on a first degree murder indictment.

This was explained today by Edward V. Broderick, chief defense counsel, who said that under New York law a husband is entitled to one-third of his wife's estate even if disinherited by will. He said conviction of first degree murder would bar Lonergan from inheritance, but Lonergan would have a good chance of acquiring title to one-third of the estate if found insane or permitted to plead guilty to second degree murder.

The young Canadian air force enlistee, who has confessed wielding the candlestick with which his wife was slain, will plead not guilty when arraigned in general sessions court.

40,000 Ex-Convicts in Army, Report Shows

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—Approximately 40,000 ex-prisoners are now serving in the army, Maury Maverick, director of the government division of the war production board, disclosed today in making public his report on prisons in war time.

NO BOTHER TO REDUCE

New Vitamin Way!

Thousands Lose Lbs. of Ugly Fat and Feel Better

Would you like to get rid of that ugly flabby fat that spoils your figure and is so annoying? Of course. Everyone does. But now you can reduce without going hungry, without giving up a single type of food—and without resorting to drugs, exercise or dangerous starvation diets.

All you have to do is this. Eat a light breakfast, starting off with 2 teaspoons of VEE-MOR in a glass of any fruit juice. Have your regular dinner or supper. But here's the trick. For lunch, however, take 2 teaspoons of VEE-MOR in a glassful of fruit or vegetable juice, or any other suitable beverage. With it, if you wish, take a cup of tea or coffee, and that's all. It is pleasant and enjoyable, and notice how it satisfies your appetite. The important thing, however, is that it supplies Vitamins A, B, D, G and other B complex factors, as well as calcium, phosphorus and strength-building proteins in sizable quantities and in a way that keeps up your strength and energy while foregoing the food you normally take for lunch. VEE-MOR helps the body use up its own fat.

Thousands who have tried it are delighted with the way pounds slip away, all without any bother or feeling that you are starving yourself to death. Test VEE-MOR for 10 days. If it doesn't produce satisfactory results, bring back the unused portion and every penny of your money will be returned.

STRIKE THREAT BY LEWIS UNION IN N. Y. SCHOOLS

New York, Nov. 21 [Special].—A general strike in all New York City schools where the wage demands of local 112 of the school custodial workers are not met will go into effect Dec. 1, Leon Zwicker, regional director of the United Construction Workers, with which local 112 is affiliated, announced today. The construction workers are a part of district 50 of the United Mine Workers, headed by John L. Lewis.

Zwicker said that Lewis had assured the custodial workers of the support of the parent body.

More than 2,300 of the 3,000 custodial employes in the city's 800 elementary and high schools, Zwicker estimated, were members of local 112. He ridiculed the contention of local 74 of the Building Service Employes union, AFL, that it represented the employes.

dealer had no records of his transactions and therefore they wanted mine.

Dated Slip August.

"All I had was a sales slip, undated and unsigned, showing I sold chickens for 30 cents a pound. The OPA man asked me when this sale took place and I told him I didn't remember. He asked if it happened in August and I replied that it might but I didn't honestly know.

"Then he said, 'Well, we will make the date August' and then he had me sign the statement. A few days later we got a letter informing us we owed the government $50."

Vernon Olson, the husband, went to the Peoria office where, he said, the enforcement attorney, Robert Marks, compromised the case for $13.75.

A. S. Stewart, Thawville, was another victim. The agent got a statement from his wife under the same pretenses and this time the letter from the district office merely requested Stewart to come in and discuss his sale of chickens over the ceiling price.

Paid $30 Damages.

"I got the impression from the way Marks talked to me that it would be much better to settle the affair quickly as the OPA had the right to start criminal proceedings against me with a fine up to $10,000," said Stewart.

Marks denied giving Stewart such an impression. Stewart settled by paying damages amounting to $30.03.

Ray Danforth, poultry dealer in Onarga to whom the farmers sold their chickens, declared the agent had acquired the names of the farmers from his records.

"He told me he merely wanted to help me set my records straight and did not mention the possibility of a violation or fine," Danforth declared.

Say No Profit Possible.

"There has been no action against me so far," he said, "but the OPA has been picking out these farmers and penalizing them."

Both Danforth and W. C. Healey, a poultry dealer in Loda, declared the present ceilings on poultry made a profit for the farmer impossible.

"With the high cost of feed and labor, the farmers are losing money in the chicken business. Many have told me they will cut down their production because of it. Continual inquiry by OPA agents hasn't helped their attitude. My own books have been surveyed four times in less than a year by investigators," Healey said.

Charge Buck Passing.

OPA officials in Peoria have admitted it has become a practice for poultry dealers to claim they have been forced by producers to pay more than ceiling prices for chickens, thus passing the blame.

The farmers assert the dealers offer them more than ceiling prices and they accept as, without the few additional cents per pound, their operations would be at a loss and they would have to stop production when the government is calling for increased output.

7 FROM HOUSE END TOUR OF ARMY AIR BASES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—A seven man house military affairs subcommittee has returned from a 14,500 mile tour of army air bases in Central and South America and in the Caribbean area during the last two and a half weeks.

To avoid piecemeal disclosure of the committee's findings, Rep. Overton Brooks [D., La.] said tonight, the group agreed not to divulge anything individually until the committee's report is completed. "We visited Mexico, Central America, Panama, the northern part of South America, and went down the east coast as far as Rio de Janeiro," he said.

Morale of soldiers at the bases is good, Brooks said. Other members of the subcommittee are Chairman Matthew Merritt [D., N. Y.], John M. Costello [D., Cal.], Robert L. Sikes [D., Fla.], Carl T. Durham [D., N. C.], Arthur Winstead [D., Miss.], J. Leroy Johnson [R., Cal.], and Dewey Short [R., Mo.].

DAIRY ATTORNEY CHARGES LEGAL TRICKERY BY OPA

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 21 [Special].—Accusing office of price administration attorneys of violating standards of professional conduct by going into federal court in South Bend, Ind., to obtain a restraining order against the J. D. Roszell company dairy, John E. Cassidy, attorney for the firm, has filed a motion to dissolve the order.

When OPA attorneys first filed their motion here for an injunction on Nov. 2, Cassidy said, they met with him and Federal Judge LeRoy Adair and all agreed to a hearing on Nov. 18. Cassidy asserts the OPA attorneys went to South Bend on Nov. 17, without notifying him as is required by court rules, and obtained a restraining order enjoining the dairy from paying more than OPA maximum prices and from continuing "better service award" payments to milk haulers.

Cassidy is now asking the court to dissolve the restraining order. He said the OPA attorneys involved were John F. Manierre and Fred J. Keefe. A hearing is likely in federal court here Tuesday.

To those who Wonder

"They're off again, Granddad . . . See how clean and easy they leave the ground . . ."
"It's their great power, lad . . . power of nearly 5,000 horses harnessed to their wings . . . power that is changing the whole world."
"How, Granddad? Why will it change the world?"

As a flight of Flying Fortresses roars into an English sky, the wonderment of a child voices the question that people all over the earth are asking today.

For a great power is spreading throughout the world as a result of war. It is power that will shorten this war . . . power that can change and better the lives of people all over the earth when the war is won.

It is the power of the modern airplane engine.

Today, Wright Cyclone engines are carrying men, materials, and air might into every corner of the world . . . helping to win the objectives of our flyers and fighting men . . . matching their skill with amazing feats of endurance.

Wright Cyclones are demonstrating their stamina and dependability on 42 different types of American planes. On every Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress, best known of all heavy bombers. On every North American B-25 Mitchell, famed for bombing Tokyo. They power the Douglas A-20 Havoc, the plane of more than 30 tactical uses, and the Grumman TBF Avenger, the United States Navy's deadly torpedo bomber.

Combat, transportation, communication—these are the vital wartime jobs of aircraft engine power. But out of its work of war great good is coming. A new age is opening—an age of air trade and transportation, and closer understanding among the peoples of all nations.

This is the power that is changing the world . . . power produced by American men and women working together in freedom. The promise it holds for a better life is the finest ever offered to man . . .

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1943: By William MacLeod Raine)

SYNOPSIS: At the funeral of Stuart Lane, the presence of Austin Reynolds, cattleman, is resented by the rustlers who accuse him of ambushing Lane. Jess Blackburn tries to incite the men to violence, but Neal MacGowan, who plays a lone hand, implies Blackburn is swayed by a personal grievance, and averts trouble. Reynolds is not grateful, and accuses Neal of being the leader of the cattle thieves and outlaws. Neal is regarded as a renegade by the other cattlemen. From Janet Lane, Neals learns her father had no personal enemies, but on returning from Squaw creek, where he had cut a box elder, he was unusually absorbed. Tracing the tracks of Lane's wagon, Neal finds tracks of four horses heading for Rustlers' Gap. The Sheridan stage had been held up by four or five men and the messenger killed the day before Lane was murdered. The warning, "Cow Thieves Beware," found on Lane, is the warning used by detectives of the Cattlemen's association. Neal follows the tracks to the gap, talks to Allan Dunn and Jess Blackburn, and discovers Nelson Gurley has been hurt and his horse shot. In the anxiety to incriminate Reynolds, Jess Blackburn casts suspicion upon himself and his associates. Neal visits Reynolds, questions him about Lane, and asks if he will vote for Janet Lane for school teacher. Eleanor, Reynold's sister, invites him into their home, and tho her inferences are insulting to Neal, she is attracted.

DOCTOR'S REVELATION.

"You'll not forget about Janet Lane," Neal reminded his host.

"I'll not forget," Austin replied.

"What about her?" Eleanor asked.

"She wants to teach the school this fall."

Her gaze shifted to MacGowan. "They say she is very pretty."

"Pretty isn't the word," he replied. "She's too thin, and she is a grave young person. Carries too many worries. But there is a shy loveliness about her."

"I think I'll go see her," Eleanor said.

"You'd better come with me," her brother suggested. "I want to have a talk with her."

"I wish you would," Neal urged the young woman. "She needs a girl friend."

It was evening, and Sundog's gambling houses and dance halls had awakened to activity.

A dozen men greeted MacGowan as he passed. He was liked because of his devil-may-care camaraderie. They approved of him as a liberal spender, a bold plunger at faro and poker, and for the casual good will that ran at times to generosity.

Neither faro nor poker held any temptation for Neal this night. He turned from Trail's End to a side street and stopped before an adobe one story building which bore the sign in the window,

Doctor Alpheus Seneca,
Physician and Surgeon.

There was a light in the room and he knocked on the door. Answering the invitation to enter, he walked into an office where a plump redfaced man sat with his feet on a desk pretending to read the Sundog Sentinel. Back of a pile of medical books Neal glimpsed an imperfectly hidden glass containing whiskey.

Seneca was usually a cheerful optimist, but he looked at his visitor with no evidence of being glad to see him. "If you've come to get me to go out to the K-B to set a broken leg for one of your dumb riders——," he began.

"I haven't," Neal interrupted. He drew up a chair, and his boots joined those of the doctor on the desk. "You needn't bother hiding that glass, Doc. I saw a man take a drink once before."

"It's these women," he complained. "They claim I drink too much, and they're always busting in here with a kid who has to have a tooth pulled or a boil lanced."

"They're probably dead right about you drinking too much," Neal said with a grin, "but I hasten to announce it's none of my business."

"Nor theirs either, long as I give satisfactory service," Seneca growled. "I haven't been drunk since seven years ago Christmas. After a fellow has ridden forty miles, about half the way over rough trails, he's entitled to take a drink or two when he gets back."

Seneca had been getting another glass from the drawer, but he stopped to glare at his guest with surprised suspicion. "Who said anything about Rustlers' Gap?" he demanded.

"Why, I did. Wasn't that where you were today—looking after Nels Gurley's gunshot wound?"

"Where did you get that crazy idea?" the doctor rasped irritably.

"If you'll ask the high moguls of the Cattlemen's association they'll tell you that I'm the big boss of the Gap," Neal explained amiably. "I'm supposed to know everything that goes on there."

"Hmp! Fine business. I'm to keep my trap shut, or it will be too bad for me. But they can shout it all over Wyoming. I don't like any part of this, MacGowan. They took me up there to look after a man who had broken his ankle. So they said. And it turned out he's been shot. Who plugged him? Fact is, I don't like your friends."

"Third time today I've been told Blackburn's crowd are my friends," Neal said. "Jess himself did not mention it to me when I saw him. Maybe he has a different idea about it. You've sure enough got your tail in a crack, Doc. What you would like to do is tell the sheriff of your suspicions. Don't do it. Cullen wouldn't lift a hand against the Rustlers' Gap outfit. That wouldn't be good politics. But he would certainly let them know what you had told him. Sit tight, and be a clam. It might be that somebody else would open the door and let your tail out."

"Who?" Seneca wanted to know. "If Sheriff Cullen don't do his duty——"

The doctor looked hard at the lean bronzed cleancut face of MacGowan. He liked this young man in spite of his reputation. Seneca had friends in both factions. He did not need to be told that the big cattle outfits thought Neal too friendly with the thieves preying on their stock, in fact too sympathetic toward outlaws in general—and certainly a great deal too insolent.

The doctor's gesture was in the nature of an apology. He shoved the bottle and a glass at his guest. "Have a drink," he said. "And talk more about this doggoned idiot who is going to get my tail out of the crack. How does he aim to do it?"

"You're better off without knowing that." Neal looked at Seneca with level inquiring eyes. "Can you answer a question and forget that I ever asked it?"

"Maybe so. I live under my own hat mostly."

"What sort of a wound has Gurley?" the cattleman queried.

The eyes of the two men locked in a long silence.

"I told you a fact," the doctor replied. "You're making the deduction."

"I've forgotten you told me." Neal rose, then hesitated for a long time, drumming with his fingertips on the desk. "I'm going to give you some advice, Doctor, after telling you something you ought to know. My opinion is that the stage robbers shot Stuart Lane because he knew too much—found out what he knew by chance. But he didn't know as much as you do about this business. What man in town do you trust most?"

VIRKUS ASSAILS U.S. SQUEEZE ON SMALL DEALERS

Charges New Deal 'Guns' for 'Little Man.'

Charges that the New Deal is planning the systematic elimination of the small, independent business man were made yesterday in Chicago by Rep. Frederick A. Virkus [R., La Grange], chairman of the Illinois legislative commission on small business. His view was supported by Mrs. Rose Marie Kiefer, secretary-manager of the National Association of Retail Grocers, and by Albert Balanow, owner of a retail food store, who provided a case study of business hardships and complications since the advent of the present administration.

The commission headed by Virkus is investigating methods used by the office of price administration which hamper business operations. Virkus declared there is "no question" that the administration is planning a progressive squeeze to eliminate the small dealer and manufacturer in favor of a socialized economy dominated by a few large combines.

"This procedure is New Deal philosophy," he said.

Concerned with Survival.

Virkus asserted the New Deal has shown clearly that it intends to foster a socialized business economy thru the extension of subsidies and tax exempt coöperatives, and at the same time continue a policy of "making things tough for the little fellow."

Writing in the current bulletin of the national grocers' organization, Mrs. Kiefer said the business men thruout the nation are concerned with actual survival and are asking if burocrats intend to freeze out certain businesses and sacrifice the food industry.

"The continued deliberate—and thus far successful—effort by certain individuals to block the policy changes which would bring about practicality and sensibility in both the price control and ration programs is beginning to raise all the old doubts along with some that are new," she declared. "Grocers have carried on over vastly mounting obstacles, constantly being 'smeared' by intimations by public officials, confused by the complexity and frequent change of regulations."

Struggle for Existence.

Balanow owns a store at 11064 Vincennes avenue and has been in the grocery business since 1925. He said that for the past 10 years, beginning with federal relief and continuing with the WPA, the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, and the OPA, his business has suffered from New Deal planning until at present "it is reduced to a struggle for existence."

Balanow said he could not estimate the thousands of dollars and the hours of overtime work that federal regulations and red tape have cost him. Relief and the WPA left him with unpaid bills and little cash with which to pay his wholesalers, he said.

"Delays in issuing relief and WPA checks meant mounting grocery bills and prevented grocers from arriving at a current basis," he asserted. "WPA workers were told to use their wages for current subsistence and not to settle old debts. Similarly, federal surplus food stamps could be used only for current purchases by law."

20 Chicago Spaniels Leave for War Service

Twenty cocker and springer spaniels, the first of the breed to be shipped from this area by Dogs for Defense, Inc., left Chicago yesterday afternoon for Cat Island War Dog Reception and Training Center, Gulfport, Mass. More than 1,000 larger dogs already have been turned over to the army and navy by Chicagoland residents.

THE OL' CLOTHES MAN ASKS GIFTS FOR WAR CHEST

A two-week drive for old clothing and rags for war relief at home and abroad will start in Chicago today. Residents of the city and suburbs are urged by Mayor Kelly to give as liberally as possible. William L. McFetridge, civilian defense director of salvage in Chicago, is in charge.

Laundry drivers are authorized to pick up contributions from their customers. Individual deposits may be made at any of 5,000 shops—mainly tailoring and cleaning establishments—licensed as official collection depots. Fire stations also will serve as collection centers.

McFetridge said that up to 10 per cent of all wearing apparel contributed will be used for home relief, and the rest sent to the peoples of war-torn, liberated countries. All clothing will be cleaned before being finally distributed. Rags will be used for industrial purposes.

Every other type of wearing apparel for infants, girls, boys, women, and men will be welcomed, said McFetridge.

CALL ILLITERATE NEGROES BEFORE DADS, U. S. ASKED

Drafting of 500,000 single Negroes, rejected on educational grounds, before pre-Pearl Harbor fathers are called to service was urged in a resolution passed yesterday by the National Negro council and the Chicago Citizen's Committee of 1,000, meeting in the Metropolitan Community church, 4100 South Park way.

Resolutions also were passed, calling upon President Roosevelt to end discrimination against Negro soldiers in the military services, increase the quota of 202 Negro nurses, admit Negro women as WAVES and SPARS and provide equal rights at every level and commissions for Negro soldiers and marines.

The meeting also voted support of Sen. William Langer's efforts to guarantee equal educational opportunities in the south for 10 million Negroes in the 300 million dollar public education federal aid bill now before congress.

it has such a festive air

So in keeping with the season—gay, and happy, and frivolous looking. (It isn't frivolous, of course; you and I know I'll wear it all spring. But it does look delightfully as if it were, which satisfies my feminine soul!) I always go to the Women's Dress Shop this time of year to get one for holiday parties. They've a way with prints there that I like. Theirs are never too big, or too bright, or too fussy for my critical self—yet always young feeling, as I am.

1. Small patterned print in rayon crepe, two-piece. Red and white, gray and white; 16½ to 24½. $22.95

2. Rayon crepe rose print. Black and red, black and cocoa, cocoa and blue; 16½ to 24½. $19.95

3. Rayon jersey print with tucked detail. Black and pink, black and blue; 16½ to 24½. $22.95

4. Rayon jersey checked print, two-piece. Red and black, brown and blue, green and red; 33 to 44. $22.95

"SLOW SLOGGING."

The progress of our armies in Italy has been a good deal less rapid than had been hoped for. Maj. Gen. J. F. C. Fuller, the British military critic, wrote a fortnight ago in criticism of what he called a "slow slogging" campaign. He believed it would have been possible to land farther up the Italian boot. "As it is," he said, "each ditch has to be stormed—a 550 mile steeplechase."

Certainly it was apparent in the first week of the Sicilian campaign that the Italian army was finished as a fighting organization, altho in numbers it was still formidable. There were a few weeks, before the Germans were able to take over the defense of the peninsula, when we might have effected successful landings almost anywhere on the Italian leg. The explanation for the failure to seize the opportunity may lie at least in part in the paradox that modern armies, as Mr. Churchill is supposed to have said, are now so mobile that they can't go anywhere in a hurry. Certainly it is true that the equipment that gives an army its mobility—tanks, trucks, road machinery, etc.—is bulky and heavy beyond all precedent in war. To move even a few divisions over water to seize an enemy shore requires a great concentration of ships and landing barges as well as of naval vessels and airplanes to protect them. To provide all this requires time for planning and assembly.

Nevertheless, the complaints against the slowness of the Italian campaign are not without their justification. If prompt advantage had been taken of the Italian disorganization, unopposed landings well above Rome might have been achieved by relatively small bodies of men with only light equipment. The opportunity, for whatever it was worth, was lost by default and may never return. Gen. Fuller sees a close parallel in the failure of the allies to take Bizerte in the first descent upon Africa, a year ago.

Until Eisenhower, Alexander, Montgomery, Rommel and the other leaders concerned have published their memoirs the distribution of praise and blame for these campaigns must be somewhat tentative, particularly because today there is doubt about where the real leadership lies. Among well-informed soldiers and civilians in this country there is a widespread belief that Eisenhower is commander in name only and that Alexander is actually directing operations, with Montgomery at his side. Eisenhower, so it is said, has been pushed aside with the approval of Washington, leaving the school tie generals to make the important decisions.

If this is the fact, it is unfortunate from many points of view. It will not hearten the American soldiers in Italy who would prefer to take their orders from a soundly educated American general, and it will not make for mutual confidence among the allies.

HANDBILLS.

Some eastern Republicans who fancy themselves as politicians and political leaders have shown a disposition to crawl under the furniture whenever they have been threatened with the terrible wrath of the New York Herald-Tribune or even the New York Post.

This timidity always seemed funny to us and never funnier than since the last election when the whole smear brigade was utterly discredited. From the way some of the politicians had behaved, any one might have been justified in assuming that these two little newspapers amounted to something. They didn't and they don't.

Here are some figures of circulation:

	—Circulation—
Newspaper—	Daily.	Sunday.
News	1,923,838	3,935,597
Mirror	757,489	1,719,147
Journal-American	623,327	1,100,835
Times	428,980	844,203
World-Telegram	376,521	......
Herald-Tribune	293,304	546,705
Sun	276,620	......
Post	225,954	......

Why any one should ever have feared the displeasure of such little handbills as the Herald-Tribune and the Post is a mystery. Their influence was negligible in any reckoning and particularly in relation to that of the big newspapers of New York, and notably the News, with its towering leadership.

New York was Democratic as long as the News was Democratic and has switched with the News. Whether public-opinion followed the News, as we believe, or the News followed public opinion, as its detractors pretend, is immaterial for the purposes of this argument. In either event the Herald-Tribune and the Post can be ignored as out of step with the voters and inconsequential in politics.

COMRADE GROMYKO AND THE FREE PRESS.

The proceedings of the Atlantic City conference on post-war relief were enlivened the other day by the report that the Russian delegate, Ambassador Andre Gromyko, had unsuccessfully sought to have newspaper men barred from the meetings. The ambassador says it isn't so.

If Andre really did try to give the reporters the heave-ho, what of it? He was just interpreting the ground rules as they apply on his home lot. But if, as he implies, he is a champion of a free press, his stand is interesting. When is he going home to do something about the question in Russia?

SUPER-HIGHWAYS.

The Chicago Plan commission has recommended to the city council the construction of seven additional express highways in Chicago after the war. These roadways are to be 300 to 330 feet wide, and their cost is estimated at 232 million dollars. The plans call for having either elevated or depressed highways, accessible only at widely separated intervals.

The need for super-highways in Chicago is apparent, but there has been too much real estate grab and profiteering in connection with the city's super-highway plan. The attempt to enrich property holders along Congress street, which is one of the highway routes in the amended plan just announced, is an illustration.

The commission announced that the new highways are to be either elevated or depressed, and every taxpayer and every citizen who hopes to use these highways must insist that they be built that way. The day of street level express highways in thickly settled areas has long since vanished. That idea means nothing but a bonanza for the adjacent property holders, a free paving job, and danger and delay for all motorists who use the route. In the planning and building of super-highways Chicago can learn much from New York City.

MILK DELIVERY COSTS.

Milk now costs 16½ cents a single quart, delivered to Chicago homes. The milk delivery men are asking a pay increase and the distributors are seeking a 1 cent price increase, which, if granted, will raise the price to an all-time high for the city.

At present the farmer who produces the milk and the wagon driver who delivers it get more than 70 cents out of every consumer's dollar. The cost of bottles and other supplies, the wages of the men who deliver the raw milk to the plants and bottle it, equipment and operating expenses, taxes, advertising, and profits come out of the remaining 30 cents.

The farmer gets 7.57 cents out of a quart of milk at present and the delivery man a trifle more than 4 cents. The ratio has not always been the same. There have been times in recent years when the delivery man got more for putting a quart of milk on a doorstep than the farmer did for producing it. The farmer's price is the highest in history. He is also paying the highest prices in history for feed and labor, when he can find either.

Some of the members of the drivers' union now earn up to $10,000 a year, for wholesale deliveries, but this is hardly a fair index. The wholesale commissions have been deliberately forced out of relation to the service performed to discourage the more economic system of selling milk thru stores. The average of all drivers' earnings was $62.65 a week at the beginning of this year, a 22 per cent increase over the average in January, 1941. The drivers are considerably better off than the average war plant worker, for instance.

The home delivery system is the cause of Chicago's high milk prices. Less than half the milk sold in the city is now home delivered, and the percentage would have fallen much lower if many customers had not resumed taking home deliveries in the belief that they will be favored if milk is rationed.

The necessity for home delivery disappeared with electric refrigeration. It is unnecessary to buy milk every day, as the skip-day delivery system has demonstrated. The paper milk container, which the city of Chicago has opposed in such mysterious fashion, would also facilitate store sales, since it makes the return of bottles unnecessary. The milk wagon drivers could make their present wages, or even more, if home deliveries were stopped and the distributors made their deliveries to stores like any other food distributor. The only difference would be that about half as many drivers would be able to make all the deliveries.

Home deliveries are doomed in the long run, anyway. They have been declining for more than a decade. Now is the best possible time to get rid of them. There is a man power shortage. The excess drivers could find good jobs at more useful tasks. Milk prices would be lowered radically, perhaps 2 or 3 cents a quart below the home delivery price. Milk bought in stores, by the gallon, now costs only 12 cents a quart.

The only sufferers would be the officials of the milk wagon drivers' union. They would be left with only half as many members to pay dues. There has been virtually no reduction in the man power devoted to milk deliveries in Chicago since Pearl Harbor. The every-other-day delivery system, which the office of defense transportation imposed on the distributors, saved no man power and very little gasoline or tire mileage.

Instead of doubling up routes, each driver covers half his route every other day, delivering twice as much milk. Since most routes include some stores, at which daily deliveries are made, the greater part of most routes is covered daily. When the dairy companies began to rearrange some routes, as a preliminary to consolidating them, the union called a strike. The war labor board forbade any more such efforts to save man power.

The weak spot in the whole milk price structure in Chicago is the excessive price paid for home deliveries. The only beneficiaries of the waste involved are the union officials, who thereby keep up the volume of dues, and those distributors who play ball with them for the purpose of hamstringing more enterprising competitors. The consumers, as usual, pay.

WALLACE LOST HIS SHIRT.

[Spirit Lake, Ia., Beacon and Shopper.]

Vice President Wallace has declared he is worried about a land boom. Well he might. During the last one Wallace was the biggest boomer in Iowa. That was when he bought the Iowa Homestead at fabulous figures, lost his shirt, and turned Democrat. He might well be able to put out advice on his own experiences, but we never had much regard for a man who shielded himself by carrying his holding of the world's goods in his wife's name and permitted his own mistakes to go in the way of judgments.

Der Fuehrer may yet live out man's allotted span. After a look at the lengthy indictment he can spend the next 20 years confessing.—Detroit News.

FIRING LINE FABLES.

Leros, the Aegean island recently taken by the Germans to the considerable surprise and annoyance of allied commanders [it forms an excellent naval base], must have a story, we muttered, and we went in search thereof. Skipping all modern political confusion, such as the secret treaty with which the British coaxed the Italian grabbers into World War I., the hunt went back into ancient Greek mythology. There we found that Leros was the place where the sisters of Meleager were transformed into guinea pigs.

* * *

This metamorphosis was caused by the goddess Artemis, and was an act of pity. The sisters were so beside themselves over the death of their heroic brother that the goddess decided to put them out of their distress. Her choice of guinea pigs as the proper reincarnation of the sisters was probably based on the idea that this is a nice, quiet little animal which never makes a fuss. The future of the sisters as guinea pigs is not told in any book we possess.

Meleager himself is too long a story. He was one of the greatest heroes of Greek mythology, and he won first honors in a tremendous sporting event called the hunt of the Calydonian boar. See Swinburne's great poem, "Atalanta in Calydon."

We have been wondering if the advance of the Russian armies in the Ukraine had caught up with the birthplace of the English novelist known as Joseph Conrad, whose Polish name was Josef Teodor Konrad Korzeniowski. We find that this happened recently, and that the event was celebrated in Moscow with ceremonial cannonading. For Conrad was born in a farming estate near Kiev, and returned there for a brief visit with relatives after World War I. His school days, however, were spent in Cracow, Poland's ancient capital. For glimpses of these backgrounds, see his volume of reminiscences called "A Personal Record."

"WHERE IS FANCY BREAD?"

Far did my whilom fancy fly
  (Thus dreaming doth from fact release us),
Apollo's pulchritude had I
  And wealth of Croesus,
'Til super-ego whispered, "Fie,
  Quit making with the hocus-pocus,
Apollo Belvidere me eye!
  Get back in focus."

Today, how sterile, frail, and shy
  Those dreams, how puerile and old-fashioned;
Ha, nothing whets the träumerei

Up Fancy! Throw yourself in high!
  You thought you perked—you only sputtered—
Try whipping up a ham-on-rye

Annual Contributors' Dinner.

The fourth annual dinner of Line o' Type contributors, under their own management, will be held on Saturday, Dec. 4, in the rooms of the Chicago Bar association, 29 South La Salle street. The Linemaster himself, generally a strange, aloof creature, will be there to meet the old bunch and recent initiates. The dinner will celebrate, in part, the 20th anniversary of the Linebooks.

Applications for reservations and inquiries about cost, qualification, time of rendezvous, etc., may be addressed to C. Otto Ruess, secretary of the dinner committee, at 120 South La Salle street. The word that Otto passes regarding costume is "informal."

Reincarnation of Ambrose Bierce.

Ambrose Bierce, the famous author of "The Devil's Dictionary," disappeared mysteriously in 1913 at the age of 71. He never returned, and tho persistent rumors appeared in the press about his death at the hands of Mexican revolutionists, the story has not been substantiated.

Now comes a reprint edition of "The Devil's Dictionary," which announces:

"The success of this book in more expensive editions has paid the cost of the plates, making it possible to use them economically for this low-priced edition. The author has agreed to accept a lower royalty."

So the old gentleman is enjoying his royalties, we hope, reduced tho they be. Alec.

(With apologies to Sir Walter Scott.)

Breathes there a man so spared by fate
Who never hath exclaimed of late:
"For tardy wash this beats the band!"
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned
(As laundryward his steps he turned,
With ticket and the cash in hand)

On finding that, tho he doth roar,
The management, "due to the war,"
Despite his great exigencies,
Hath not yet washed his B. V. D.s;
Who hath not gone his crumpled way,

Antiquities of Evanston, Ill.

The Avenue house is now the North Shore hotel, Evanston. Why did they change the name? In the horse and buggy days, if you lived on the north side you drove out to the Avenue house for dinner. It was an all-day trip. In the middle '90s it was still the end of the line for an auto trip.

Test runs were made by auto from Grant's monument in Lincoln park to the Avenue house. The race was not to the swift, but to the engine which could endure. One of the judges related that after the last auto left Lincoln park he went by horse and buggy, arriving before the first automobile crossed the line at the Avenue house.

If you are old enough you will remember the gargoyle which stood at the corner of Davis street and Chicago avenue. It came from the Chicago courthouse after the great fire of '71, and if you look diligently you may find it in the Evanston city yards on Maple avenue.

COURAGE AND PATIENCE IN TUBERCULOSIS.

TUBERCULOSIS of the lungs is a disease which requires as much fortitude as medical care. One or more years must be devoted to cure and great courage and no little patience will be demanded on the part of the sufferer.

No matter how well we plan, no one of us is ever ready for a protracted illness. Disturbing social changes may present themselves. Marriage may need to be postponed—perhaps indefinitely. In addition, financial arrangements, which may include summoning the resources of relatives, will have to be made.

As a rule, the news comes with a distinct shock. The individual has felt run down, but not ill. In fact, some may be more peppy and alert than normal. There may be no loss of weight. Something, possibly a slight hemorrhage, drives the patient to the physician, whereupon the verdict is pronounced. We can understand the terror that may fill the heart of the young mother with one or two children dependent upon her, when she hears that a year or two must be spent in a sanitarium. Little wonder, then, that many will endure more than the proverbial bad half hour in adjusting themselves to the situation.

Resignation is necessary, as relaxation is essential to healing. The interval in bed must be one of complete quiet, without worry or apprehension. Sometimes the very isolation of the victim will defeat rehabilitation. This calls for the cultivation of a type of philosophy which will bring serenity.

The medical man can do much. He can explain the nature of the malady and how repair is brought about—namely, thru rest. It should be made clear that every unnecessary effort will delay recovery. Excitement will mean more rapid breathing and an accelerated pulse, all of which should be avoided.

Fortunately the afflicted person will be among others who are in the same boat. But the one who is inclined to give way to fears may well be segregated because an atmosphere of hopefulness is helpful always. Furthermore, he may be told truthfully that recovery is the rule and that modern methods of treatment have greatly decreased the percentage of those who will become chronic invalids. Every one must help, with encouragement and reassurance that all is well at home. Friends should not insist upon frequent visits. The stimulus which attends a joyful reunion is more than offset by sadness when the hour is up.

The rehabilitation period is just as important. Many a one has been obliged to return for a second "cure" because he attempted to do too much. The arrested case cannot assume that when he is allowed to begin light work that he can make up for lost time. Resumption of activity must be gradual and well within the limits of physical reserve. A second breakdown is far more difficult to manage.

We have many competent specialists who have made a lifelong study of the disease. If possible, one should be consulted who is abreast of every advance but who refuses to make a hobby of this or that regimen. Treatment must be individual and the program which fits you may not do for me.

Cataclysmic Act.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Now take this gently, gently. Otherwise you may soon be in the state of mind in which many a habitué of his capital city is today.

It is, of course, unprecedented, but that had nothing to do with its effect on the spending public, for nothing here is unprecedented any more. It was simply uncalled for. Nothing remotely resembling it has transpired in our own particular national circle since the Jupiter's pitcher here began to flow some 11 years ago. Remember that pitcher? No matter how much milk was quaffed from it, more milk was always there, and no one every put any back in untasted. It was the very best cow's milk, complete with whipping cream, and it flowed so fast it often overflowed, a gift from old Jupiter himself.

That's the way Washington has been with the money [and don't ask, "whose money?"] since the public first began to sing "Happy Days Are Here Again." It started on an absurdly small scale, remember? They began pulling money out of grandpa's sock to put into 1,000 sox with holes in the toes. Half a million here, 90 million there, 162½ million under the sink for what was known, when alphabetical conundrums still were fun, as the CWA—the civil works administration. Put the money out, put up the civil works, put the boys on the pay roll.

But the pay roll never was adequate. Soon half a million wasn't enough to pay 10 men for planting 20 trees in a park that already looked like a forest. The stakes went up and up and up until one day some one requested a billion, and money was rolling around so gaily, in such a commonplace manner, that no one even commented on it, for after all, who aside from Andy Gump's Uncle Bim even knew what a billion was?

So it went. Sixty million here, 93 million there, a billion over the wall. It was just part of the national scene. It affected every one. Why, just the other day a cab driver here had a taste of it. Every day he meets the 4 a. m. train at the Union station, but he goes down at 3:30 carrying an alarm clock in his cab and catches a half hour's nap from which the alarm arouses him. Last week the train came in at 3:30, so he missed the nap for which he was prepared, and picked up a general who asked to go to the Mayflower hotel. Just as he opened the cab door to drop the general at his destination his 4 o'clock alarm sounded. "What does the clock say?" the general, thinking the alarm was the popping of the meter, asked. "Three-thirty," the cab driver said. "All right," said the general, handing over a $5 bill. "Keep the change." See what we mean? The disease has every one.

Every once in a while in the past some national voice would protest this Jupiter's pitcher, but he always went unheard and, as he was always some one not in power, was labeled a sour grapes boy. And when war came even he was self-stilled in the necessity for providing arms for the nation. That's when it was that some one said the army needed 59 billion. No one thought another thing of it. The army got 59 billion.

Well, the army has done all it could. It has worn out hundreds of men trying to devise ways of spending that sum that no one understands, but try as it has, it has failed.

So the war department has just informed congress that it will have to return more than 13 billion to the treasury.

HOW TO CREATE A PAPER SHORTAGE.

Rhinelander, Wis., Nov. 17.—Every informed citizen of this section of Wisconsin is aware of the crucial situation in the production of pulpwood and a lot of them are trying to do something about it.

The inclosed is a copy of a letter received by the Rhinelander Paper company and speaks volumes on the kind of coöperation the OPA is giving these efforts.

Readers of The Tribune have long known of the subterfuges, evasions, and side-stepping the OPA has repeatedly been compelled to countenance because of its confused and contradictory regulations. Just why it gags at the payment of a few prizes for skilful work in the vitally essential pulpwood industry is as incomprehensible as most other foggy New Deal logic.

Rhinelander Paper Co.,
Rhinelander, Wis.
Gentlemen:

A newspaper story concerning the pulpwood roundup at Tomahawk on Oct. 23 has just come to my attention. The article states that: "Twenty-five dollar bonds will be awarded to premium loads of pine, balsam, hemlock, peeled popple, and spruce, with a guarantee of $2 in war stamps plus the top pulpwood market price to each entrant." The article further states that your company together with a number of others is on the Pulpwood Victory committee.

It is my duty to advise you that the plan is illegal and must be abandoned. The war bonds and stamps clearly represent an overceiling payment to the extent that they exceed the ceiling price for the commodity.

Overceiling payments of war bonds contribute to inflation just as much as overceiling payments of cash. A moment's reflection will convince you of this. I neither question nor impugn your motives in this matter. In fact, it is apparent that the plan springs from a patriotic desire to stimulate the production of pulpwood. Nevertheless, it is illegal and must be abandoned before it becomes widespread.

Very truly yours,
John C. Reinhart,
District Director.

BRITISH INFLUENCE.

Hobart, Ind., Nov. 17.—"Broadminded," in his letter of Nov. 16, says that the remark: "We fought the last war to save the British empire," is foolish. He says that the French, Russian, and Italian empires were also at stake. He forgets that it was the British who quietly but persistently called on us for help, altho all four were in the war to expand their empires.

If the other empires were saved, it was incidental to saving the British. Would we have gone to war if only the Russian, French, and Italian empires had been in danger? I doubt whether all three together had as much influence with us as the British alone had and still have. America First.

MR. HULL'S REPORT.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Mr. Hull's report of the Moscow conference to the congress and the nation was for the most part a "barrage" of idle words. He found in Marshal Stalin a remarkable personality, one of the great statesmen and leaders of this age. This is the same Stalin who liquidated most of his army officers only a few years ago.

The Moscow declaration allegedly enables all peace loving nations, large and small, to live in peace and security, to preserve the liberties and rights of civilized existence and to enjoy expanded opportunities and facilities for economic, social, and spiritual progress. Will Mr. Stalin allow Poland, the Baltic states, and Finland any of these privileges? Who will stop him? Will it take another A. E. F.?

An American.

FROM ST. JUDE'S LEAGUE.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Please accept our thanks and sincere appreciation for the splendid coöperation you gave us in connection with the presentation of the 11th annual homecoming party of the police branch of St. Jude's league.

Several thousands of dollars were raised thru this affair to be used for young men studying for the priesthood. We are confident that our success would not have been possible without the cooperation you were kind enough to give us thru The Chicago Tribune.

COMMUNISTS IN THE WAR PLANTS.

Oak Park, Ill., Nov. 18.—Your article on the situation at the Studebaker plant appearing in Thursday's Tribune is just wonderful! Things of this nature should be made known to the people of Chicago and America. I think that all law-abiding citizens, union or nonunion, detest conditions of this kind. I will be very interested in following this matter thru in your subsequent editions.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

PARENT-EMPLOYE.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—[Legal Friend of the People].—My father is employed by me but I have not up to the present time deducted social security tax from his wages. Should I do so? A. K.

In my reply to A. K., which appeared in the Friend of the People column on Nov. 6, I stated that, under the terms of the social security act, a father working for his son or daughter is not covered by the terms of the act and that no contribution should be made from his wages. This statement is true in respect to the present act, as amended in 1939, but it is not true with respect to the original social security act passed in 1935. Under the terms of the original act a father working for his son or daughter was covered and deductions were made from his wages.

If A. K. employed his father during the years 1937, 1938, and 1939 and made no deductions from his father's wages for social security contributions he should file an amended return with the bureau of internal revenue so that his father may secure the social security protection to which he is entitled under the terms of the original act. If, however, his father started to work for him on Jan. 1, 1940, or later, his father is not covered under the act as amended in 1939 and no deductions for social security contributions should be made from his wages.

RIDERS EXPRESS MIXED OPINIONS ON NEW SUBWAY

Those in Eastern Section of Loop Praise It.

One's opinion on the merits of Chicago's subway system depends largely on where one wants to go, a survey of the passengers at the Howard street elevated station during the rush hours last week showed.

Of the 24 persons interviewed, those who work east of Dearborn street in the loop or on the near north side were enthusiastic about the underground route which takes them within a block or two of their destination. This group included many suburbanites who now must transfer from suburban trains at Howard street to take advantage of the Jackson park trains which use the subway.

Difference of Opinion.

Among those interviewed who work in the west section of the loop, and therefore do not ride the subway trains, there was a sharp difference of opinion as to whether the new system speeds up the running time for the Evanston round-the-loop trains and makes them less crowded.

No one was as enthusiastic about the subway as H. M. Lytle, public relations officer for the Chicago Rapid Transit company, who said he would let the facts speak for themselves. Since Oct. 16, when the subway went into general service, he pointed out, the average number of persons using the company's lines daily increased by 70,000, or 13 per cent.

To meet this demand the company's car miles had to be increased by more than 21 per cent, he said. He added that there are very few Rapid Transit cars in good condition which are not used daily during the rush hours.

Service Record Cited.

"The system's popular because it's giving excellent service," he said. "For example, one morning between 8 and 9 o'clock 210 trains including 978 cars passed thru the subway and the last one thru was only four minutes off schedule. From 4:50 to 5:50 p. m. one day 220 trains including 1,015 cars passed thru the subway and the last one thru was off schedule only three minutes. That's a piece of operation which isn't duplicated anywhere in the country."

Lytle said that since there no longer is a clogging up of trains switching near the loop area 12 to 15 minutes in running time is saved on the complete Howard-Jackson park run.

Prefers Surface Cars.

Mrs. Marguerite Noyes, 819 Mulford street, Evanston: "Every round-the-loop train is packed solid during rush hours now. I can never get a seat at Howard street. Besides, most of the escalators in the stations are running down instead of up — why I don't know."

George Semilow, 2434 Fargo avenue: "It's harder to get a seat on the Evanston train but it saves me a little time in getting to Madison and Wells compared to using the subway."

Ralph Welch, 126 Callan avenue, Evanston: "I believe it's cut a few minutes off the Loyola express trip down."

H. L. Hart, Evanston: "The subway doesn't save me five minutes in time but I work near State street and it's very convenient."

L. J. Dervin, 7515 Greenview avenue: "The subway's much faster than the old Jackson Park elevated in getting me to 1 North La Salle street, even tho I must walk across the loop."

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Greenwood, 1115 Hull terrace, Evanston: "We think the subway's wonderful!"

Spike O'Donnell's Pal in Police Showup Again

Sanford [The Gimp] Rosenbaum, who served as bodyguard for Edward [Spike] O'Donnell during prohibition days, made another appearance yesterday at the police showup. Answering a question of Lt. Andrew Aitken he said, "I wouldn't know what Spike is doing these days. I haven't been seeing him." The two were inseparable companions for years, but the Gimp was alone when police seized him on general principles Saturday at Washington and Clark streets. He said he is 50 years old and lives at 6546 Ellis avenue.

CITY AND STATE TO PROTEST 12C 'L' FARE TODAY

Attorneys representing the Illinois Commerce commission and the city of Chicago will file objections today to a report by Charles A. McDonald, special master in chancery, recommending that Judge Cornelius J. Harrington of Circuit court protect, by injunction, the plan of the elevated lines to charge a basic 12 cent fare. The present fare is 10 cents.

Testimony by witnesses for the elevated in a long series of hearings before McDonald was designed to show that the present fare, altho as high as any similar company charges, is confiscatory. It is expected that the state and the city will fight this and also that they will dispute the master's opinion that the L properties have a value of 80 millions.

The commerce commission will be represented by William R. Morgan and Stephen M. Fleming of Atty. Gen. Barrett's office and the city by Attorneys William H. Sexton and James J. Danaher. Oral arguments are set for Tuesday.

Seek to Put Italian Flag Among Allied Banners

A resolution asking that the Italian flag be displayed with other allied nation flags was adopted and sent to President Roosevelt yesterday by the directors of the National Civic league at a meeting in the Morrison hotel. Since the surrender, Italy has been fighting on the side of the allies, the resolution said. Another asked for the opening of direct mail and parcel post routes between Italy and the United States. The civic league is an organization of men and women of Italian extraction.

LA GUARDIA HIT IN 2 QUARTERS; REMOVAL ASKED

Policeman Says Mayor Won't Co-operate.

New York, Nov. 21 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia took a verbal lambasting from two quarters today, one of them at a stormy massmeeting in Brooklyn's Little Harlem and the other in a broadcast over the municipal radio station by Thomas J. Curran, chairman of the New York Republican county committee.

The massmeeting, called for discussion of the current crime wave in the borough's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, was featured by an impromptu speech by a Bronx policeman who charged that morale in the police department was at its lowest ebb in 10 years because "the mayor will not coöperate with the police."

Policeman Faces Charges.

The policeman, who was off duty, identified himself as David Liebman, a graduate of the University of Alabama, who has been on the force for two years. When he finished his attack on the mayor a police lieutenant approached him and informed him charges would be preferred against him.

A resolution calling on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to remove La Guardia from office for "misfeasance" because of lawlessness in the area for which a Kings county grand jury blamed the mayor last week was adopted by the meeting, which was attended by about 500 persons and sponsored by the Midtown Civic association.

"We should have a fact finding commission to look into the morale of the police department," Liebman told the audience, adding that the situation in Brooklyn's Little Harlem is duplicated in the Bronx, where he works and, in fact, "they have it all over the city."

Priest Assails Mayor.

Other speakers who took verbal swings at the mayor were Msgr. John L. Belford, pastor of the Catholic Church of the Nativity in Brooklyn; Sumner Sirtl, president of the Midtown Civic association, and State Sen. Edward Coughlin, Brooklyn Democrat.

Curran took 10 minutes of the hour usually devoted to the mayor's broadcast to reply to a denial by La Guardia in his Nov. 7 weekly broadcast that the landslide election of Joe R. Hanley, Republican, as lieutenant governor, was a New Deal defeat.

"The New Deal issue in the recent campaign was raised by the American Labor party, of which the mayor is a member and in whose inner circle he is active," Curran said. He accused the mayor of lacking "intellectual honesty" in contending that his remarks about the election were nonpolitical on the excuse that the Persidential campaign is a year away.

YULE SEAL SALE TO OPEN TODAY; AIDS T. B. FIGHT

The 37th annual Christmas seal sale, dedicated to the fight against tuberculosis, will open today and continue thru Christmas. It is being sponsored in this area by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county.

"All proceeds of the sale will be used here to make possible a year round educational, preventive, and clinical campaign in the fight against tuberculosis," said Homer J. Buckley, president of the institute. "Each seal bought and used on Christmas mail and packages will not only spread yuletime cheer, but aid in the fight to keep the disease under control."

The sale of Christmas seals provides funds to carry on testings and X-ray examinations, to furnish nurses, to maintain health clinics, to carry on an educational program, and to find jobs for those who have recovered from tuberculosis.

Friend of the YANKS

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with queries.]

P. D. M. writes: "I have been interested in the Seabees of the navy for some time, but I was rejected for physical reasons about three months ago. I learn the program is closed now, but since my rejection the disability has been eliminated. I am a licensed all-round electrician. Is there any way of getting in for a rating now?"

ANSWER: Probably you would be acceptable in the navy's ship repair unit program opened Nov. 1. Any man between 18 and 50 can volunteer for induction after taking his physical examination at the recruiting office and getting a letter to his draft board. Before going to the recruiting office to discuss your rating you should secure one or more letters of recommendation attesting to your skill and take these letters with you. The navy recruiting office for the ship repair units is at 321 South Plymouth court.

G. O. E. writes: "May I make a suggestion to relatives and friends writing to men in service? It is a good plan to number their letters so the man in service knows if he has received all the letters sent and also knows what letter is missing."

ANSWER: This seems like a very good suggestion. Many times letters are lost and in this way the correspondents can keep each other informed.

J. M. Q. writes: "Some months ago we sent an American Express money order to our son stationed in Australia. The post exchange refused to cash it and it was necessary for him to return it to be exchanged for a regular money order. Is this the usual experience?"

ANSWER: We have no means of knowing if this experience is common or not, but the army and navy have always advised the use of regular domestic postoffice money orders when sending money to personnel overseas.

J. B. writes: "My classification card reads thus: 'has been classified 3-D until induction December, 1943.' Can the board induct me with a 3-D or must they reclassify me first? What does the classification on the card mean? Can I appeal?"

ANSWER: The classification card is incorrectly made out and you should ask your board to rectify the mistake. It will be necessary for the local board to reclassify you before induction. When you are reclassified write a letter to your board asking for a hearing, but in this letter do not state any reasons or even mention "appeal." After your hearing you have 10 days in which to file a formal appeal to the board of appeals. The hearing before the board will give you an opportunity of presenting any new facts in your case and frequently a board will grant additional deferment without the registrant going to the trouble of appealing.

REPORT ALLIED AGREEMENT ON POST-WAR JOBS

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The allied nations have achieved "almost complete agreement in all plans in one point, namely, that the government assume the task of providing employment if and when private enterprise fails to do so," a Twentieth Century Fund survey said today.

The organization, an institute for economic research, was founded by the late Edward A. Filene.

For the purpose of providing employment, should private enterprise fail to fill the gap, the survey said, "all plans outline schemes of public works ranging from the usual road construction to the building of low cost houses, schools, hospitals, and recreational facilities."

They're coming home for Thanksgiving, too!

. . . so furlough travel will be heavy

NOVEMBER 24 · 25 · 26 · 27 · 28 · 29

For a lot of these boys this Thanksgiving Day at home may be the last in a long time.

So if you have an essential trip to make, try to take it before or after the dates shown—please. Let the boys and girls in olive drab and blue have first call on available seats and berths.

With a third of our coaches—and half the Pullmans—engaged in moving troops, and heavy demand by war-business travel for what remains, it just isn't possible to accommodate everybody with peacetime comfort. Standing room may be the only thing available.

Therefore, your cooperation in advancing or deferring your trip will be greatly appreciated.

Read how my 4-Purpose Face Cream keeps your skin crystal-clean and fresh—and guards against these skin troubles.

NO one needs to tell you that there are "danger zones" of the skin. You know! For your own mirror has warned you about them, many times.

You know, for example, that the curve next to your nose—the tiny valleys of your chin—are two zones that must be watched. For there's where skin troubles get their start, and make swift headway.

In the curve beside your nose, pores often become bigger and bigger—until they look conspicuous and coarse. Around your mouth and chin, dirt and grease tend to accumulate and harden into blackheads.

But you can be sure you won't have any of these skin troubles, if you use Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream! For it guards these two danger zones, guards all the danger zones of your skin!

My cream is complete itself—asks no help of other creams or lotions. It keeps your skin looking its freshest and loveliest at all times.

Each time you apply Lady Esther Face Cream it does these 4 vital things: (1) It thoroughly cleans your skin. (2) It softens your skin, loosens and absorbs the dry, clinging flakes. (3) It helps nature refine the pores. (4) It leaves a smooth perfect base for powder.

Yes, my one face cream does all these four essential things for the beauty of your skin. Try it—it's the only cream you need!

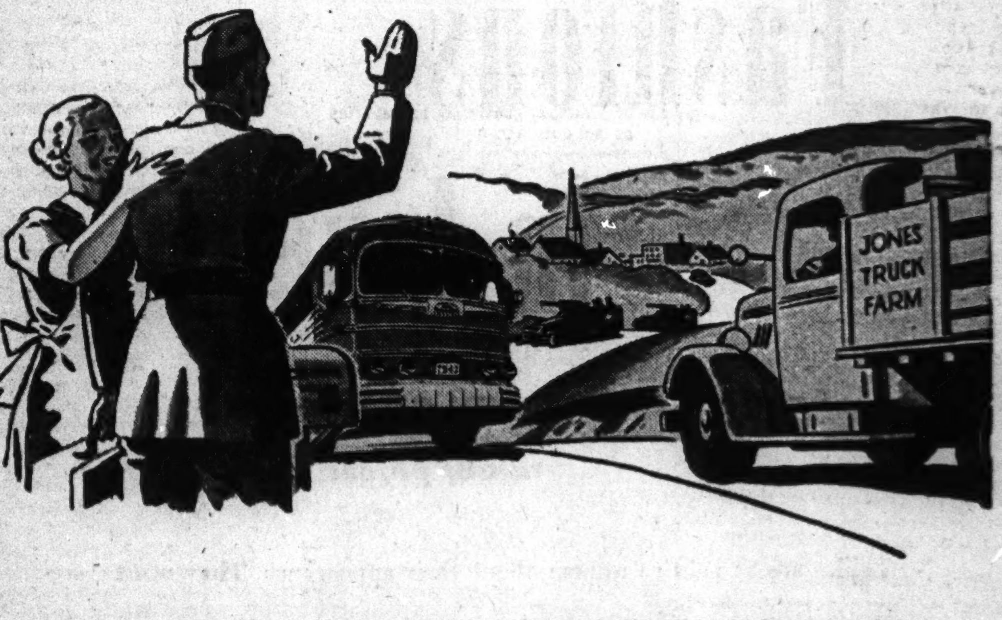
Living Proof—In Your Own Mirror!

Why choose a face cream because it's expensive, or because of a clever package? Judge it only by what it does for your skin!

That's why I say—try Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream! Get the smallest size jar if you like—but try it! When you see how radiantly clean and fresh your skin looks after the very first application—when you see how much smoother and more youthful it appears—it's time enough to get the largest and most economical size. But for living proof that this is the most beautifying cream you have ever used, get the small-size jar of Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream today!

Can You Picture ILLINOIS without Highways?



A strange place it would be—this State of ours—if our splendid 103,109-mile network of highways suddenly ceased to exist.

A great many communities would be isolated. Others would find it infinitely more difficult to carry on even the most ordinary daily activities—with no trucks on the move, no cars or buses taking workers to war plants and farms, soldiers to camp and home on furlough, business travelers to nearby communities, children to school.

We in Illinois are apt to take for granted the convenience of our excellent roads—but these highways didn't just grow. Building and maintaining them is a tremendous job and for achieving this successfully we can thank past and present administrations and particularly the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings.

That isn't the whole story, however. Transforming these lifeless ribbons of concrete and macadam into live, active arteries of public transportation has been the accomplishment of the Illinois Commerce Commission. They've labored hard and long to give our State a transportation system that compares favorably with any other in the country.

All of us who live and work and pay taxes in Illinois can take pride in our share in this highway system.

As fellow citizens, the Greyhound Lines have made a very large contribution in the form of license, fuel and operating taxes—but we feel that our greatest service is in putting the highways to work for the benefit of all who must travel, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities we serve throughout the State.

White Collar GIRL

Educational Secretary.

Perhaps you don't know just what it means to be an educational secretary, but if you've ever run over to school to find out why Johnny brought home such a scandalous report card, it is the secretary who greets you at the door of the principal's office and smoothes your ruffled feathers.

As you might suppose, the duties of the clerks in the public schools have multiplied with ration book registrations and extra war services. All of these educational secretaries in the schools are civil service employes—they answer the telephone, keep records, handle the files, write letters, serve as receptionist [for irate parents] in the school office, and keep the business routine moving smoothly. There's an old saying that no school is any better than its secretary and true it is, for a good secretary must blend together the many ingredients that make the modern public school a complicated institution.

Fortunately for the secretaries, variety is the spice of school life. One little boy not long ago took home his report card with an "F" and a "D" on it.

"What does this mean?" the mother asked.

"Fine and dandy," said the young diplomat.

It Sticks in the Mind.

The blonde salesgirl in a Michigan avenue art gallery. She has the romantic name of Victoria Hugo.

The elevator operator in the Monroe building saying he travels 30,000 miles a year and that's not "on the level."

The roomful of male draftsmen [reported by Jeanne P.] who became weary of prosaic surroundings so went out, bought some white ties, painted them in weird colors and patterns—and had a good laugh.

More of Our Kind.

The father is in the railroad business. A son, Lt. Richard Roper, was killed in a plane crash. A daughter, Rita, after the death of her brother, joined the United Service Organizations for overseas duty. She is a dancer.

Recently a boyish, appreciative letter came to her parents. It was from an American soldier somewhere in Brazil. There had been a U. S. O. show the night before and Rita was in it. No Hollywood star is she—just a nice Chicago girl—"more of our kind" wrote the young private in simple eloquence.

"I'm not kidding, it was swell," the lad continued enthusiastically, "a hit from start to finish. Your daughter was in it. She was the first in any such show to come to our mess hall and sit down with us. It may not mean much to you but if you hadn't seen an American girl for as long as some of us, you would realize just how much it meant to the fellows. The part that made us happy was that she stood with us while some of the officers waited to talk to her. Yes, you have a swell daughter! She has a long trip ahead of her, but it will boost the morale of a lot of service men. God bless you—and her—Just a Private, Harvey——."

Russians Can Sing Loudly—and These Do

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Every time the Russians thrust the Nazis back thru another 100 or so villages the popularity of the singing Cossacks goes up a notch. So we have two sets of them on hand this season, filling the Civic Opera house with every visit. Yesterday's callers were the Don Platoff chorus, 26 lusty singers under the direction of Nicholas Kostrukoff, who resemble but do not rival the Don Cossacks, world famous for the splendor of their singing under the deft direction of their microscopic leader, Serge Jaroff.

Both choruses range the repertory from liturgical music to folk song, developing a huge tone from the cavernous Russian bass to the highest falsetto, both wear Russian costume, and both augment their singing with lively dancing and gentlemen who can split your eardrums by whistling thru their fingers. But where the original Don Cossacks cling to distinguished simplicity of appearance, concentrating on their Slavic wealth of song, the Platoff chorus rides a circus wagon, and its singing sometimes resembles a calliope letting off steam. The men roar thru the repertory wearing blue blouses, white blouses, and scarlet blouses, with caps and spotlights to match.

Sometimes this is extremely effective in a posterish effect of primary colors, but it is no substitute for the perfect blend and focus of swelling and diminishing tone that is the dynamic secret of Gretchaninoff's "Lord Have Mercy," nor can it make up for the lack of finesse to give the effect of utter spontaneity to a Cossack war song or a laughing polka. The Platoff chorus sometimes achieves a floating tone of great beauty and occasional rhythmic effects of genuine brilliance, but these are not its major preoccupation. It is more interested in broad and splashy results, and its singing often takes on the edge of something harsh and forced, as if the director deliberately chose the rugged style in pursuit of massive and barbaric sound. When all 26 singers let loose with a full blast, he wields that blast like a battering ram.

Altogether, the Platoff idea is to put on a popular show. Yesterday's marched from the splendors of Russian church music thru the ubiquitous "Dark Eyes" and a curious choral arrangement of "The Song of the Flea," paused politely with an English but not very intelligible version of Shostakovich's "United Nations on the March," then reverted comfortably to its own vernacular to wind up with patriotic and comic Russian songs. Some of its finest singing was done in the "Song of the Plains," with just a hint of clop-clopping horses, while there was some good solo work, particularly by the bass baritone, Dubrovsky, and some brilliant dancing by S. Tavasieff, whose lesginka played debonair mumblety-peg with daggers.

Thru the Looking Glass

This, if ever there was one, is the year to shop early, systematically and cannily for your Christmas gifts. There are thousands of patriotic reasons why you should do what you can to ease the tremendous burden on the manufacturers, the shops, the clerks, and the delivery men. There are also sensible, possibly selfish reasons, why you should do your buying early and wisely: Otherwise you'll be caught in a crush, and you'll end up spending far more money than you intended for stuff that neither you nor the recipient will give a hoot for. Waste of effort, money, and materials will constitute one great big beautiful gift to the enemy, and that's exactly what you'll be contributing to if you go on last minute buying sprees.

This is the year to make up lists, and to put heavy emphasis on usefulness in your selections. It's the year to ask your nearest and dearest what they really want, and to buy that for them if you possibly can; it's not the year to buy a hand painted China plate, for example, because you couldn't think of another blamed thing.

Ask your women friends just what kind of soap, cream, or perfume they like, and select those. And buy in large sizes, for economy's sweet sake—the cumulative economy not only of money but of materials, container, and wrapping paper. If you buy lipsticks, buy one for which refills are available. Buy such sensible but not unglamorous gifts as hair brushes, manicure kits, hand creams, and cosmetics.

Beauty aids as Christmas gifts are always desirable, and this year all concerned fear a stampede for them, a stampede in which you'll be trapped if you don't shop early. Get going, sister, calmly and capably, with definite ideas of what you want.

A Girl of 16 Poses Problem About Dating

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

on the SOLID side

Some like it hot, some like it cold, some like just any boy over sixteen years old. But no matter what high school you attend or at which drugstore you have your cokes, you are bound, sooner or later, to hear some pro-and-con discussions on the do-or-don't merits of a little gentle necking. And it's often the girls—well-stacked, attractive little bundles of charm, full of chic and class, but who also have minds of their own—who do the most talking.

And they've got some hot chatter to put on the table. They think that if necking's the price they have to pay for every date—the price is too high. That's inflation! They're strictly no dice on this advanced hand-holding routine with every Tom, Dick and junior wolf who comes along. They still think that fellows are wonderful people but they don't want to have to get to be their friends the hard way.

Here's a letter from a "just sixteen" who would like to go on record as follows. "I don't want to be just anybody's ghoul friend. My friends and I have discussed this problem a lot and I have made up my mind that I'd rather not have dates at all if the only thing I'm asked out for is to neck.

"Well, now all the fellows in our crowd understand my attitude—and hence no dates. But are all boys looking just for someone to kiss on a date? Have they forgotten that we girls have hearts? Can I do anything about this or do I just have to sit home and wait till the right Johnny comes along?"

This question merits a little discussion—a two-sided one. Often girls use this "I'm not that kind of a girl" attitude as a cover-up because they don't have enough on the ball to get dates anyway. Rather than working their own minds and personalities to a more attractive pitch and finding out what makes smooth girls tick, they just clam up and sit back, smug and dull, thinking they are "too nice people" to associate with boys—most of whom are really pretty nice people themselves.

Or are times really so tough that necking is necessary for dating? Does the above letter listen okay or is "Sixteen" just making apologies for being in the junior jerk department? What's your story, morning glory? If you have any ideas on the subject, just give out with information. Send in your letters. It's a matter we'd like to get straight, but quickly!

Hospital Campaign in Chicago Halfway to Goal of $30,000

The Chicago committee for the National Jewish hospital at Denver already has raised more than half of the $30,000 sought in its annual November drive for money to help finance the nonsectarian, free medical center established in Colorado for the treatment and study of tuberculosis. Announcement comes from Sam Rosenthal, campaign chairman.

In addition to its work among tuberculous poor from all parts of the country, the institution has started an experiment in training patients for war jobs, according to A. M. Krensky, Chicago committee chairman. This project, sponsored by the Colorado board for vocational education in coöperation with the hospital and the United States office of education, is an attempt to meet man power shortages in aviation and munitions factories.

Footlight Urge Puts Bumsteads in This Movie

"FOOTLIGHT GLAMOUR."

By Mae Tinee.

Good Morning!

The acting bug bites Blondie Bumstead and, for a time, the Bumstead home becomes just a stage and everybody, Dagwood included, in any way connected with the Bumsteads—only players. . . .

This state of affairs is disrupting to sweet domesticity and comes about thru Dagwood's having been promised a bonus by his boss if he will entertain for a few weeks, the daughter of a business man on whom boss wishes to work re a certain project. Daughter is stage struck—and in love with a sleek theatrical louse who would marry her for her money. . . . Go on from here with the picture.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 21.—William Dieterle, who's directing "Kismet," has been signed by David Selznick to direct Ingrid Bergman's next picture. They haven't decided what it will be called. Dieterle has such successes as "The Story of Louis Pasteur," "The Life of Emile Zola," and "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet" to his credit. I knew when he photographed Mme. Chiang Kai-shek's visit to Hollywood and the pageant put on in Hollywood bowl that sooner or later he would be under contract to David Selznick. . . . Alfred Hitchcock is off in 10 days to make shorts for Great Britain. He completed "Lifeboat," most difficult picture of his career, and then took its star, Tallulah Bankhead, to dinner on her last night in town. Tallulah insisted upon working with a temperature of 101, and when her doctor advised against it, she said, "O, shucks! I'll use Yogi." Twentieth offered her the Lunt play "There Shall Be No Night," but what she wants is a rest at her Connecticut home. Then she would like to go overseas to entertain the soldiers. . . . Luise Rainer, who got two academy awards but no jobs lately, is leaving for a three months tour of army camps abroad.

Hurray!

It was nice of Winston Churchill to take time out to applaud Gracie Fields and condemn the writings of an Englishman who lashed into Gracie for not remaining over there. . . . Constance Bennett's friends are rejoicing that she won the suit which concerned her son Peter. . . . In the last week, Greta Garbo's name has been mentioned for three different pictures, which inclines me to believe that the gal who always wanted to be alone has hired herself a press agent. . . . If Peggy Fears writes her memoirs, that's one story I wouldn't miss. . . . One of Martha Scott's best breaks up to date is "In Old Oklahoma." I still maintain, if given the right parts, she'll be an academy winner.

Bottom of Barrel.

Lou Costello, who's been down with rheumatic fever for nine months, got word from his draft board in Paterson, N. J., that he was 1-A, and to report for examination. He has asked for a west coast examination. Notice was sent to Louis Francis Cristillo, his real name. . . . Either "Stormy Weather" or "Cabin in the Sky" is being screened in the South Pacific. Letters are reaching my desk asking for pin-up pictures of Lena Horne. . . . Alan Ladd returns on the same job he did before he joined the army, this time on the air instead of screen. It's "China."

This Is Different

Hear tell that Elizabeth Arden is very annoyed with Salvador Dali over a painting. She was pretty annoyed, too, over one Augustus John did of her. It cost 10,000 smackers, and because it was so costly, she unveiled it at one of those colossal parties and carried on just as tho she thought she looked beautiful. . . . Gene Fowler has turned down serial rights for a big sum on the life of Jack Barrymore. . . . A note from Ian Keith about Jack: "Can't you tell Hollywood it's unthinkable to try and express the foggiest glimmer of his worth beyond the Halloween mask he used to shove at them to frighten them away? Of his real wit, sensibility, Edwardian graciousness and his superb genius for classic acting, they know nothing, and couldn't conceive of such a man even if they read it in a local trade sheet." Mighty high praise from one actor about another, but it's all true.

Women in War Work

—By Kate Massee—

[C. M. Frank Photo.]

Miss Leone Clark, chatting with Ensign William Campbell, will be one of the hostesses at a Thanksgiving party on Thursday at the Officers' club in the Hotel Knickerbocker. Dancing in the lounge will start at 4 p. m. and will continue after dinner. Mrs. Beulah Hurst is director of the club.

As the second week of a household fat salvage drive gets under way, Mrs. Walter J. Kelly, chairman of grease salvage for the Chicago metropolitan area, reports that the first seven days of the campaign have resulted in a 20 per cent increase in collections.

Following publication of announcements that small arms factories are decreasing production, Mrs. Kelly received many calls from housewives who wanted to know why fat salvage would be vital when industry's need for glycerine seems to be diminishing.

Mrs. Kelly's answer is that munitions making has swung toward large projectiles. Torpedoes and block busters need the reclaimed greases now, to fill their war heads with tons of explosives.

"Homemakers must not relax now, at the most critical period of the war," Mrs. Kelly says. "The quota of a tablespoon of waste cooking fat a day in every home must be met. It undoubtedly will mean a change of cooking and eating habits, and clever management of ration points, but salvaged home grease will bring in the estimated 230 million pounds of fats which American households must contribute this year."

Mrs. James A. Cathcart, chairman of volunteers for the Chicago chapter, American Red Cross, reports that no more evening workers will be needed until February. A number of applicants whose names are now on file must be trained.

"The employed women have responded beautifully to all appeals for volunteer assistance," Mrs. Cathcart said, in making the announcement. "Their willingness and excellent service are greatly appreciated. Now it is the housewives who must come forward during the day time hours and do the hundreds of volunteer jobs the Red Cross must perform."

The Harriet Hammond McCormick Y. W. C. A. unit of the American Women's Voluntary Services announces the opening of a new workshop at 1019 North State street.

Clothing and necessities for hospitals, orphanages, settlement houses and families of enlisted men will be made in the shop. The work is voluntary and materials have been donated by wholesale establishments, shops, and individuals. More supplies are needed, and contributions of fabrics, clothing, shoes, and costume jewelry will be appreciated. Miss Mary Riley is chairman of the sewing group.

Day time volunteer workers are especially needed to staff the shop. Women interested in this project may call the AWVS placement department, Andover 3380, or visit headquarters, 160 North La Salle street.

Two hundred girls who are pupils at the Richards vocational school, 2535 South Green street, have just cause to be proud of a recent campaign which raised $3,000 to buy a "grasshopper jeep" for the army. The drive was carried on under the supervision of the student council, of which Elizabeth Chowaniec is mayor, Theresa Wegner secretary, and Helen Barajas treasurer.

The money was raised by selling war bonds and stamps, under the chairmanship of Dorothy Dahlgren and Violet Silick, who canvassed for purchases each day for six weeks. Last semester the girls raised enough money to pay for four smaller type jeeps, which cost $1,000 each.

Toy Sought for Ailing Boy

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

If any reader has an erector set stored away, we hope that it will be donated to Mrs. Y. Her 14 year old son has been extremely ill and is now under the care of a psychiatrist. The physician has suggested that the use of the set might be helpful to the boy. The parents have made every effort to get such a set but have been unsuccessful. Since they do not live in Chicago, they will be happy to pay postage charges, if any reader will forward the requested item.

A crib is very badly needed for a 2 year old child in the M. family. There are seven youngsters, and the father's salary is not sufficient for all of their needs. The child in question has recently recovered from infantile paralysis and is now trying to walk. If any reader can provide a walker or a crib, the mother would be very grateful. The address is on the south side of the city.

Mrs. O. has asked our assistance in obtaining clothing for her three children. She has been ill and is dependent upon a small monthly income provided by a social service agency. She has been unable to purchase winter clothing for herself or her two boys, who take sizes 15 and 12, and her daughter, who wears size 10. The mother is also in need of clothing, size 18. The address is on the south side of the city.

Rabbi Mann Praised for 20 Years at Sinai Temple

Rabbi Louis Mann of Sinai temple was praised as a "great pastor with a boundless zeal for hard work" last night by Rabbi Maurice N. Wisendrath, director of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, on the occasion of Rabbi Mann's 20th anniversary as leader of the congregation.

Clever Playing of Hand Topic for Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I was only a kibitzer when the following deal was played, but the clever manipulating of the declarer, even tho it was aided and abetted by the so-called defenders, excited my admiration, and I am passing it on to you for comment. This was the layout:

"Rubber bridge.
"South, dealer.
"North-South vulnerable.

"The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 heart	1 spade
3 no trump	Double	Pass	Pass
5 clubs	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

"In the postmortem conversation South explained that he had bid three no trump because it had seemed that nine tricks would be a cinch, but that when West doubled, the club suit no longer could be counted on to produce eight solid tricks, hence South's decision to try for the minor suit game. To me, this seemed an excellent bit of deduction.

"West opened the eight of spades and declarer slyly put in dummy's jack. East, the type that plays first and then thinks [if at all], covered with the king, and South won with the blank ace. The diamond jack was then led, South hoping that if West had the ace he would duck, in which case the queen would be played and a heart discarded on the spade queen. As it happened South had even more luck than he hoped for. West didn't duck, he went up with the diamond ace, but he led another spade!

"Declarer took full advantage of this heaven-sent opportunity. On the spade queen he discarded the diamond king, not the heart that most players would foolishly ditch. Now he cashed the queen and ten of diamonds, discarding both hearts from his own hand! West ruffed the diamond ten but this cost him his natural trump trick, and the contract was on ice. Pretty neat work on South's part, don't you think?"

Yes, South did turn in a neat piece of work, and the fact that he had capitalized East's egregious error in covering the spade jack did not detract from the credit he deserved.

To make cabbage salad, combine 2 cups shredded cabbage with 6 sliced pimiento olives. Toss with dressing made of half as much lemon juice as thin cream. Season with sugar, salt, and pepper. [To make cabbage crisp, let stand in ice water for an hour after shredding.] Glazed baked apples are made by baking apples, preferably Rome Beauties, in a 375 degree F. oven about 40 minutes, or until tender. Before baking cover bottom of pan with water. To glaze, boil down until thick the sirup left in baking dish and pour over baked apples. Serve hot or cold.

Peanut butter is plentiful and unrationed. Cheese isn't so plentiful, and it is rationed. If you have no cheese to spread on those raw apple slices for use as an appetizer or "snack," try apple slices spread with peanut butter. The crunchy kind of peanut butter is especially good on apple slices. This is a healthful luncheon treat for children, too.

The amount of cranberries we get this year will be less than usual, altho approximately as much as we used to get in a short-crop year. The army will take about 30 per cent of the crop, all of the dehydrated cranberries. . . . No, we aren't going to get more olive oil now that Italy has quit. That country hasn't enough oil for her own needs. . . . Potatoes still are our biggest food supply.

It's safer to braise your sirloin steak these days. There's more beef, yes, but it isn't of the quality from which broilable sirloin comes. Most of the increase in supply is in lower grades of beef. Rather than try to broil your steak, play safe and braise it tender. A broiled steak that you can't chew is no steak at all! Dredge the meat in flour and brown it well on both sides in a little hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Turn the heat very low, place a cover on the skillet and cook your steak gently until tender. There! I never thought I'd be the one to advise braising a sirloin steak! But better low grade beef than no beef at all!

Restaurant chefs are having fun developing fine recipes using no-point meats such as pork backbones, ox tails, pig and veal tails, brains, tripe, kidneys. European chefs always knew how to make delicacies out of these "variety" meats, but Americans have been so addicted to steaks and roasts that we've neglected them.

Domestic rabbit meat is becoming a food of some importance now that other meats are scarce. And we've been using varieties of fish which never came to market before. On the east coast, a shortage of shark meat has developed, because the population has grown so addicted to this new and delicious kind of steak that fishermen haven't been able to keep up.

Here's a good way to bake carp, a fish which may also be steamed, flaked, and used in any number of fish dishes.

Baked Carp.

3 pounds carp, dressed for baking
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
4 slices bacon
1½ cups stock

Wipe dressed fish with damp cloth and cut four 2-inch gashes across one side of the fish. Dust with flour, salt and pepper mixture, and lay in greased, shallow baking pan, gashed side up. Pour stock around fish and lay bacon across top. Bake at 375 degrees for an hour. Baste fish with stock twice during baking.

STOCK: Simmer ½ cup chopped celery tops, 1 tablespoon parsley, 1 small onion, chopped, 1 tablespoon green pepper, 2 tablespoons bacon fat, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and 3 cups water for 40 minutes, then strain.

$5 PRIZE RECIPE

Pinwheel Dumplings.
[Serves six.]

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons melted margarine or shortening
⅔ cup milk
Poultry seasoning or sage
2 tablespoons softened margarine

Sift dry ingredients together. Combine egg, melted shortening and milk and add, mixing only enough to blend. Pat or roll to rectangle ¼ to ½ inch thick. Spread with softened margarine and sprinkle with poultry seasoning. Roll up and cut in 1 inch thick slices. Place cut side down on pieces of meat or vegetable in simmering stew. Cover tightly and simmer 15 minutes or place in hot oven [425 degrees] and bake uncovered about 15 minutes.

Mittens Make an Ideal Gift for Christmas

BY REA SEEGER.

The best Christmas gift handouts are mittens, but shop for them as early as you can while the present supplies are complete. Mittens for every one on your list would make shopping easy, for there are models for every individual. And the prices are as easy to take as the assortment of colors and fabrics. Fur mittens in snow white lamb or rabbitskin have palms of vivid red or green leather, and what deb or subdeb wouldn't cheer for a pair of these snowy white affairs to wear for daytime with dull black or dark colored suits or coats or for spectator sports clothes?

High colored pigskin mittens lined like a tea cozy come in traffic light green and red, too, the pigskin being assurance of long and faithful wear, no matter what the demands for service. Some natural colored pigskin mittens have decorative whip stitching around the edges and a trick pocket high on the wrist. All white leather affairs are equal to dress parade occasions with velveteen suit or dress parade chesterfields for evening wear. Some of the white leathers have cuffs of white bunny fur and some have entire linings of fur. This fur lining stunt is not restricted to the all-white mittens, for there are many colored ones lined with chill-chasing fur.

Knitted mittens continue to charm and keep the fingers toast warm. There are more colors this season than ever before. For instance, there's burnt orange, the vivid pinks, and bronze greens, lots of street shades in maroon, navy blue, copper, and steel gray—all colors to blend with suits or to wear as strong and telling contrast.

Eye blinding combinations of colors are offered in mittens of Norwegian hand-knitted designs. Elk, sleds, fur trees, and peasant figures or skiers make these always a spotlight collection. They compete with the knitted mittens of multicolored half inch bands from finger tip edge to wrists, some a riot of a dozen different bold bright colors. Pastel tinted angora mittens, looking for all the world like fistfuls of bonbon tinted whipped cream, complete the pre-Christmas gift showings . . . get them now!

Home for Friendless Marks Its 85 Years of Service with Tea

The Chicago Home for the Friendless marked 85 years of service to women and children yesterday with a tea in its headquarters at 5016 Drexel boulevard. Two hundred board members, friends of the home, and descendants of those who served on the board during its first years, were among the guests gathered in the paneled parlors of the stone house the organization occupies.

The home's history is rich in tales of pathos and joy. Its records tell of runaway boys and girls who were guided to the home to rest between trains and stayed on for months; of mothers who were given aid and comfort; of aged women who found it a haven while they waited for admittance to old people's homes.

Today, its principal work is its housekeeping and foster home services, operated in conjunction with social and welfare agencies, and the temporary care of women and children. Miss Ruth A. Sayre, the home's superintendent for 18 years, described the foster home care as a departure from the original procedure, but in line with the theory that home care is better than institutional care.

Health Talks Scheduled for Professional Women

Members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's club of Chicago will gather tonight in the Chicago Bar association rooms for the club's annual health program, which is to be preceded by a 6:30 o'clock dinner. Miss Lena Boyette, health chairman, will present two speakers — Col. Don G. Hilldrup, chief of the medical bureau of the 6th service command, who will discuss "Malaria," and Dr. Martha J. Bernheim, faculty member at Rush Medical college and the University of Chicago, whose topic will be "Socialized Medicine."

Painful Events Linger On in Mind of Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Do you think that unpleasant events linger in a child's mind? writes a mother. "I do. But persons with whom I've talked about it think it's all nonsense.

"When our son was about 4 years old a friend of ours was swinging him in the hammock. The rope broke and little Ted was thrown out and his wrist dislocated. This same friend visited us again last week and Ted, 6 years old now, said, 'O, yes, I remember you. You're the man who hurt my wrist.' But the child failed to recognize another friend who had been absent for a similar period. Only pleasant things occurred when he was with Ted. I think this proves my point."

I quite agree. Pleasant things seem to be taken more or less for granted, but unpleasant things children remember for months, even years.

It's natural, I suppose, that children should take lovingness, understanding, kindness, and happiness for granted, and not easily forget the unpleasant things. We who are introducing life to our young children should always keep this fact well in mind, especially because children do not always show their hurt. They don't often share their deeper feelings. It isn't that they mean to be reticent; it's simply not instinctive for children to talk about their deeper experiences, for they probably couldn't if they wanted to. To be really articulate about emotions far beneath the surface is a capacity even many grownups never achieve.

Barring mishaps over which we have no control, we can do our utmost to keep their childhood as far as possible free from fear and unhappiness. Timely thought and a deep understanding will help us to save them from many unnecessary heartaches.

Jane C. Steel, Monticello, Ill.—Since sponges and other similar scouring agents are scarce I find that a discarded brush formerly used for dressing suede shoes is a great help in cleansing pots and pans.

Mrs. J. Baer, 1635 East 53d street, Chicago—The most economical and gratifying experiment I ever made was on the black broadtail collar and revers of my spring coat. I covered small bald spots with uneven stitches of black silk floss. This was so successful that I decided to do the same with my fur coat, which was of smooth, black caracul. Later I had difficulty in finding the spots when I wanted to show them to a friend.

Stritch Warns Christianity's Foes Are Busy

Calling for the strengthening of a church front, Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch yesterday told 1,500 delegates to the annual meeting of the Catholic archdiocesan Holy Name union at the Palmer House that powerful and clever forces thruout the world are endeavoring to destroy Christianity. The archbishop did not specify the forces behind the anti-religious movement.

"Forces thruout the world are intent on destroying religion," Archbishop Stritch said. "Sometimes they speak nice words about it, but their intent to crowd religion out of public life and out of public institutions remains the same. They are powerful and clever. They are achieving results.

"We stand for Christian truth. They talk about justice and high principles. But how can there be high principles when they are willing to sacrifice principles or compromise them. The church's answer is a united front."

In his praise for the work of the Big Brother committee of the Holy Name society, the archbishop said there is "too much hysteria in juvenile delinquency studies today." The Big Brother work, he said, is an "efficient, fact finding, deliberate method" of meeting the juvenile delinquency situation in this area.

THANKSGIVING SUPPER . . .
EASY TO LOOK AT, EASY TO SERVE
Remembering that left-over turkey in the ice box, you'll probably be ready to eat again Thanksgiving evening. So here's a delectable supper . . . light, but filling enough to satisfy those second hunger pangs. Served buffet style, this is an easy one. If you don't have enough left-over turkey or chicken to use, the platter will still be mighty nice to look at (and good eating, too) if you pinch-hit with cold meat and cheese.

THANKSGIVING SUPPER
Menu
HOT B-V APPETIZER
WILSON'S CERTIFIED TURKEY, COLD
MOLDED CRANBERRY SALAD
HOT ROLLS
RADISH ROSES & CELERY
COFFEE MILK

Nutritious Warmer-Upper
A hot B-V cocktail is just the thing to whet the appetite. For each three servings, just allow 1 tsp. Wilson's B-V, dissolved in 1 tbsp. boiling water, ⅓ cup water and ⅔ cup tomato juice. A few points for the tomato juice but none at all for Wilson's B-V which lifts many a dish out of the doldrums.

Molded Cranberry Salad
This recipe will take care of 12 of your public. Cook 4 cups of cranberries in 1 cup of water until skins pop. Force through sieve, measure and add 1 cup of pineapple juice and enough hot water to make 3½ cups. Stir in 2 cups of sugar until dissolved. (If pineapple juice is sweetened, use only 1⅓ cups of sugar.) Soak 2 tbsp. unflavored gelatine in ½ cup cold water for 5 minutes. Dissolve in the hot cranberry mixture and chill until partially congealed. Combine 1 cup diced pineapple with 2 cups nut meats. Stir into gelatine mixture and pour into large, oiled mold.
So Good, So Eye-Appealing
Let the molded cranberry salad, bedecked with cream cheese, be the centerpiece on your most handsome serving dish. Have fun with a pastry tube, making those scallops of cream cheese. The sunflower (or maybe it's a new variety of chrysanthemum) was achieved with wedges of pineapple, secured with toothpicks. Holding down the rest of the platter is some expertly sliced Wilson's Certified Turkey, so especially good served cold. (Let's see that there's a fine edge on the carving knife so that the man in your family will enjoy his work.)
In Case Turkey Runs Short
What to do if your family runs out of turkey before you have a chance to serve it a second time, for supper? Simple! The idea is to have something "meaty" with the piquant salad, so just fall back upon that handy can of Wilson's MOR you always keep in reserve. Alternate thin, delicious slices of hearty MOR with slices of Wilson's Certified American Cheese, and you're all fixed.
Savingly yours, George Rector

Use KNOX Gelatine to STRETCH BUTTER!
USE KNOX IN RECIPES TO STRETCH MEAT AND OTHER RATIONED FOODS. NO POINTS NEEDED
RECIPE
KNOX SPREAD
Make ½ lb. Spread with ¼ lb. of Butter
1 teaspoonful Knox Gelatine
1 tablespoonful cold water
¼ pound butter
¼ teaspoonful salt
½ cup fresh milk or evaporated milk
1. Soften gelatine in cold water. (If fresh milk is used, soften gelatine in 1 tablespoonful milk, instead of cold water.) Dissolve thoroughly over hot water.
2. Cut butter into small pieces and heat over hot water until soft enough to beat, but do not melt the butter.
3. Add dissolved gelatine and salt to the milk (having milk at room temperature). Gradually whip milk into butter with a Dover (or rotary) egg beater or electric mixer, until milk does not separate. Add coloring, if desired.
4. Pack into dish or container and place in refrigerator until hard. Keep in refrigerator when not in use.
Note: To make 1 lb. spread with ½ lb. butter, follow same directions, but double ingredients called for in ¼ lb. recipe.
Note: The above recipe may also be used with Oleomargarine, as well as with ½ butter and ½ Oleomargarine combined.

WISCONSIN PICKS JOE KEENAN AS MOST VALUABLE

CHICAGOAN IS CANDIDATE FOR TRIBUNE AWARD

Serves as Captain in Five Games.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 21 [Special].—Joseph D. [Little Joe] Keenan, center, was selected by the University of Wisconsin football squad as the most valuable player on the 1943 war time varsity and will enter the competition for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S annual most valuable player award, Coach Harry Stuhldreher announced today.

Keenan, a Chicago boy, was the outstanding player on the Badger eleven all season and on five occasions was selected by Coach Stuhldreher to be acting captain. He played almost 550 minutes out of a possible 600 on the tough Wisconsin schedule and drew the starting assignment in every game except the season opener. Joe, a 6 foot, 211 pound batter, was one of the few experienced players Stuhldreher had thruout the season. Keenan had played freshman football at Notre Dame and in the fall of 1942 played both center and tackle with the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight team.

JOE KEENAN.

He's Naval Trainee.

The husky lineman was praised by Stuhldreher as a great competitor, a smart defensive player, and a natural born leader on the gridiron.

Keenan is a naval trainee at the university where he is studying electrical engineering. He was especially brilliant against Camp Grant, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, and Iowa and won from Sheldon Biese, Minnesota scout, the statement that he was the finest defensive center the former Gopher star had seen in the Western conference this year.

Will Name Honorary Captain.

The Badger lineman also played basketball during his high school days and is said to be a clever boxer who may turn out for a place on Coach John Walsh's ring team this winter. Keenan was the most colorful performer in a drab Wisconsin season which found the Badgers winning only one game in their schedule of 10 this year.

The squad will be entertained on Tuesday night at a dinner at which time Stuhldreher will name the honorary captain of the Badgers for the last season.

Scoring—Bruneteau [Liscombe] 6:18; Gottselig [Johnson] 14:12.

Penalties—Egan [2], W. Smith, Heyliger, Sherritt.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP).—With Mud Bruneteau contributing three goals, the Detroit Red Wings smashed a four game National Hockey league winning streak tonight by defeating the Chicago Blackhawks, 5 to 2, before 13,020. Syd Howe caged a penalty shot for Detroit.

Howe, returning from a two game injury layoff, was held by Defenseman George Allen of Chicago while attempting to score in the middle period and was awarded a major penalty shot. While all other players looked on, Howe swooped in alone and slid the puck under Goalie Hec Highton's skate. It was the first such shot of the season.

Bruneteau Exends Total.

Bruneteau ran his goal production up to 12 in 8 games by gathering one in each period. Carl Liscombe and Howe got the others, while Clint Smith and aged Johnny Gottselig scored for Chicago.

Detroit put a three year jinx to work to win and move into a share of second place with Chicago. The Hawks, who came here with a record of 27 goals in four games, seized an early 1 to 0 lead but Detroit then poured five shots past Highton before Gottselig whistled a 50 footer past Jimmy Franks for the final marker.

Meet Again Thursday.

On Detroit ice, the Hawks have failed to gain a victory in 15 starts since March, 1940. The Hawks will have a chance to atone for tonight's defeat Thursday when the same teams meet in Chicago Stadium.

Detroit got two goals and Chicago scored one while the opposition was short handed, but Detroit had a man off the ice in the third period when Bruneteau broke away and beat Highton cleanly to complete hockey's hat trick. Against Boston two weeks ago, Bruneteau scored four goals.

Aside from the five he couldn't stop, Highton handled 25 chances in the Chicago nets compared to 18 by Franks.

Hutson Leads Green Bay to 31-7 Triumph

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 21.—Those 18,992 patrons who journeyed out to Ebbets field this afternoon to catch the final local showing of Don Hutson saw even more than they'd expected. They knew pretty well the Dodgers were going to get beaten somewhere around 31 to 7 as they were, and they knew Hutson would stage another of his pass-catching carnivals—but the manner in which the incredible end came up with the ball thruout the afternoon exceeded their fondest expectations.

While scoring two touchdowns and setting up a third on the 6 yard line, Hutson snared passes he didn't seem to have a chance on. He'd grab 'em with some Dodger defender draped around his neck, or he'd cut back to take a wobbly undershot toss out of some bewildered opponent's hands.

Kicks Four Extra Points.

In addition, Don's equally talented toe boosted four extra points across the bar, and added a field goal to hike his league-leading point total to 97.

Hutson's feat of grabbing the eight passes for 219 yards was good for a league record, replacing his old figure of 209 yards gained passing in a single game, established a year ago against the Cleveland Rams.

It took Green Bay just four plays to go all the way to a tally. On the fourth play, Tony Canadeo hoisted a long lob to Hutson that produced a 52 yard touchdown. Tony's pass was short and shaky, as were most of the passes Hutson had to deal with, but Don simply came to a dead stop on the 13, and, while

MOUNT CARMEL, ST. GEORGE PLAY 0-0 TIE IN CATHOLIC TITLE GAME

BY FRANK NORRIS.

The Catholic High School league football championship game between St. George and Mount Carmel yesterday in Soldiers' field ended in a scoreless tie. The game, played before a shivering crowd of 7,500, failed to provide an opponent for Phillips, the City league champion, in the Mayor Kelly bowl game scheduled for next Saturday afternoon in the lake front arena.

The two coaches, Max Burnell of St. George and Wally Fromhart of Mount Carmel, will meet with Catholic High School league officials at 11:30 a. m. today in the offices of City Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes in the City hall to decide on the playoff date between the Dragons and the Caravan.

May Play Saturday.

There is some indication that St. George and Mount Carmel may play again next Saturday, necessitating a postponement of one week for the Kelly Bowl game. There was an early movement to hold the playoff on Wednesday, but it was pointed out that this might work hardship on the Catholic representatives, as it would mean that the victor would have to oppose Phillips, the City league winner, after only two days of rest.

Marty Wendell was the outstanding player. The Dragon quarter back carried the brunt of his team's offense and with Dick Ratcliffe was superb in backing up the line. Jim O'Malley, St. George center, turned in his usual sparkling defensive game, tearing in repeatedly to throw Mount Carmel backs for losses.

Ends Show Skill.

The Dragons, a widely heralded ground crew, accumulated only 76 yards net from scrimmage as compared with the Caravan's net 31 yards. Mount Carmel had a slight edge in the forward passing due mainly to Bobby Carroll. The Caravan was successful on 4 of its 12 attempts good for 47 yards. St. George's one completion in six efforts produced only 5 yards.

In the battle that failed to decide anything St. George had an advantage in first downs, 7 to 4, but Carroll had a punting average of 33.4 per attempt to Dick Ratcliffe's 28.9 average.

Dragons Miss 3 Chances.

The Dragons lived up to their past performances by blowing three scoring opportunities in the first quarter. Ratcliffe recovered Fred Hendron's fumble on the Mount Carmel 30 yard line. Three plays gained 6 yards and Joe Purcell recovered John Pflum's fumble on the Caravan 22.

St. George looked as if it would capitalize on another drive but this, too, was ended by a fumble. Taking the ball on the Caravan 38, Wendell got 8 over left tackle and Ratcliffe made it first down on the 28. Whitey Jones made 3 and Wendell barged thru tackle for a first down on the 17. Wendell reached the 9 yard line

BY EDWARD PRELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21—Sam Baugh limped off a camp chair in front of the Washington Redskins' bench with less than seven minutes played in the champions' battle this afternoon with the Chicago Bears. The Redskins were on the Bears' 20 yard line and the Bears were sure the Texan had a forward pass in mind. Instead, Wilbur Moore took the ball from Sam on a Statue of Liberty play, one of football's ancient maneuvers, and dashed for a touchdown.

On this foundation, the crippled Redskins, playing like the champions they are, whipped the Bears, 21 to 7. More than that, the Bears were blanked until the fourth period, when Sid Luckman, rushed and battered all day long by the Washington forwards, shot a pass to Ray McLean, who raced 47 yards for a touchdown. Altho all in all it was a sad 27th birthday anniversary for Luckman, his touchdown pass to McLean was his 24th of the season and tied Cecil Isbell's record set last year. Baugh has made 20 touchdown passes this year.

Crowd of 35,672 in Frenzy.

Baugh made three other dramatic entrances which sent the crowd of 35,672 into a frenzy. On his third appearance, in the third quarter, he pitched a forward pass to Andy Farkas. And later in the same period George Cafego, the Redskins' $100 player and former Tennessee star, threw a scoring aerial to Alex Piasecky, a rooky from Duke.

That was the ball game until the consolation Chicago touchdown, and Washington partisans had seen the Redskins emerge from an underdog role just as they had here on Dec. 13, 1942, when they walloped the Bears, 14 to 6, for the world professional championship.

Two Others Crippled.

The last view the fans had of the limping Baugh was when he held the ball while his crippled associate, Bob Masterson, kicked his third straight point after touchdown. A third injured Redskin, Dick Farman, All-National league guard, wasn't even in uniform. Baugh

BY BOB BECKER.

Inasmuch as the government already has closed or will shut down several big arsenals manufacuring small arms ammunition, sportsmen may get more shotgun shells for, as hunters point out, materials used in the war plants might be diverted for the manufacture of sporting ammunition needed if America's big crops of wild game are to be harvested.

The manufacture of shotgun shells and all ammunition for civilian use are under jurisdiction of the war production board. This fall only 82,500,000 shotgun shells were manufactured, plus approximately 18,000,000 rifle cartridges. This amount was less than 10 per cent shot by hunters during a normal year and was wholly inadequate for sportsmen and farmers to take the annual harvest of pheasants, duck, rabbits, and other wild game species which have been increasing so rapidly during the last few years that in some states farmers were asking for help in controling the migratory and upland game birds on their lands.

Consume Unharvested Crops.

So few shells were allotted to dealers that in some cases stores which received 1,500 orders for a single box of 12 gauge shotgun shells received just 64 boxes to fill these orders.

Hunters with no ammunition are watching approximately 150,000,000 ducks flying south this fall, the biggest flight in 43 years. Already the hungry waterfowl have inflicted damage to farms in some western states by consuming unharvested crops in the fields. In South Dakota the pheasant hatch is so large this year that some counties have a 129 day open season.

Replace Rationed Meats.

Authorities point out that a sane harvest of the game crops during the legal open seasons not only would help farmers in many localities but also produce millions of pounds of edible wild game meat for use in the home. Ira N. Gabrielson, head of the United States fish and wild life service has reported that last year, when hunters had ammunition, more than 250,000,000 pounds of wild game meat were brought home by rifle and shotgun enthusiasts and used in the home in place of rationed meats requiring points. The service was a leader in the campaign to obtain adequate supplies of shotgun and rifle ammunition for civilians so that the sport of hunting could be preserved and America's game populations kept in balance.

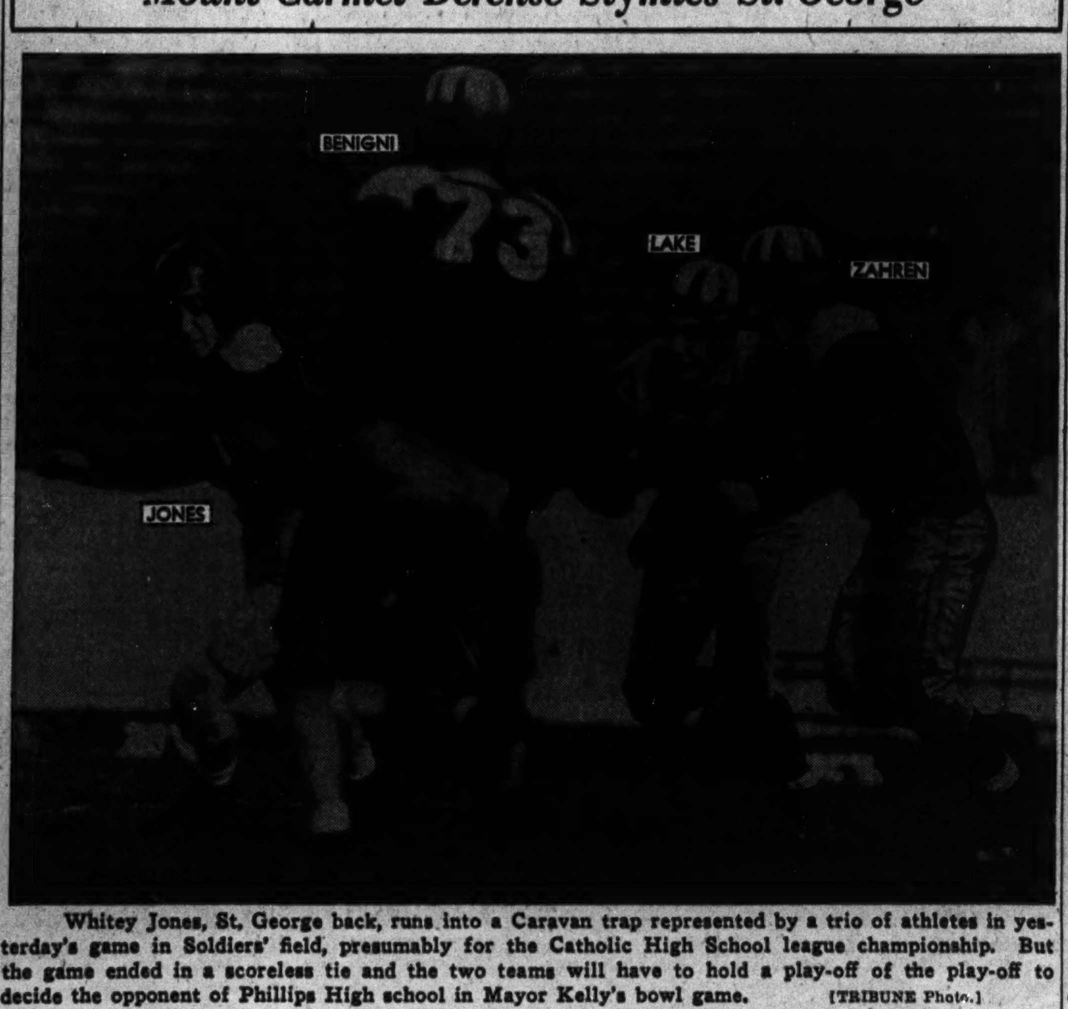
Beau Jack Turns Down Bout with Julie Kogon

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21 (AP).—The possibility of a lightweight title fight in the New Haven arena between Beau Jack, who regained the New York version of the championship Friday night from Bob Montgomery, and Julie Kogon, faded today when Chick Wergeles, the champion's manager, turned down a $10,000 offer made recently by Matchmaker Johnny Attell. Kogon, New Haven favorite engaged in a comeback, has knocked out his last five opponents.

Mount Carmel Defense Stymies St. George



Whitey Jones, St. George back, runs into a Caravan trap represented by a trio of athletes in yesterday's game in Soldiers' field, presumably for the Catholic High School league championship. But the game ended in a scoreless tie and the two teams will have to hold a play-off of the play-off to decide the opponent of Phillips High school in Mayor Kelly's bowl game. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

but Ratcliffe failed to gain. Pflum lost 3 and O'Brien recovered the ball, which was battered from Ratcliffe's hand, as he attempted to pass on the Mount Carmel 24.

Another fumble by Hendron which was recovered by Ratcliffe on the Mount Carmel 24 failed to pay dividends. Altho Jones was tossed for a 3 yard loss, Mount Carmel was offside and penalized 5 yards. Three pass plays failed after Wendell lost 4 and Caravan took over on its 23.

Caravan Makes Threat.

Mount Carmel had an excellent opportunity to go ahead in the closing minutes of the first half but lacked the scoring punch necessary to produce the touchdown.

Carroll began this scoring threat with a 5 yard pass to Benigni and he reached the St. George 28 yard line for a gain of 19 yards. Carroll made 1 and then reached the 22 when he was unable to locate a pass receiver. Hendron pushed thru center for a first down on the 15. Hendron reached the 8 and Jack O'Leary made it first down on the 3 on a wide left end sweep. Hendron got 2 in two attempts and O'Leary made it first down on the 3 on a wide left end sweep. Hendron got 2 in two attempts and O'Leary failed to gain on a wide right end sweep and Carroll's fourth down pass intended for William Tracey was batted down by Jones.

FORT SHERIDAN WINS 4TH; TOPS ENGINEERS, 26-0

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Fort Sheridan, making its first appearance on a Chicago football field in 15 years, defeated the Camp McCoy Engineers in Wrigley field yesterday, 26 to 0.

It was Fort Sheridan's fourth victory in seven starts this season and should prime the team for its final contest against Gardiner General hospital [formerly Chicago Beach hotel] in Highland Park Dec. 5.

At the same time, the Engineers played their last game of the campaign, yesterday's setback giving them a record of two victories, one tie, and three defeats.

The Engineers appeared the better team in the first period, their speed and alertness keeping the ball in enemy territory thruout. However, they tired in the second quarter, a fact which gave Fort Sheridan an opportunity to score twice. Fort Sheridan also registered two touchdowns in the third period, but its attack faltered in the last quarter when Bill Sims, ex-Indiana end, who had been playing a major part in his team's offensive, was forced out. HOLY CROSS STAR GETS 23 POINTS IN 41-0 VICTORY

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21 (AP).—Stan Koslowski, Holy Cross half back, staked a strong claim on eastern football's individual scoring title by boosting his total to 75 points as the Crusaders overwhelmed Tufts, 41 to 0, today before 15,000 in Fenway park.

The Freshman star accounted for three of the six touchdowns and all five of the extra points as he turned the Crusaders' final game into a one man show. He carried the ball 22 times for 204 yards and added 49 more by catching passes for a grand total of 1,230 yards in the eight game campaign, during which Holy Cross was beaten by Dartmouth and Cornell.

2,000 Watch Spartas Rout British Flyers

BY OFFSIDE.

Playing in a drizzling rain that held the attendance down to fewer than 2,000, the Spartas blanked the British Royal Air Force Flyers, 5 to 0, yesterday afternoon in Sparta stadium in an international soccer game for the benefit of Chicago's service men centers.

The Flyers, who are stationed at Patterson Field near Dayton, O., were no match for the Spartas who outclassed them in all departments and held the lead after 37 minutes of play.

Score in 37 Minutes.

Poor marksmanship kept the Spartas from scoring until late in the first half when Jimmy Wolf breasted the ball over the goal line on an assist from Henry Kuhn. The Spartas had two more scoring chances before the end of the half but muffed both, leading 1 to 0 as the gun sounded.

The Spartas turned the match into a rout in the second half when James Kriz hit the goal from 10 yards and Jimmy Wolf connected again a few moments later to make the score 3 to 0. Before the end of play Wolf scored from 15 yards out and Kriz added another goal to increase the margin to 5 to 0. The Flyers rallied in the final five minutes when they played their best soccer but couldn't penetrate the tight defense of the Spartas.

Italians Win Preliminary.

The Italians won the preliminary match from the Necaxas, 3 to 1. Play in the Illinois state semi-finals will highlight next Sunday's program which finds the Hakoahs meeting the Spartas in Sparta stadium and the Vikings playing the Schwabens in Winnemac stadium. The lineups:

CUFF, LEEMANS STAR AS GIANTS TOP CARDS, 24-13

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 21.—A couple of veterans with the spark of rookies—Ward Cuff and Tuffy Leemans—drove the New York Giants to a 24 to 13 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals before 19,804 today.

Cuff bucked to one touchdown, converted three, and place-kicked the longest field goal of the year, 45 yards. Tuffy, who doubles as back field coach, completed 13 of 22 passes for 147 yards. Two of Tuffy's tosses went for touchdowns.

'Twas much ado about nothing, tho. Despite two last period touchdowns, the Cards were trumped for the ninth time in as many games this season. And, despite their victory, the Giants were mathematically eliminated from the eastern division title, since Washington also won, and failed to regain second place, since the Phil-Pitts were victorious, too.

EAGLES WIN, 35-34

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP).—Detroit and Pittsburgh-Philadelphia tossed defense to the wind today, putting on a wild, thrilling offensive show which the Eagles finally won, 35 to 34, in a National Football league game before 23,338. The lead changed hands four times.

The Lions, after spotting the Eagles 14 points at the outset, came back to get two touchdowns in the second period. The deciding point developed after Detroit's second score when Ernie Steele charged thru to block Augie Lio's try for extra point.

Redskins Hand Bears 1st Loss of Season, 21-7

As in the 1942 payoff game, it was a case of the Bear line being outcharged by the Redskin forwards. And as in 1942, Luckman had his one off day, a striking contrast to his seven touchdown performance of a week ago against the Giants.

Luckman, whose forward passing this season has eclipsed even that of Baugh, had little time to pick out his receivers. Three of his passes were intercepted, and the only one thrown by Bob Snyder, his relief man, was snared by an alert Redskin. Luckman pitched 23 times and completed 9 for 145 yards. Baugh threw five passes, four of them clicking for 37 yards.

First League Defeat Since 1941.

The defeat was the first suffered by the Bears in league play since November of 1941, when they lost to the Green Bay Packers, 16 to 14. It likewise was the westerners' first loss of the season after they had won seven straight. It was Washington's sixth triumph in seven league contests, the other one having been a tie with Phil-Pitt.

With Baugh available only for brief turns when scoring opportunities were at hand, Cafego carried the brunt of the Washington offensive. Three weeks ago the Bears claimed the Tennesseean on waivers from Brooklyn, but the Dodgers withdrew the papers. Recently the Redskins were successful in obtaining George from Brooklyn at the $100 waiver price.

Moore Aided by Seno.

Moore, whose touchdown run put the Redskins in motion, was the man who started the Bears on the road to defeat in the title game last December. On that occasion he took a pass in the end zone from Baugh. Today, Moore had some running help from Frank Seno, who played football at Mendota [Ill.] High school. Seno set up the third touchdown with a 52 yard dash thru the Bears. Moore's biggest gain also came in the third quarter, a 27 yard run, which brought on Baugh's fourth appearance, his only unsuccessful one.

The Bears will close their season next Sunday in Comiskey park against the Cardinals, needing a victory or tie to qualify for the league play-off game in Wrigley field on Dec. 19. The statistics:

2 Pin Leaders Fall in Round Robin Events

Only three of the five men who yesterday led their respective groups in the round robin competition, preliminary play for the National All-Star bowling tournament are still on top this morning.

Dan Gullickson at Bowling Lanes, Adam Plunge at the Rose bowl, and Ed Schlichting at Monte Carlo clung to their first place ratings, but only after heated debates. The other two, Clarence Jackson at Cascade and Adam Oczkowski at Garden Recreation, found themselves deposed as the tempo of play in yesterday's third and fourth round matches was stepped up.

Jules Sowa beat Jackson three games and took over the top spot at Cascade with a 74.12 Petersen point total. Jackson's mark of 71.21 was good only for third place behind Paul Zima's 72.33. At the Garden Recreation Lee Zender replaced Adam Oczkowski who slipped to fourth place behind Zender, Carl Winterberg and Wally Freitag who had respective totals of 70.31, 69.42, and 68.09.

At the Rose Bowl Bill Smith turned in the high single game, a 268, while Art Circle's 873 four game total, including a 258 single, at Monte Carlo, was high.

Standings with point ratings:

ADELINE LINK SERVICES TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Famous U. of C. Chemist, Ill 10 Days, Dies.

Memorial services for Mrs. Adeline de Sale Link, assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Chicago, and considered one of America's outstanding women chemists, will be held at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow in Joseph Bond chapel on the Midway. Prof. Link died Saturday in the Albert Merritt Billings hospital.

She and her husband, Prof. George K. K. Link of the botany department, who survives, had formed a unique husband-wife professorial team at the university since 1922. Since their marriage in 1918, they had assisted each other in scientific research.

Became Ill in September.

Prof. Adeline Link suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last September while on a train en route to Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the American Association of University Women. She was chairman of the fellowship and scholarship award committee of that association. In spite of her illness, she attended the conference, and presided over her section.

After her return to Chicago, Prof. Link seemingly moved toward recovery, but was stricken again 10 days ago.

"Prof. Link was one of the outstanding women chemists of America, and contributed much to the science of chemistry," said Prof. Herman I. Schlesinger, executive secretary of the chemistry department of the university, yesterday.

Born in Omaha 51 Years Ago.

Prof. Link was born in Omaha, Neb., 51 years ago, and educated at Vassar and the University of Chicago. She taught at Lawrence college from 1917 to 1921. She specialized in research on chemical reactions, and was co-author of a laboratory manual. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and the American Chemical society, and was a student counsellor.

She leaves in addition to her husband, her mother, Mrs. Mae Manton de Sale, Springfield, Ill., and a sister, Mrs. Richard Henley, Melbourne, Fla. The Link home is at 1524 East 59th street.

BIG WAVES RIP FOUNDATION OF ZION BUILDING

Waves lashing the beach at Zion in a lake storm yesterday undermined the foundation of Zion Christian Catholic church junior guards' club building, causing damage of about $1,000, and threatened two cottages owned by Judge John Bills of Zion and Paul Benson of Chicago.

One hundred fifty Boy Scouts and other volunteers built a sea wall of 2,000 bags of sand to protect the three structures, but Judge Bills said they will be destroyed unless the fury of the wind and waves subsides.

The rise in the level of Lake Michigan during the last year increased the high water menace produced by the present storm, property owners said.

COUNT ZU REVENTLOW, GERMAN AUTHOR AND CRITIC, IS DEAD AT 74

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The death of Count Ernst Zu Reventlow, 74 year old author and journalist, in Munich was reported today in a DNB dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio. Militant and aggressive, Reventlow was for more than 30 years the stormy petrel of German political life. His pugnacious attacks on persons and systems earned him the nickname of "the everlasting anti."

Born Aug. 18, 1869, in Holstein, he was the scion of a distinguished family. He married a Frenchwoman, Countess Marie Gabrielle Blanche D'Allemont, and resigned a naval commission to try farming in Central America. He soon returned and became a newspaper man. He made wholesale attacks on everything and everybody from Kaiser Wilhelm II. to the German navy, army, and diplomatic corps.

With the advent of Hitler, Reventlow thought he had found salvation, and in 1927 became a member of the Nazi party. He was noted for his hatred of Britain and communism.

LUTHERAN HOUR PROGRAM HEARD IN 27 COUNTRIES

20 Mexican Stations Added to List.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The Lutheran hour, featuring the talks of Dr. Walter A. Maier, which has been added to the W-G-N Sunday program schedule [2:30 p. m.], also is aired over a score of Mexican stations linked together in the network called Radio Mil. The broadcast follows hard upon the radio reports of the Mexico City bull fights. It is broadcast to Mexico in Spanish. The program is broadcast thru 450 stations to 27 nations.

The Chicago chapter of the American Federation of Radio Artists will hold its annual AFRA antics next Saturday night in the Grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman. Radio, stage, and screen stars will be on hand to provide a show for the public. All proceeds will go to AFRA's service men's and sick fund.

The Vox Poppers, Parks Johnson and Warren Hull, recently presented the football team of Penn State college, known as the Nittany Lions, a lion cub as a mascot. They brought it out from New York. However, it went on a hunger strike and had to be taken back to its mother in New York. There it will stay until it is old enough to take up its assignment as a football team mascot.

Carol, Rumania's exiled king, is to speak from Mexico City on the WBBM-CBS program. Report to the Nation, at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow. This is to be Carol's first broadcast since he left his throne. Carol latterly has been trying without success to get into the United States.

There are now three Ameches on the air. Don's younger brother, Jim, is featured on several network shows. And now comes Jim Jr., 5 years old, appearing regularly in the serial drama, "Big Sister."

Raise Individuals' Ante 500 Million.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—The sale of 14 billion dollars' worth of war bonds and stamps will be the government's goal in the fourth war loan drive that will start Jan. 18, Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, announced tonight.

He offered no explanation why the government would seek one billion dollars less than the 15 billion goal of the third war loan drive which produced more than 17 billion dollars. His announcement, however, disclosed that the government will seek 5½ billion from the individual investors, approximately ½ billion more than they subscribed in the last drive.

Offer Two Issues for Banks.

For the first time in the war fund campaigns there will be a government security designed to meet the investment requirements of the savings deposit departments of commercial banks. Morgenthau said the treasury would permit the banks to "make limited investments" in a 2½ per cent issue maturing in 1970 and a 2¼ per cent issue maturing in 1959 "under a formula to be announced later."

The 2½ per cent bond will be dated Feb. 1, 1944, be due March 15, 1970, and callable March 15, 1965. It will be issued in coupon or registered form at the option of the buyers, in denominations from $500 to 1 million dollars. Commercial banks, which are defined for this purpose as banks accepting demand deposits, will not be permitted to own these bonds until Feb. 1, 1954, except for the limited investment of time deposits.

Usual Types to Be Offered.

The 2¼ per cent bond will be dated Feb. 1, 1944, be due Sept. 15, 1959, and callable Sept. 15, 1956. It also will be issued in coupon or registered form in $500 to 1 million dollar denominations. Commercial banks will not be permitted to own these bonds until Sept. 15, 1946, except for the limited investment of time deposits.

Other securities to be offered in the drive will be the regular series E, F, and G war bonds, series C savings notes and ⅞ per cent certificates of indebtedness. Morgenthau said the treasury will request commercial banks not to buy any of the certificates until after Feb. 15. He also said he would ask the bond dealers not to trade in any of the marketable securities offered in the drive.

Ask Buying Thru Own Bank.

To avoid unnecessary transfers of funds from one locality to another, the treasury requested that all subscriptions by corporations and firms be entered and paid for thru the banking institutions where their funds are located.

In order to help in achieving its objective of selling as many securities as possible outside of the banking system, the treasury requested the coöperation of all banking institutions in declining to make speculative loans for the purchase of government securities.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC GAINS ONLY 3% DURING OCTOBER

The nation's class I railroads handled approximately 3 per cent more ton-miles of revenue freight during October, 1943, than in October, 1942, a preliminary estimate by the Association of American Railroads said yesterday.

During the first 10 months of 1943, gains approximated 15 per cent from the corresponding 1942 period, 55 per cent from 1941, and 123 per cent from 1939. September freight handling rose about 8.2 per cent from a year earlier.

OWNERSHIP CERTIFICATE.

Answer: Not always. Since Jan. 1, 1943, a United States citizen or resident is required to provide an ownership certificate only in connection with tax-free covenant bonds issued before Jan. 1, 1934. Usually the person presenting a coupon is asked to fill out an ownership certificate, however, for by this means it is possible for the corporation or the trustee to maintain a list of the bondholders.

Ownership certificates are required in connection with the payment of interest on bonds held by a nonresident alien, individual or fiduciary, a nonresident partnership made up in whole or in part of nonresident aliens, or a nonresident foreign corporation.

If the debtor corporation derived less than 20 per cent of its gross income from sources within the United States during the preceding three years, or if the debtor is a nonresident foreign corporation, ownership certificates are not required in connection with interest payments on the corporation's obligations.

New Estimate of Tax May Be Needed Dec. 15

This year Dec. 15 will be more than the deadline for payment of the final instalment on 1943 estimated income tax liability. For farmers it also is the deadline for filing a declaration of estimated income tax for 1943 [other tax payers had to file by Sept. 15], and many others may find it necessary to file an amended declaration or estimate because of changed circumstances since their original estimate was handed in.

An individual who has received or will receive a large amount of income he did not anticipate when the Sept. 15 declaration was filed must make an amended declaration by Dec. 15 and pay any additional tax liability indicated by the new estimate.

Must Figure Increases.

Investors who cash in on stock market profits in the last few months of the year, for example, must take this additional income into account, as must individuals whose earnings have increased materially.

Individuals who were not required to file a Sept. 15 declaration but since have determined that their 1943 income will be less than that for 1942, must file a declaration by Dec. 15.

New Scrutiny Is Urged.

Persons who receive more than $100 in 1943 from sources other than wages or salary—such as dividends or rents—must file a declaration. Thus, an unexpected dividend could obligate an individual to file a declaration altho he previously was excused.

The treasury department is urging all tax payers to reëxamine their personal affairs before Dec. 15 to determine if they must file new declarations. In any event, Dec. 15 is the deadline for paying the final instalment on 1943 taxes not being withheld at the source of income.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—The federal fish and wild life service reports 68,566,622 pounds of fish and shellfish were handled by Chicago wholesalers during the first 10 months of 1943, an increase of 76 per cent over the corresponding period of 1939.

The total so far this year has already passed the figure for all of 1942, the service said, and the market apparently is still growing rapidly.

Despite Chicago's inland location, the largest increases have been in salt water fishes. Imports from Canada also have shown a decided increase. Shipments of salt water species have increased 41 per cent over last year, while fresh water species, normally available from near-by areas, have increased only 18 per cent.

PRIVATE FIRMS' WORKER ROLLS DIP UNDER 1942

New York, Nov. 22 (AP).—Total employment, including persons in military service, rose to a record peak of 64.7 million persons in September, the national industrial conference board estimated today.

It said employment rose 820,000 during the month, but that the number of persons working in private industry, excluding agriculture, continued to decline, dropping 300,000 below the total for September last year. Employment in manufacturing industries dipped for the first time since last May, the survey said.

Civilian Office Space Use Rises; U. S. Renting Less

Civilian occupancy in large office buildings is increasing, but government space requirements apparently have passed their peak, a survey by the National Association of Building Owners and Managers indicated yesterday. Despite a slight decline in federal occupancy, buildings gained 1.33 per cent between May 1 and Oct. 1. Occupancy in Chicago increased 0.49 per cent, with 87.65 per cent of the 26,801,216 square feet of space rented.

Steel Deliveries Eased for Numerous Products

Cleveland, O., Nov. 21 (AP).—Deliveries of steel products, except plates and sheets, continue to level off and in some instances are actually easier because of "less pressure for certain types of shells and for machine tools," the magazine Steel reported today. February delivery is now offered on a wide range of carbon specifications in steel bars.

EASTERN GROUP PLANS BID FOR BANKERS LIFE

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 21 (AP).—Paul O. Buckley, Newtown, Conn., industrialist, said today that financial interests in which he is a principal, after having attempted unsuccessfully to negotiate a private purchase, would bid for the common stock of the Illinois Bankers' Life Assurance company at a sale ordered by an Illinois court.

Buckley said an offer of $1,550,000 made by himself, Brien McMahon of Norwalk and Washington, D. C., and a group of Boston financiers had been turned down before the chancery division of the Cook county, Ill., Circuit court issued an order Saturday directing that the company's 2,000 shares of stock be sold with the proceeds going to the 76,000 policyholders.

Buckley said he intended to bid at the judicial sale, to be held in the courtroom Dec. 21, and indicated he intended to make approximately the same offer.

HUMBLE TO SINK SECOND WELL IN SWAMP FOR OIL

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 21 (AP).—Humble Oil & Refining company of Texas today announced it has selected the location for a second well to be drilled a mile from the first at Sunniland, in the Everglades.

The new well, in Collier county, will be drilled regardless of the outcome of pumping operations at No. 1 well, said E. D. Pressler, area geologist for Florida. Workmen are building concrete foundations for the heavy pumping machinery soon to be hauled from Texas.

The company still has made no public announcement of the results of the test of oil samples taken from the well. The analysis probably will be disclosed when or if the company applies for the $50,000 prize offered by the Florida lesiglature to the first oil company producing a commercial well in Florida.

6½ MILLION JOBS IN BUILDING HELD PEACE PROSPECT

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The construction industry will provide 6,500,000 jobs during the first 18 postwar months, the National Association of Manufacturers was told today in a report of its post-war committee.

The report, to be submitted to the N. A. M. war congress of American industry Dec. 8 to 10, said the volume of "actually needed" work probably would exceed 15 billion dollars.

The report was presented by Wilfred Sykes, president of the Inland Steel company, Chicago. It said private, state, county, and municipal jobs would "obviate any need for a huge federal works building program."

Reverse Rail Pay Refusal, Wagner Asks

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Sen. Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], long an administration spokesman for labor in congress, suggested today that Fred M. Vinson, stabilization director, back down on his refusal of an 8 cents an hour rail wage increase and thereby avoid a congressional vote on the issue.

Worried lest the prospective endorsement by congress of this increase for the railways' non-operating employés open the door to other demands of the same nature, Wagner said in a interview he believed Vinson ought to acknowledge that a mistake had been made and permit the contract agreed upon Aug. 7 between 15 unions and the carriers to go into effect.

Held Threat to Pay Formula.

The non-operating employés are shopmen, clerks, and others who do not actually operate trains.

Vinson set aside their contract and told congress recently that if it approved a resolution offered by Sen. Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.], it would break the "little steel" wage formula and the executive department would be compelled in all fairness to abandon it for other groups.

The Truman resolution, to be considered by the senate interstate commerce committee soon, would approve the flat rate increase as falling within the scope of the railway labor act and all other statutes. Vinson has approved an alternate proposal for graduated increases of 4 to 10 cents an hour but the rail workers rejected this and began a strike vote.

Unions Complied With Law.

"The emergency board set up under the terms of the railway act has found that these workers are entitled to the increase—they have complied fully with the law—and I say, let's give it to them and end all of this controversy," Wagner said.

He argued this ought to be done by executive action. Sen. Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.], said it was his belief that the stabilization director ought not to attempt to upset the findings of a statutory board such as that which operated in the rail wage case.

Truman has been pushing for action before Thanksgiving, but administration leaders are expected to attempt to delay a committee vote on the resolution for a week. In the meantime, they hope some sort of compromise may be worked out by which both congressional action and a strike of the 1,100,000 non-operating workers can be avoided.

ASK BIDS ON OIL LEASES ON LAND UNDER CHANNEL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior, said today bids would be invited for the development under lease of oil and gas deposits on 92 acres of government owned land underlying Cerritos channel between Los Angeles and Long Beach, Cal.

He said an estimated 17 million barrels of petroleum and gas are within the area offered by lease, adding that private interests are now draining off these resources at the rate of 1 million barrels annually without direct recompense to the federal treasury.

Bids are to close in Washington Dec. 13. Under the lease program, the government will receive a 16⅔ per cent royalty on the production from the area. The program calls for drilling to begin within 60 days after the delivery date of the lease and the drilling of 10 wells to production within 12 months, and an additional six wells within 18 months from the delivery of the lease, in the Terminal and Ranger zones.

RAW MATERIAL DATA ASKED TO HELP INDUSTRY

Secrecy Need Past, Says Jacobs.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Declaring that the war has reached a stage where much of the need for secrecy is past, Whipple Jacobs, president of the Belden Manufacturing company, yesterday called upon the government to make available to industry reliable information on raw material stocks and on certain industrial activities so that industry may know how to make its plans. Only in those cases where information might aid the enemy should it be withheld, he added.

Whipple Jacobs.

"Business is being severely handicapped and the country done a great disservice by the refusal of government to release statistics so necessary to sound and efficient planning," Jacobs said.

Urges Cutting Down Reports.

This country undoubtedly has more of some raw materials than is needed for war production, he said, and any surpluses should be made available for production of civilian goods. In cases where stocks exceed war demands he urged that governmental controls be lifted, thereby getting rid of expensive reports from industry and reducing the number of governmental employes.

Jacobs said that in 1941 and 1942 it was quite proper to hold back certain information on such commodities as copper, aluminum, rubber, certain chemicals, and other items.

Data Required to Plan.

"But with our production at record levels and still rising, the need for secrecy is gone," he continued. "What possible figures of ours on any commodities could fail to make similar figures of our enemy pale into insignificance?

"Planning for the future is imperative and this does not infer that such planning will be done at the expense of the war needs. All the reliable business statistics that were available prior to the war should be released promptly to aid in this planning. Intelligent planning requires trustworthy statistical information. Unreliable data means catch as catch can planning, added costs, production loss, and a shameful waste of man power."

With stocks of many raw materials rising steadily, the big bottleneck in the way of meeting certain civilian needs is man power, Jacobs said. From now on materials may be expected to become available faster than man power.

A NIGHT OWL
TALKS . . .
I'm Miss "B." I work on the NIGHT OWL SHIFT from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. at Wards. Hard work? ? ? NO, it's clean and light . . . easy to do . . . requires no experience and the pay is good.
The really nice part about this night owl shift is having the days to go shopping or get in my special activities. Many girls with husbands in the service are down here, too, also mothers who like the daytime hours free for their children.
We like it at Wards and the liberal employe discount on everything we buy really makes our dollars S-T-R-E-T-C-H.
